REMINISCENCES OF ROGUE RIVER WAR.

Written by "Uncle Sam" Handsaker to Lieut. Stephen Longfellow.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

About April 15th, 1856, McDonald Harkness and another man, whose name I cannot recall, left Fort Leland for the meadows with express for our camps. When but two miles away they were fired upon by Indians in ambush, and Harkness was killed, his companion escaping. I am sure that not one of my many comrades who saw the horrible sight we witnessed when the nude body of Harkness, lashed on a pack mule and scarrified in the most horrible manner was brought into camp. Never will we forget the sight the red devils had wrought.

This war was carried from start to finish, almost entirely, with volunteers, and in our ranks could be found beardless boys and old gray-headed pioneers who had but recently left their homes "in the states," and with their families bundled into wagons drawn by the patient plodding ox teams, made the trip to Oregon, after the lapse of six months or more. Near the last of April some of the Indian chiefs, after a parley with Captain Smith who had under his command seventy-five regulars, agreed to meet him at the "Little Meadows" at a certain time with a view of entering into negotiations for peace.
When he arrived he made his camp in the timber, not thinking of treachery on the part of the Indians. After dark two squaws informed Captain Smith that the Indians would attack him early next morning. Orders were at once given to move the camp a short distance to a bald, oblong hill where he expected to have an even chance with the Indians, but did not seem to be aware that not a drop of water could be had for his men.
At 10 o'clock the Indians made the attack, but with the assistance of a howitzer and the bravery of his men, the Indians, who were armed with better guns than the regulars, were prevented from massacring the entire company. At the first opportunity a courier was sent through the Indians' lines in the night to the mouth of the river for more troops which fortunately arrived on the evening of the second day, just as the Indians were ready to make a charge on the almost famished men for want of water.
More than a third of Smith's men were either killed or wounded. Our forces during this time was on our way down the river, but it was not until late in the day that we heard the howitzer, miles away. We at once started at the double quick, but when we reached the scene of their bloody fight a part of the Indian chiefs had surrendered. In conversation with some of the regulars, I was told that during the fight the Indians would creep near the soldiers and with forked sticks attempt to draw away the soldiers' blankets, and when the soldiers would raise their heads the Indians would shoot them.

This was the beginning of a permanent peace. In a short time the various tribes surrendered and were at once taken to the Grande Ronde, and Selitz reservations, where remnants of them still exist.
I am sure old comrades that not only yourself but the many readers of the HERALD will breathe a sigh of relief to know that my desolatory notes of the long ago are about to close. If, perchance some may wonder why I did not make mention of more of the battles during the six months we were in the service, my answer would be, other and more competent writers have done this.
In conclusion, it seems unnecessary to remind my old comrades that in the forty-eight years that have passed since we last met many of the old members of company B have answered the final roll call and are long, we too.

"By an unflinching trust approach the grave Like one who wraps the drapery of his souch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.
Coquille City, Oregon, August 15, 1904.

The End.

Bandon Woolen Mills.

Results come to those who labor and wait, and at last we are enabled to announce the completed arrangements to construct and operate the woolen mill plant for which Bandon has been struggling for a year past.

Now that matters have been definitely settled, work will begin at once and be hurried forward as rapidly as consistent with good management.

The machinery for the new mills is at Rochester, Wis. M. R. Lee has been there for some time, and has been telegraphed to proceed with the arrangement to take down and ship the machinery, and already an expert is on his way from San Francisco to Rochester, to superintend the taking down and making ready of the plant for shipment.

Here, the work of preparation will commence at once, and Bandon will present a more lively appearance in the course of two weeks than she has for some time past.

The new mills will be just East of Tammon's cannery, and will be two stories high, having an attic above. The plans and specifications for the building have been drawn, and work will progress as fast as possible, and this week will hardly close before material for the construction of the foundation will begin to arrive upon the ground.

Mr. R. E. L. Bedillion has been the energy behind the proposition that has worked most assiduously to accomplish the achievement, and deserves great credit for his effort.
While he has been the chief mover in the matter, he has been aided by others who have shown by their willingness to help with their means that they have the welfare of the town as well as their own interest at heart.—Bandon Recorder.

Czarina Gives Birth to a Son.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—
"Praise God! This is the accomplishment of my dearest wish," exclaimed the Czar of all the Russians this morning as the physicians announced to him that he was at last the father of a son, who will succeed him on the throne.

The child is a healthy infant and promises to thrive. He will be named Alexis.

The St. Paul fortress fired a salute of 301 guns in honor of the Crown Prince.

Sick Headache

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr.
Geo. E. Wright of New London,
New York. For sale by R. S.

