

About the Fair.

Arago, Oregon, Dec. 8, 1904. EDITOR HERALD: In your issue of the 6th, inst., I notice the following:

"As a matter of course the time in which the Push Club had to work was so short that they gave up the St. Louis fair and saved their money to put in on the Lewis and Clark Exposition."

The old saying that a poor excuse is better than none applies to this.

The fact of the matter is the Coos County Push Club was organized in time and was making every effort to have Coos county represented at the St. Louis Exposition. The reason it failed was on account of the indifference and lethargy of the people of Coos county generally. There was little or no encouragement.

The county papers generally gave valuable assistance. They kept the public informed, but withal it created no enthusiasm. The club sent for 2500 buttons to raise a fund to partly defray the expenses of an exhibit. The price of a button was 50 cents and entitled a purchaser to membership in the club. When the buttons were put on the market one of the leading papers published at Marshfield ridiculed them. This is mentioned simply to show what the club had to contend with. There were only about three hundred of the buttons sold.

The sawmills of the county deserve favorable mention. They volunteered to furnish the lumber for a Coos county pavilion. The Lewis and Clark commission promised to forward the same to St. Louis and erect it without expense to the county. The pavilion without an exhibit failed to materialize.

The proceeds from the buttons sold was used to pay for them and the purchase of a number of glass exhibit jars in which the club has some choice apples preserved.

The county court appropriated $1,000 (by virtue of a law for the purpose) to advertise the resources of Coos county at the St. Louis and Lewis and Clark Expositions. Owing to the St. Louis failure, none of the appropriation has been used.

The Coos County Push Club was organized to secure an exhibit for and advertise the resources of the county at both the St. Louis and Lewis and Clark Expositions. Its active members (about eight all told) devoted their time and paid their own expenses in attending meetings at Marshfield and Coquille to work the matter up. The writer is confident that they will willingly unite and give others an opportunity to gain a little experience in such matters. Coos county's portion of the $500,000 appropriated by the legislature for the Lewis and Clark Exposition is about $12,000. The justice, pro or con, of this tax cannot now be considered. The question now to consider is: "How can Coos county receive a benefit from said tax?"

The only sensible solution to that question in the opinion of the writer is to voluntarily tax ourselves to raise a fund sufficient to make a creditable exhibit.

It will take money and push to do it. If the people of Coos county desire to be classed as a progressive community it behooves them to get into the push without delay. Shall we do it?

Doesn't Seem old age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect pill. 25c at R. S. Knowlton's Drug Store

An Ordinance

To prohibit dogs and bitches from running at large with the limits of the City of Coquille, Coos county, Oregon.

The People of the City of Coquille do Ordain as follows:

That whereas, A large number of worthless animals known as "Dogs" infest the streets of the City of Coquille, to the annoyance of pedestrians, and the spoilation of goods in transit, which may be left for a time, accessible to such animals, and

Whereas, Many of such animals seem to be without care or owners, and succeed only in making nuisances of themselves, as well as injuring the property of business men.

THEREFORE BE IT ENACTED.

Section 1. That no dog or bitch shall be permitted to run at large upon the streets or alleys, or upon any of the public grounds within the limits of the city of Coquille, Oregon, after the adoption and approval of this ordinance; and that any unenclosed lands within the limits of said city shall be deemed "public lands" within the meaning of this ordinance.

Section 2. That the city council shall, under the direction of a marshal, provide a place for impounding such vagrant dogs and bitches as are found running at large in any part of the city aforesaid; and that any person under the direction of the Marshal shall have authority to capture and impound such animals so found running at large in said city.

Section 3. That upon the capture and impounding of such animal, as described in the foregoing sections, the city Marshal shall post at least three public notices, one of which shall be posted upon said pound, which notices may be printed or written, or partly printed, and partly written, as follows:

DOG IMPOUNDED.

Notice is hereby given that a certain dog or bitch (name and owner unknown) has been found running at large within the limits of the city of Coquille, and this day confined in the city pound. That the owner of said animal may reclaim it at any time within three days from this date, upon paying Fifty Cents for impounding, and One Dollar for releasing said animal, which said fee shall be the Marshal's compensation for impounding and discharging said animal.

Dated this _____ day of _____ A. D., 190__.

Section 4. That upon the neglect or refusal of the owner or keeper of such animal to pay said fee after the expiration of said three days, the Marshal has power, and it is hereby made his duty, to shoot or otherwise destroy and kill such animal, and if the owner or keeper be known, upon non-payment of the fees mentioned in Section 3, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $10.00, or by imprisonment as provided in other cases of violation of the ordinances of said city.

Section 5. That any dog or bitch accompanied by its owner or keeper, and kept within proper restraint, shall not be deemed as "running at large."

Section 6. That the Marshal shall have power to appoint as many assistants as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this ordinance, and that any person who shall capture and impound any such dog or bitch, shall be deemed an assistant for that transaction, and entitled to the fees therefor.

Section 7. That any person or persons who shall willfully and maliciously break into, injure or destroy said pound, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $50.00, or by imprisonment, or both at the discretion of the court.

Section 8. That the city shall at all times be under the supervision and charge of the Marshal of said city.

Section 9. That Ordinance No. 38 and all ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in contravention of this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council of the City of Coquille this 14th day of December, A. D., 1904.

Approved December 14, A. D., 1904. J. J. STANLEY, Mayor.

XMAS SUGGESTIONS.

What to Get and Where to Get It.

To be in the metropolis, the seat of a county government, standing majestically in the rich verdure field looking over the placid waters of the Coquille, is a pleasure to the wives and children of our rural agriculturists. But there is no time like now when every store in the city is in it gala attirement, gaily dressed and fully stocked with its holiday attractions. And, holiday shoppers should not fail while here to visit the store of J. S. Kanematz. Here you will see one of the most complete and magnificent stocks of holiday goods ever assembled under one roof. You see toys of all descriptions, from the old Noah's ark to the most modern mechanical contrivances that human ingenuity can construct. Chinas of all makes, from the plain potteries to the most gorgeous wares—from the heavy old English and Dutch jardiniere to the thin egg-shell cups that make you wonder why they do not crumble under the touch of your finger. Some in a massive design of raised flowers and birds extravagantly ornamented in gold and silver, others in a quiet but more artistic design of sceneries rich in songs and poems, and still others in the most intricate design of geometrical lines and scrolls.

Talk about dreamland, of the wonderful empire told in the fairy tale. They are not in it. Visit the cozy corner occupied by dolls in this store. There are dolls and dolls and dolls! Dolls that stand one yard high and dolls that are tiny enough that make you hunt for a pair of spectacles. Dolls that can cry—dolls that can say "papa" and "mamma," and dolls that have not a word to say. Dolls of blonde type and dolls of brunette caste. Dolls that know when to shut their eyes and dolls that keep their eyes open day and night. Dolls dressed in the luxurious silks and satins, and dolls in the simple negligees waiting for the deft and skillful hand of those who select them. Dolls that—But what's the use? No word, no line can fully describe the bewildering scene seen in this store.

A visit to Kanematz's store is a treat to your children. It is like a trip in the fairyland that they may long remember, of the wonderful skill of human arts, of the bewitching scene of beauty and grandeur, and above all, of the moral and elevating effect upon their mind.
