The services at the Christian church last Sunday morning were of a very impressive nature. By special invitation a goodly number of the pioneers, who actually suffered the burlesque and heat of the days and nights when crossing the plains with the ox teams fifty or more years ago, were present, and all listened with rapt attention to an excellent discourse by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Handsaker. The rostrum was decorated with beautiful flowers such as grow only in Oregon. A bevy of boys and girls, of the Sunday school classes, presented each of the pioneers with a beautiful bouquet. The music was excellent.

R. Gunnerson, the job man in the office of the Daily Coast Mail, of Marshfield, came over Saturday on his "Coal-oil buggy," and proceeded to Lampa creek on a semi-business trip. He took in a dance in the evening and returned the following day by steamer, returning home in the afternoon. This is the first motor-cycle to strike our town and created considerable interest for a while.

Judge Schroeder was down from Arago on Saturday and reports operations at the new brickyard progressing nicely. They have one hundred thousand bricks on the yard. Owing to the dampness of the weather the drying process is somewhat slower than was anticipated, but the work of placing them in the kiln will be begun soon. While the machinery is not all that is desired, a good lot of fairly presentable bricks will be turned out this summer, and in case the material turns out to be as good as anticipated, other machinery of the latest pattern will be added next season and the very finest article of brick and tiles will be turned out at that yard to meet any demand.

NOTICE

All shoes left at my shop for repairs will be sold if not called for in 30 days. C. B. Leep.