At Cambornd.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 12.— Twenty thousand dollars damage has been done this week to nine buildings in the Lardeau country by forest fires. Terrible conflagrations are raging around Cambornd, in which camp firebreakers are interested. The Gold Line tramway the upper portion of the Eva tramway line and the Eva bunkhouses have gone and it is feared the Oyster Criterion tramway cannot be saved. The Eva tramway along coast $13,000, and is insured for $10,000. All over the Kootenai forest fires are playing havoc.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Shooting followed an attack today on a Lake Shore & Michigan southern train bearing a large number of strike breakers from their homes to work at the stockyards. Windows were broken and a number of the occupants of the train had been struck by flying missiles when one of the strikebreakers opened fire into the attacking crowd with a revolver.
That no one was struck was little short of miraculous. One of the bullets passed through the hat of a striker, grazing his scalp.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Aug. 12.— The district is absolutely quiet today. Sheriff Bell's proclamation, which was signed by Mayor French, of Victor, and Mayor Shockey, of Creek, declared that the laws will be enforced and all citizens protected, has been favorably received there will be no more whitecapping.
The citizens are very much abused over the outrages of the last few nights, and business men in general declare they would turn out and deal summarily with anyone known to be implicated in another whitecapping episode.

This Victim Will Die.

Forest Grove, Or. 8.—Fred Ham-bin, a young man of Timber, Or., was shot and fatally injured by a companion hunter while hunting deer on the Nehalem River yesterday. He died eight hours later.

Hambin's companion was Alvin Schoonover, a young Cornelius resident, and the shooting was accidental. A charge of shot from a Winchester struck Hambin in the hip, ranged upward and penetrated the bowels.

Both Republican and Democrat politicians are now conjuring with the electorals votes, each claiming enough to put their candidate into the White House. In Pennsylvania the Secretary of the State Republican Committee predicts a plurality for Roosevelt of 300,000. This is certainly enough to carry the state, provided there is not another coal strike between now and November.

Representative Hull, of Iowa, gives it as his opinion that all the states west of the Mississippi river will go for Roosevelt. On the other hand the Democrats claim that many of great states east of the Mississippi will cast their votes for Parker.
There may be such a thing as geographical politics, but much depends upon the labor situation during the ensuing three months.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Late Saver.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief," says John J.
Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Alabama. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The meat strikes continue and the strikers appear to be as far from carrying their original point as ever, while the packers are employing nonunion men and increasing the daily output of their plants.
Arbitration will come in time however.

R-I-P-A-N-S Tablets
Doctors find

The 5-cent packet is enough for usual occurrences. The family bottle (50 cents) contains a supply for a year. All druggists sell them.

Labor and Politics.

News comes from the State of Washington that a movement has come to the surface there which avowedly purposes to bring organized labor into the field of practical politics. This movement in its organized form is designated as the Labor Lyceum of Information, and is said to owe its inception, perhaps its supervision to Samuel Gompers the recognized leader of the American Federation of Labor. Ostensibly the discussion of economic problems in their relation to social educational and industrial conditions, and the collection and dissemination of legislative data relative to labor measures that have concerned or will concern the Congress of the United States and determining the attitude of individual Congressmen and Senators with reference to these measures, are to comprise the chief work of the lyceum.
It is confidently asserted, however that, in Congressional elections, the organization will engage as an active force, attempting the election of such men as are favorable to the aims and purposes of organized labor generally.

Movements of this character are not to be taken seriously as a rule.
Their progress does not depend altogether upon their merit. Very much depends on the process of organization and the character of leadership. It is rather the general opinion that merit and excellence in the latter regards are dissipated by the factional contentions that spring up, and the personal ambitions that seek gratification, when a movement, alleged to be for the improvement of industrial or social conditions, is once merged into politics. It is to be apprehended that this move of organized labor in Washington will share the same fate, if, indeed, it should ever develop to considerable proportions.

No one will deny that in the framing of legislation that is to directly affect the interests of the workman organized labor may legitimately take a hand. It is also true that through the medium of the ballot should be found a far more satisfactory method of settling labor difficulties than those now in vogue.
But can labor in its organized capacity bring this about by entering the field of practical politics as that term is generally understood? It is just possible that this new movement may answer the question, perhaps affirmatively. The possibility of such result is invested with a considerable element of doubt; nevertheless, the outcome will be awaited with interest.—Evening Telegram.

Railroad Offices Moved.

The railroad offices have been moved into their new and elegant quarters in the Depot building just completed. Superintendent Chandler has his private office on the main floor of the building in the southwest corner, adjoining which will be the engineer's office.
F. A. Laize, freight and traffic manager, will occupy the southeast corner of the building connected with the waiting room by a ticket window. The waiting room as well as elaborately furnished with every known convenience. It is expected that the tract will be extended to the depot early next week when the regular passenger trains will arrive and depart therefrom.— Sun.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

There is still a great deal of land-hunger in this country. An average of six thousand persons a day has registered for homestead lands on the Rosebud reservation. At one time a crowd of nearly one thousand persons looking for farms was left in Omaha unable to get train accommodations for the land offices at Bonesteel, Fairfax and Yankton.
The time for registering expired on the 23rd inst.
