Clarence Powell, Logging Supt. of the F. C. company has put on another side in the woods. In consequence there will now be more logs to deck, and in all probability sufficient logs will be decked to keep the mill running all through bad weather.

Joe Floria was in town Wednesday and speaking of his potato crop, says it is much better than he expected. He has early ones that are as large as his fist, and since the late rains have grown other potatoes larger than the first. Reports from other states indicate that there will be no scarcity and probably there will be no potatoless days declared.

MARRIED

Joseph S. Phillips and Miss Helen J. Lee were united in marriage Wednesday. Rev. Long officiated.
