

Jayne's Bill Fails.

Salem, Or., Feb. 17.—Amendment of the local option law in the Oregon Legislature failed on the last day of the session shortly before noon today, for the Jayne bill was indefinitely postponed in the Senate by a vote of 16 to 13, after six weeks of turmoil between the advocates of strict precinct option and the liquor interests on the one side and the exponents of county option and the foes of saloons on the other.

This means that the local option law as enacted by the people under the initiative last June will remain unchanged, at least until June, 1906, when it can be amended under the initiative.

Anti-saloon workers are jubilant and broad smiles adorned their countenances after their victory. The liquor people kept a stiff upper lip, however, and professed still to be of strong courage. The space behind the rail in the Senate was densely packed during the proceedings with spectators, who strained their eyes and ears and pressed against the bar, and once, at the end of a speech by Pierce of Umatilla against the bill, burst into loud applause.

The bill went to its grave because it lacked one vote of enough for passage and was indefinitely postponed because Bowerman of Gilliam, who was supporting the bill, went over to the anti-revisionists. The vote on indefinite postponement was:

Ayes—Booth, Bowerman, Carter, Coshaw, Haines, Howe, Laycock, Loughary, McDonald, Miller, Nottingham, Pierce, Smith, Wheelodon, Wright, Kuykendall—16.

Noes—Avery, Brownell, C. C. Coke, Crotsan, Farrar, Hobson, Hodson, Holman, Malarky, Rand, Siebel, Tuttle—13.

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Roosevelt has directed James R. Garfield, Commissioner of Corporations of the Department of Commerce and Labor, to begin immediately the oil investigation requested by the House of Representatives yesterday in a resolution unanimously adopted. The investigation by the direction of the President will be rigid and comprehensive. The President has dictated a letter to Commissioner Garfield, in which he has given his directions and presented in outline his views.

The Standard Oil inquiry will be pressed as rapidly as possible. The scope of the investigation and the time it will occupy cannot be indicated at this time.

Representative Campbell, of Kansas, the author of the resolution adopted by the House, had a conference with President Roosevelt today. Mr. Campbell's idea is that the investigation should concern particularly the situation in the Kansas field, but he expressed to the President his belief that the inquiry once begun would extend to the operations of the Standard Oil Company in the Beaumont field of Texas, and perhaps to other fields.

Half way Round Globe.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—A representative of a wireless telegraph company is here arranging for the installation of a plant for communication with Panama by a direct coast route and by way of the East, via Denver, Kansas City, Chicago, New York, Key West, Porto Rico and Cuba. Following this, a direct communication will, it is said, be perfected between this city, the Philippines, the Orient and the Hawaiian Islands. An effort is now being made to secure the sites for the necessary stations in this city or in its vicinity.

Salem, Feb. 16.—With 43 voting for and 3 against, Senator Malarky's anti-ticket scalping bill passed the House this morning. Speaker Mills left the chair to support the measure. He said such a law would protect both the people and the railroads. The roads, he said, had promised to give reduced rates, and there appeared no longer a demand for a scalper.

The bill passed prohibits any one from opening a ticket brokers' office or engaging in that class of business. It also requires that railroad companies must redeem half-used round-trip tickets by refunding the amount over the one-fare. The bill encountered no opposition.

Grand Duke Assassinated.

Moscow, Feb. 17.—While Grand Duke Sergius was driving today from the Nicholas Palace through the Senate Quarter his carriage was followed by two cabs. At the Law Courts a sleigh in which were two men, one of whom was dressed as a workman, went quickly ahead of the Grand Duke's carriage.

The sleigh then slowed up to allow the carriage to pass, and at that moment a bomb was thrown beneath the carriage. The force of the explosion broke all the windows of the Laws Courts, and the report was heard outside the city. The carriage was blown to pieces, nothing but the four wheels remaining.

The Grand Duke was instantly killed. His head was blown off, actually being separated from his body, which was frightfully mangled. The coachman was also killed. He was so frightfully burned by the explosive with which the bomb was charged that he died while being taken to a hospital.

On the arrest of the murderers, neither of whom are known to the police, one of them coolly said: "I don't care; I've done my job."

Ready for War.

Everything had the appearance of quietness in Chinatown today, but conditions may be like a smoldering fire which is ready to burst forth without warning. Strict police vigilance was maintained throughout the district since the shooting of Lee Mon Lee, who now lies wounded at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Many new Chinamen have arrived in the city, and inside information says every member of the two factions is heavily armed.

Every Chinaman admits that if the grievance terminates in a war an open battle between the two tongs will come within a few days. Lee, the injured man, is a member of the Suey Sing Tong, and the three prisoners, Wong Chow Guen, Ju He and Chee How, are members of the Hip Sing Tong. Each of these tongs has about 400 members. All the members in other towns have been notified to return home at once. Notices have been sent to Astoria, Salem, Albany, Pendleton and other large cities of the Coast and Inland Empire.

They knew the police are watching for them, and many got off the trains at outside stations and walked in. It is said that guns have been shipped to Portland in boxes as merchandise. That information was obtained from a Chinaman.

Chow How, one of the accused, is one of the most prominent merchants of Chinatown. It is claimed that he owns a number of slave women in Portland. The woman the trouble arose over was Cho Gue. —Portland Telegram.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—S. B. Roath, who died last night at Norwich, Conn., was a life-long associate of John J. Ferman, father of the Chicago stockyards. The pioneer announced on August 25, 1903, that he had just settled $1,000,000 on a chosen set of relatives, "just to see how they would use the money." In giving away his fortune, he made it clear that upon the behavior of the beneficiaries depended the final division of the property.

Roath was said to have been attracted by the declared purpose of Andrew Carnegie and D. K. Pearsons to die poor. One peculiar feature of his gifts was that practically all went to poor families—each receiving an independent fortune. Mr. Roath was estimated to have another $1,000,000.
