Alex Snyder returned from his California trip Sunday, afternoon. His trip was made "antensely" to see what could be done in the way of keeping our sawmill running. He can secure orders that look good to him, while it seems that there is a probability that all other necessary arrangements will be made and the mill may start at an early date.

Dr. Russel was called to Fishtrap Sunday to look after the injuries of a 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller who had fallen from a wagon, one wheel of which passed over him inflicting severe injuries. It seems that the little fellow was riding on the running gear of a wagon when he was thrown to the ground and one of the wheels passed over him in such a manner as to break the bone in his right thigh, and both bones between the ankle and the knee of the same limb, also passing over the foot of the same side, and the ankle on the other side. The Dr. left the little fellow resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.

Lecture Thursday Night.

As a closing entertainment for the teachers' institute to be held here next week, Prof. Frederick W. Carstens has been secured to deliver his famous lecture, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy." The Professor is a lecture of renown and this is one of his best efforts. His home is at Medford but he spends most of his time in the lecture field and has just returned from a trip through Illinois and neighboring states. Besides the lecture, literary features will be introduced and an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to help defray the expenses of the institute. Don't miss this lecture.
