Myrtle Point Items.

The past week has been full of incidents, some of which are worthy of mention.

On Wednesday afternoon the firemen were to practice on a real fire, the material for which was donated by the merchants in the shape of boxes, etc., and placed on a vacant lot on the corner of Spruce and 7th. Some one who shall be nameless urged on by others who should have known better, set fire to the pile, and not only endangered the adjacent property but cheated the boys out of their drill. There is a heavy penalty for such work and it would be well for smarties to look out.

The mask ball on the evening of the 22nd for the firemen was quite well attended. Several of the costumes were very nice and a number quite striking. The prizes were very fine and were donations of the merchants. Ladies' first prize, Mrs. E. E. Bender and Miss Ella Clinton several pieces of silverware, costumes "Enterprise," both alike.

Second prize, Miss Mary Mast and Miss Sarah Rose, two squaws. Third prize was won by two colored washer women who escaped before they were unmasked. Gents' first prize, Messrs C. Huling and A. Strahon, costumes, Alphonse and Gaston, fine umbrella and kid gloves. U. Gray, fancy sweater and tie. Third prize, C. Page, "Happy, a tramp." The supper was furnished by the Ladies' Improvement Club and was the result of the liberal donation of nearly every family in town, also assisted by all the business men in the shape of cash or groceries. A ten cent supper was served the next night and thanks to the large patronage a substantial sum was added to the fund.

Saturday, the 25th, "Tony the Convict" was given to a large house. Miss Lena Murray makes a fine leading lady and with training she would certainly be able to play for better than the average amateur. Myrtle Point can certainly feel proud of her local talent, for all the parts were well taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Deyoe returned on last Friday from San Francisco where they have been for the past six months.

Prof. Night was confined to his bed with poison oak the first of the week. We are glad to say he is out again.

Quite a number of cases of sickness in town. OBSERVER.

The big three-masted schooner

Onward went ashore at the mouth of the river last Saturday, and is now lying hard and fast on the sand near table rock, and unless a heavy storm comes up soon will be easily floated. The vessel arrived off the bar at the proper stage of the tide and would have sailed in but for the breaking of the chain which holds the center-board in place, thus allowing it to drop full length down which struck bottom and made the handling of the vessel impossible and she drifted below the mouth of the river as above stated. She is insured, we understand, for $9000.

Afraid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally.
