The steamer Chico left Bandon Saturday. The tug towed her over the bar and after turning her loose they noticed C. Timmons, the canneryman, and his son Fred in the Dixie, the gasoline launch which he had just purchased on the Bay. The tug went out and followed them in to the bar. When the Dixie was getting well in she kept close to the South jetty, and as a large breaker passed under her it lifted her up and as the rudder was out of the water they lost control of her and the breakers and the North wind drove her onto the rocks of the South jetty. Fred soon managed to get off on the rocks, and after some difficulty succeeded in getting his father off who soon returned to get a line from the tug but the tug was too far out and not daring to venture close enough to get a line to her, whistled for the Life Saving Station boys who soon got there, and Donald Charleston got on the swamped launch and made a line fast from the life boat to the launch which was towed by the tug to the mud flat. No one was hurt except Mr. Timmons, who got his hand bruised on the rocks. It is thought the damages will be about $100.

Fire in Coquille.
On Friday night the residence of Matt Kerrigan in the north end of town burned down and with it a considerable quantity of its contents. Mr. Kerrigan and the boys had come home in the evening from their place down the river and it was late by the time their supper was over and they soon retired. It is Mr. K's opinion that a spark from the stovepipe caught the roof which must have burned very slowly at the start, as it was 10 o'clock before the fire was noticed, which was first discovered by Frank Goodman, who gave the alarm. In a very short time a number of neighbors gathered, the first of whom was Mr. Boyrie's family, who awakened Mr. Kerrigan and the boys and proceeded to do what they could to save property. The men undertook to battle with the flames, but there was no water at hand and that proved futile. Mrs. Alfred Johnson and Miss May Boyrie turned their attention to saving what they could from the house, succeeding quite well, having carried out the organ, as well as many other articles. There were three beds, a great deal of clothing and the contents of the kitchen, excepting the stove, were consumed, entailing a considerable loss, wholly without insurance.

All men know that even if Judge Parker should go to the White House, David B. Hill of New York would not be Secretary of State. He has announced his determination to go into absolute and actual retirement on the first of next January.

The long range forecaster is again rushing into print. He expects an early winter with severe September frosts in the states east of the Northern Rocky Mountain slope. There will also be increasing cloudiness with varying winds, as usual.

Riverton Pick-Ups.
The mill is running full blast. Work is going on rapidly at Rouse's mine, all the men seem to be working in dead earnest.

The Riverton school is to have a social and basket supper in about two weeks. The proceeds go toward getting a drum and other needed furniture for the building. The school has about forty-seven pupils enrolled now.

Mrs. L. E. Brown started Monday for a visit with her parents who live at Remote.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker returned Friday from their visit at Fairview.

The Reverend Sunderland and Raegan preached last Saturday and Sunday nights to large and appreciative audiences. Riverton will have preaching the 2nd and 4th Sundays of each month in the future.

The Martin boys who have built a large scow and fishing arrangement this summer, made a good haul last night, catching more salmon than they could market in Riverton.

E. J. Price went to Bancroft last week to attend the funeral of his uncle, Charles Price.

Ray Hatfield is a gentleman of leisure this week and is stopping at the Riverton hotel.
