Anyone desiring to do Red Cross work is invited to attend. Quite a number of visitors have been present at these meetings and helped with the work.

Further information can be obtained from the President, Mrs. Bradley.

Mrs. Paul Secy.

M. E. CHURCH NEWS

Come to the M. E. church next Sunday. The senior choir will sing and there will be some special music. The subject for the morning discourse will be: "The Greatest of all Campaigns." We are glad to see you there each Sunday. Do a little missionary work this week and bring some one with you next Sunday who is not attending elsewhere.

Remember the Epworth League meeting at 6:30 next Sunday night. This is an important meeting and your presence is earnestly requested.

Don't fail to hear the speaker from Portland next Sunday night at the M. E. church. Special music assisted by the orchestra. Get the church-going habit. It's a good one and don't break it. We welcome you.

You ought to be interested in the half-hour devotional exercises each Friday night followed by the teachers training class at 8 o'clock. Start right now and get the benefit of this thru the winter. This will be helpful to you and consequently enable you to be of greater service to the church later on.

A. F. Hanson, Pastor.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO DISBAND

When the curtain drops upon the fourth act of the Iron Hand tonight at Wagner's Hall, The Falls City Dramatic Club, an organization which for the past three years has done much toward satisfying the demands of the pleasure seeking and theatre going public of Falls City and vicinity, will be a thing of the past.

The Club and their actors will be greatly missed as they have afforded to the public many pleasant evenings. The organization has responded freely and gladly to any and all calls upon it for any worthy cause and have done their share on every occasion.

SCHOOL NOTES

Treval Powers has been appointed to take charge of the Y. M. C. A. work in Falls City, Airlie and other small places. He has attended meetings in Salem and has heard some speakers on the subject. Friday afternoon Mr. Powers gave the high school a lecture on Y. M. C. A. work. He is trying to get the pupils of high school and the upper grades to pledge money for the Y.M.A.C.

The orchestra will make its appearance in about two weeks.

We all expressed our deepest sympathy for the death of Velma Goodspeed's pet mouse Ginger and Mildred Thompson's pig, Piggy Thompson.

The Honor Guard girls met at H. H. Lowe's Wednesday evening to make Christmas boxes for the soldier boys from Falls City that are in France. Some of the articles that were put in the boxes were candy, cookies, gum, tablets, envlops, pencil box, foot ease, new testaments, handkerchiefs, wash cloth and soap.

Last Friday morning during assembly the high school gave the following program:

Reading	Margret Dorman

	Laurena Treat

Begin to save your pennies. The high school is going to give the best play ever.

Mabel Sheppard, Nettie Newman, George Wagner, Chis Horn and Emerson Murphy visited the school this week.

News of the 7th and 8th Grades

The 7th and 8th grades held a Student Body meeting, recently to see about a gymnasium. We can get the hall for $10 a month. The high school is anxious to go in with us and we expect to have fine times. After cleaning thoroughly and installing the gymnasium apparatus, stove, etc., we will have a fairly presentable gym. By organizing basket ball teams and challenging surrounding teams, we in one way hope to prove to some skeptics that Falls City is not altogether "behind the times."

Miss Johnson was absent Monday on account of illness.

Treval Powers talked to the junior high school Friday about the Y. N. C. A. work done all over the world. His talk was interesting and impressive. Every boy and girl was moved by the description of trench life that they were anxious to give what they could to help on the good work. As a result several pledge cards were signed.

Among those absent during the past week are Ruth Haven, Ida Buell and Esther Lee.

Furniture! Furniture! Furniture!

How often have we heard these remarks made by wives, daughters and housekeepers:

"I dearly love to visit your store. I see so many beautiful pieces of furniture: just look at that exquisite dresser, would I not like to have that set complete—that davenport and rocker and chairs to match. Arn't they nice;"

Would it not be a good thing to do—surprise them occasionally with a new piece of furniture every few weeks. They will be pleased and at the same time make your home more pleasant and happier.
