Dr. V. L. Hamilton returned yesterday afternoon from a two weeks' trip in which he visited a number of cities along the coast, from Seattle to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lanson, who have resided here for the past two years started Tuesday for Newberg, where they intend to make their future home.

D. H. Hawkins, district manager of the insurance department of the Knights of Pythias, will be here next Tuesday, Feb. 6, for the regular meeting of the order.

W. C. Chase went up to Salem last Sunday to represent the Coos County Bar Association in the matter of the admission of A. H. Blatchley to practice law in this State.

Mrs. Annie Wilcox, of McKinley, left Wednesday for Oakland, California, where her mother lives. She expects to be there a week and bring her mother home with her.

F. A. Jamison came up from Riverton last Saturday with his daughter, Ora, whom he accompanied to Marshfield, on her way to Monmouth to enter the Normal School.

L. F. R. Heller was in from McKinley yesterday. He thinks the automobile tax proposed by some law tinkers at Salem would be an outrage and we agree with him.

Mrs. J. A. Yeakam Jr. of Gridley, California, arrived by this morning's train with three children for a visit of two or three months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lukens.

The North Bend Mill and Lumber company began work Tuesday on the bunk houses on Davis slough for the crew that is to build their logging railroad there. Some of the camp equipment has arrived.

Fred Gross, of Bandon, charged by J. M. Thomas, deputy game warden, with running deer with a dog, was tried in Justice Wade's court at Bandon January 24. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

E. E. Weekly, the road man from Bridge, and C. E. Huling, of Myrtle Point, who had been out at Salem for a week representing the Myrtle Point Commercial Club on road matters, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. J. H. Williams and little son, Maurice, left today for San Francisco, Cal., to be absent several weeks. While there Mrs. Williams will undergo an operation at the St. Francis hospital. Little Maurice will visit with friends in Oakland, during this absence.

The Sentinel feels like extending its cordial thanks to the many subscribers who renewed and advanced the dates of their subscriptions last month. And it would also add that January was the banner month for subscriptions under the present management.

The county convention of the Christian Church will be held in North Bend today, tomorrow and Sunday. The delegates from the local church who went over today to attend the convention are Mrs. B. H. Burns, Miss Mae Allen, Mrs. Gene Nosler and N. C. Kelley.

The Sentinel is in receipt of a letter from John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific agent at Portland, in which he informs us that he expects to be over in this territory next week to meet our citizens and further discuss the train schedule with them.

Beginning January 1, 1917 all automobile and repair work must be settled for before it leaves the garage. A. A. Paul.

Trappers. If you have any Furs for sale let me make you a price before you ship. Geo. T. Moulton.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Robinson expect to leave Sunday for a month's pleasure trip through California. They will stop first at Ashland to visit a sister of Mr. Robinson and then proceed south, doing most of their traveling in the day time. They will go as far as San Diego before returning.

We had something like a "squaw winter" here Tuesday, snow enough having fallen during the night to whiten the ground. It disappeared during the morning; but another lot sifted down in the evening, so that the only two snowfalls of the winter thus far can be credited to the same day.

Claude Moon and P. W. Hackwood, of Powers, were in town Wednesday while waiting for the railroad wreck to be cleared up. They say Powers is strongly in favor of the change in schedule that the Commercial Club is working for and that that city will be represented here at the meeting next Wednesday.

F. C. True, who sold The Racket Store about six weeks ago, has decided to go back to his former home in Iowa where he will be cashier of and manage a bank. He and his family expect to leave in a month or so. Fred has been one of Coquille's progressive business men and we are sorry to see him leave the country.

Judge Watson and Roadmaster Murdock are just home from Salem, where they have been looking after road legislation. With so much road work-in prospect as this county is going to do this year, it is imperative that our interests should be carefully guarded, both in the laws made and in the appointments on the highway commission.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Laird and daughters started by Tuesday afternoon's train for San Francisco, California. From there they expect to go down to Los Angeles and San Diego. They expect it will be some time next summer or fall before they return and they shipped their automobile, so as to use it on the California roads and come back in it.

Bring Soul Mates Together.

The Sentinel is in receipt of a letter from Portland inquiring whether one of the bachelors in the list published last month is a "fitten" young man for a bashful girl on the sunny side of thirty to open a correspondence with. Of course the Sentinel named no bachelors whom it could not honestly recommend to the fair sex as suitable mates.

Following is the letter:

Dear Editor:—I saw in your paper the names of Coquille's marriageable bachelors. I would like to open correspondence with Mr. J. P. Michaels, providing, of course, in your judgment, Mr. J. P. M. is a fitten man to correspond with a lady, and I won't stand for any triflers.

