(Coos Bay News.)

John Snyder, of the Central Hotel, continues to improve, and his early recovery is anticipated.

The steamer Signal, which arrived last week, loaded lumber at North Bend, to fill a special order; but, we understand, that next trip she will take a cargo of Beaver Hill coal to Eureka.

An appropriation to establish a trout hatchery in connection with the salmon hatchery, on South Coos river, will be asked for at the next session of the legislature.

Seven steamers were in the bay this morning, nearly all of them ready for sea, and all of them bound south. Should they get out this afternoon, there will be a race down to Eureka.

The steamer Breakwater has been awarded a contract to bring mail from San Francisco on her sailing day, once a week, for $25 per trip. San Francisco mail will arrive at least a day ahead of usual time by this route.

Capt. Magee sailed for Australia on the 1st, and expects to get back to the bay by March 1st. The tug Columbia, which is receiving a thorough overhauling in the city, will be here the first of the year, but it is not stated who will be master of the tug until Capt. Magee returns.

C. W. Wolcott has several World's Fair souvenirs in his show case today which were brought from the exposition by Frank Lowe on his recent visit. Among them are several giant ears of corn from the Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska exhibits which for size and quality are a revelation to the native Oregonian. —Coast Mail.

The M. F. Plant is expected to sail for this port in about one week. Captain Maginn, of the Arcata, reports the new steamer as one of the finest boats he ever saw. It is so arranged that fruit, vegetables, etc., can be trucked both on and off the vessel, thus reducing the risk of damage to such produce by bruising.—Mail.

Eric Wold is laying out a town-site of the land belonging to Major Kinney adjacent to North Bend on the south. It is expected that these lots will be put on the market in the spring so we are informed.—Citizen.

The American hen is not appreciated. She and her sister laid 1,666,000,000 dozen eggs last year—enough to pay the interest on the entire national debt for the same time. Secretary Wilson adds that all the gold mines of the world have not produced since Columbus discovered America a greater value of gold than have the farmers of this country in two years.

The President's declaration that everybody shall have a square deal has filled the trusts with consternation.

Several Denver women have been arrested for forging election returns. Their defense is that it is the right of women to pad the figure.

A woman in a Minnesota insane asylum has won a $250 prize for writing a story for a magazine. Some of them seem exactly adapted to institutions of that sort.

By a decision of Attorney-General Moody all guessing contests for prizes are placed in the category of lotteries and hereafter will be excluded from the U. S. mails. This will touch a good many newspapers on a sore spot.

The cattle in the Esopus barnyard are once more receiving their saline rations from the hand of their owner, and Grandfather Davis says it is a real relief to have a chance to settle down and settle up after the campaign.

It is announced that the elder Jeffries, father of the prizefighter, is to tour the world on an evangelic mission. With the son whipping the world and the father leading it to conversion the family name should become famous for all time.—Ex.

"Mr. Chadwick" has disappeared. Perhaps he'll never "turn up." Perhaps he never existed. If Tom Lawson hasn't a wife, he and Mrs. Chadwick might "yoke up." Then indeed the country would have a team in "Frenzied Finance." But as it is, unless Lawson can get into partnership with Mrs. Chadwick, he must soon pale his ineffectual fires.—Oregonian.

The faultfinder is the mudhole on the road to success—the purture in the tire of prosperity, the false note in the song of victory, the smutty grain in an abundant harvest, the wart on a Grecian nose, the straddlebug on the raspberry, the element which puts a bad taste in the mouth, discord to the harmony, and a clog to progress.—Harrisburg Bulletin.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S

Ashburnham, Ontario, Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a God-sent remedy. Respectfully yours, E. A. Langfeldt, M. A. Rector of St. Luke's Church, To Chamberlain Medicine Co. This remedy is for sale by R. S. Knowlton.
