A PREDICTION.

That Wilson will be elected to a second term.

That during the first year of the second Wilson administration will be brought to a close the present world war of "nation rising against nation."

That by the peace terms these present warring nations will federate and unite on a policy for the acknowledgement of allegiance to the Pope of Rome and for the restoration of the "Holy Catholic Church" to full temporal power and authority.

That the United States and the South American nations, which have already virtually perfected a federation, will still further strengthen the bond of federation and the whole will be an image of the federation of nations on the other side of the Atlantic ocean, and that all these federated powers will be of one mind in the matter of yielding loyal obedience to the "Holy Father" at Rome and the great Church system of which he is the head.

This work accomplished, the work of enforcing individual submission to the "Holy Papal" authority will begin.

The Church authorities will say to the State:

"Do you know the Appeal to Reason over at Girard, Kansas; and the Menace down at Aurora, Missouri; and the Yellow Jacket, and the other loud-mouthed and mendacious ones who blaspheme and rail against the Church?"

"Yes," will be the answer of the State.

"Then go get them and shut them up," will be the command of the Church.

And the order will be obeyed strictly.

Forthwith the eyes of the erstwhile blind ones will be opened and the battle of Armageddon will begin.

Here we let the curtain fall on the bloodiest scene—the most awful carnage and destruction—the world has ever seen.

This strife will begin simultaneously in all the nations of christendom and will be altogether unlike the present world war of "nation rising against nation," inasmuch as it will be a religious strife that will divide each nation against itself, the Catholic mother and the Protestant daughters being the prime factors in the strife.

About the time this titanic struggle threatens the destruction of all, the second appearing of Christ will be made manifest, at which the warring factions will be made to see their error and to know that both are more or less culpable. Then the love of Christ will come into their hearts and take the place of furious hatred and deception that the arch fiend, Satan, had surreptitiously implanted in their minds and hearts and by which he sought to utterly destroy them and thwart the plan of God for the redemption of the world.

Then with Satan subdued and out of the way, there will be no more Catholic nor Protestants, but all will be agreed and united under the one banner of righteousness of Prince Emanuel.

You say that no such battle as Armageddon can come now for the people are too good and too wise to permit it.

Yes, and you said the same thing about the present world war when it was predicted but when the time was fulfilled for it to take place, the nations went off like powder and were up and at it in a twinkling, and without a moment's warning the world was plunged into the most stupendous war between the nations that ever was known.

The only thing in this prediction that may not be true is the election of Wilson, and the time of the battle of Armageddon, during the next four years, provided he should be elected. But whether or not Wilson is elected or the battle of Armageddon breaks out during the next four years, that most awful battle is as sure to come sooner or later as that God's word is true. And the signs of the times seem to point unmistakably to its early coming.—Signal.

Political Jottings

The Houston Post reasons that it was easier for its own beloved Democracy to indorse the president's Mexican policy than to define it.

While he was about it Senator James Hamilton Lewis also might have explained that the Rome that was "too proud to fight" died a rather disastrous death.

"In all fairness," asks the Boston Transcript, "shouldn't the expense of financing Carranza be borne by the Democratic campaign committee?"

Democrats really haven't any objection to big appropriations for army and navy and internal improvements. They expect the Republicans to rustle the revenue to foot the bills for the next four years.

Hughes says he would like six months to investigate the administration, but the administration figures he's doing very well as it is.

Yes, and the same policies that have filled Judge Hughes and others with "a deep sense of shame" have sent many other Americans to their graves.

The president has changed his mind about sending more troops to the border, thus running true to form.

When Tom Taggart talks economy to them it is time the Democrats stopped their extravagance.

The Hughes smile is beginning to attract favorable attention.

President Entertains Five Progressives.—Headline. Others he simply amuses.

Democratic papers chide Hughes because he says he is "100 per cent a candidate." The Wilson papers naturally prefer a fifty-fifty candidate.

The president says he has no interest in any political party "except as an instrument of achievement." If that's it then how did he happen to select such a poor instrument as the Democratic party?

Carranza isn't a candidate for president of the United States, but he did more for American preparedness in three weeks than Woodrow Wilson did in three years.

Another thing you never hear of since the Democrats reduced the cost of living is the "baker's dozen."

Families living in the rural districts where mail service has been curtailed will be interested in knowing that Postmaster General Burleson has sent Secretary McAdoo a check for $5,200,000, representing surplus postal revenues.

Mr. Gardner should not quote what Mr. Wilson said while president of Princeton. His utterances are outlawed by himself in seven days.

That man Hughes is causing the Democratic newspapers an endless amount of worry. Apparently they will never be satisfied until he turns the management of his campaign over to them.

Mr. Hughes' speeches are giving poor satisfaction to the Democratic press, which proves they are very good speeches indeed.

Secretary Baker is developing an agility in changing his mind that must endure him to his discoverer.

Mr. Wilson's administration must confess itself incompetent in one respect or the other. It either has appropriated for an unneeded navy or it has neglected a needed navy. It can select its fault to suit itself. In one respect or the other it must be wrong.

"I believe in efficiency in politics just as much as in anything else," says Mr. Hughes. Efficiency is an excellent watchword, and its use in the campaign is merely a forerunner of its use in the White House when he gets there.

First they said that Hughes was an iceber; now they are saying that he is a mud slinger. He cannot possibly be both and, as a matter of fact, is neither. The Democrats must feel in a mighty bad way when they cry out "mud and treason."

+++++
PRECIPITATED WAR
+++++

When Mr. Wilson forgets himself he admits that we have been at war. For example, on May 11, 1914, in an address over the dead marines at the navy yard in Brooklyn he said that the marines had been engaged in "a war of service." A war of service to whom or to what? Certainly not to the United States, nor to Mexico, nor to humanity at large. Was it to Mr. Wilson?—From the Speech of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Delivered at Lewiston, Me., in Behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

"AMERICA FIRST AND AMERICA EFFICIENT."

We come to state in a plain and direct manner our faith, our purpose and our pledge. This representative gathering is a happy augury. It means the strength of reunion. It means that the party of Lincoln is restored, alert, effective. It means the unity of a common perception of paramount national needs. It means that we are neither deceived nor benumbed by abnormal conditions. We know that we are in a critical period, perhaps more critical than any period since the civil war. We need a dominant sense of national unity, the exercise of our best constructive powers, the vigor and resourcefulness of a quickened America. We desire that the Republican party as a great liberty party shall be the agency of national achievement, the organ of the effective expression of dominant Americanism. What do I mean by that? I mean America conscious of power, awake to obligation, erect in self respect, prepared for every emergency, devoted to the ideals of peace, instinct with the spirit of human brotherhood, safeguarding both individual opportunity and the public interest, maintaining a well ordered constitutional system adapted to local self government without the sacrifice of essential national authority, appreciating the necessity of stability, expert knowledge and thorough organization as the indispensable conditions of security and progress; a country loved by its citizens with a patriotic fervor permitting no division in their allegiance—I mean America first and America efficient. It is in this spirit that I respond to your summons.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.
