Uncle Sam's Letter.

After visiting with relatives and friends, some of them of half a century ago, and making many new acquaintances in Coos county, the two months' stay was all too short, but what can't be cured must be endured.

Our company consisted of five persons, not counting Daniel Boone, which made six. "Dan," however, was a four-footed animal of the canine species of the finest variety. Now, if we could omit the latter, and our jheu, whose first name was "Sam" Johnson, we would number just four, but "Sam" was not only a good fellow, but a real necessity, for if he had not been a careful driver and always in a good humor, the whole caravan might have been sent to kingdom come down one of the many deep canyons we passed.

Our route was up Cunningham creek and along the east fork of the Coquille river, almost to its source. Along the creek we noticed many cozy homes and herds of nice cows, all of which assist in making the Coquille river, almost to its source. While memory lasts shall ever the name of Evan Cunningham, the first owner of the site of your nice town. He, with the writer and others, came to Oregon in company fifty-one years ago at a time when the journey was not made in palace cars in the space of three or four days, but with ox-teams, and six months or more was required for the trip.

One would suppose that old pioneers would scarcely notice the immense amount of tall timber through which we passed and the beautiful waterfalls, Niagaras on a small scale, but how could we fail to admire these and the gigantic mountains.

"Melons for Sale," was the notice we saw when passing a farmer's home, and it was but a few moments ere "Sam" returned with all the melons he could carry, and whipping his cutkins into a gallop until we reached a cool place, where we all enjoyed a feast fit for the gods. It is still a mystery to those present if the afforesaid "Sam" paid the honest granger for the luscious fruit, or if while the farmer was engaged in "dickering" with another customer, he purloined what we, even the cutkins, so greatly relished, but we'll drop such a melon-coly subject.

We finally reached the home of Mr. James Laird, where we were entertained, for Mr. and Mrs. L know how to "Welcome the coming and speed the parting guest."

On the evening of the second day, tired, and oh, my! so covered with dust, we reached Roseburg. With kind regards to all inquiring friends, including the HERALD force,

Yours truly,
UNCLE SAM.

First Shipment For Panama Canal Work.

Mobile, Sept. 9.—The first cargo of lumber to leave the United States for use on the Panama canal was taken from here today in the schooner J. C. Clifford.

The lumber was contracted for by the Panama canal commission and will be landed at Colon. Pleasing ceremonies marked the departure of the vessel, local patriots making the event an occasion for some display and appropriate exercises.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas God in his wisdom has seen fit to remove from the walks of life Mrs. S. E. Robinson, be it resolved that Evening Tide Circle, No. 214, Women of Woodcraft, extend to neighbors, George A. Robinson and wife their heart-felt sympathy in the sad loss of their beloved grandmother;

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be published in the local paper, a copy be spread on the minutes of this lodge and one given to the Lillian Boyd, bereaved neighbor.

SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF COOS.

William Snyder, Plaintiff, vs.
Julia Snyder, Defendant.

To Julia Snyder, the above-named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon; You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: within six weeks from the 2nd day of August, 1904, the same being the date of the first publication of this summons.

And if you fail so to appear and answer within said time, to-wit: on or before the 18th day of September, 1904, the same being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, judgment will be taken against you for want thereof for the relief demanded in plaintiff's complaint, a succinct statement of which is as follows: That the marriage contract between plaintiff and defendant may be dissolved, set aside and held for naught and that he be restored to the rights and privileges of a single person and that the custody of his two male children be given to him and for any other and further relief as the court may deem equitable and just.

Service of this summons is made by publication in pursuance of an order made by L. Harlocker, County Judge of Coos county, Oregon, dated the first day of August, 1904, directing that service thereof be made by publication thereof in the Semi-Weekly Herald, a newspaper published at the City of Coquille, in said Coos County, Oregon, once each week for a period of six weeks.