I have known a family of Michaels and there were all God-fearing folks, and had some class, they were honest and with a lady like myself, that counts for a whole lot. I aint ever been married but when I saw your article I said right away that Michaels was my pick.

I am 29 years old, but I don't look it. I can cook and sew, and would be willin' to go my share, but I won't give up my music. I can sing. Of course I aint no Melba, but who can tell. If Mr. Michaels would care to exchange pictures I will have some look.

Let me know, right away, now I aint throwin' myself at any man's feet, but I always was, even as a girl, kinda leaneen to romance.

Thankin you for your goodness in doing this and who can tell as what you might be the means of bringing two souls mates together.

Clarice Jensen.

Fair Store Opens Here.

This week, A. E. Labowitch, manager of The Fair Dry Goods Store at Marshfield, has removed its stock to this city and is now engaged in putting it on the shelves in the Martin Building on West Front Street near the Knowlton Drug Store. Next Tuesday this store will open its doors for business, and on the seventh page of this issue of the Sentinel appears an announcement giving samples of the phenomenally low prices that will be made in selling its stock. Don't fail to read it.

Gasoline at the Garage.

We can sell you gasoline at 23 1/2 cents in drum lots—as cheap as you can get it anywhere. Gardner & Larsen.

We still have some of those Coquille booklets left. All our citizens ought to put one of them in each letter they send East. They are free. Get them at the Sentinel office.

See our four-magazine offer. It is just like finding money.

That Masquerade Dance.

The Masquerade Dance to be held by the Coosonians and the Coosonian Band on Washington's birthday, the evening of February 22, is going to be one of the biggest dances ever held in Coquille. Prizes to the value of $65 have been donated by Coquille business houses and they make a very desirable list.

For the best costumed lady there is a first prize of a $10 merchandise order; second, a $5.00 hat; third, $4.00 silver casket set. For gentlemen the first is a $10.00 merchandise order; second, $4.00 hammer and saw; third, a $4.00 briar pipe.

For the most comical character represented by a lady there is a first prize of a $4.00 electric toaster; second, $2.00 pearl brooch; third, $1.00 box of candy. For gentlemen the first prize is a $4.00 shaving set; second, $2.00 pearl knife; third, $1.00 silk tie.

To the most recently married couple an aluminum kettle will be presented.

For the masked lady dancer coming the greatest distance a year's subscription to the Sentinel will be given, and to the gentleman a year's subscription to the Herald.

A $1.00 box of candy will be presented to both the first masked lady and the first masked gentleman to arrive.

For the best sustained character among the ladies a $2.50 myrtle bowl will be given, and to the gentleman a $2.50 box of cigars.

No unmasked dancers will be allowed on the floor previous to the unmasking. The music is to be furnished by the Coosonian Band.

The St. Valentine dance is to be held a week from next Wednesday, the 14th inst., with music by the band and being under the auspices of the Coosonians. A splendid time is assured to all.

He Solves Our Problem.

Not long ago the Sentinel typetype went out of commission on account of the breakage of a small spring about the size of an ordinary toothpick. A new one would cost about a dime, and there were plenty of them in San Francisco. But it would require three or four days to get one from there and meantime publication day loomed near and even if we telegraphed for one, it could not come up the same way, so it began to look as if we might have to try to hustle compositors to get out that issue of the paper. After putting in an extra spring looking a little like the broken one, which didn't stay on the job a minute, we went out to see if we couldn't get one made. The only man we found who was willing to take the job was V. R. Wilson, the jeweler, and he had one ready in a little while that worked perfectly and is still in use—though meantime we have got in reserve a couple of new ones from the company at San Francisco. It is certainly worth while to know that there is a man here equal to such an emergency, though.

To Build Floating Dock.

The Southern Pacific company has had a crew of men at work the past week surveying and clearing the right of way on the waterfront at Reedsport, where they intend to put a large floating dock, says the Port Umpqua Courier. The site for the dock is close to the site of the present dock, and will be connected by a road to locations where the passenger and freight depots will be built, which we understand will be early this spring.

Money to Loan.

CAT HAS A GOLD TOOTH.
Dentist Treats Pet Felines With Complete Success.

Lynn, Mass.—"Snoodles," the six-months-old pet cat of Dr. Fred Bettle of Holbrook, assistant in the dental laboratory of Mayor John S. Burbank, is sporting a gold crown in the lower cusp of the right jaw.

Half Angora and half Maltese, "Snoodles" broke the top of her tooth and had been much troubled by it. Dr. Bettle was taken with the idea of making an impression in wax and soon had the gold crown ready. The cat submitted to the operation without protest and evinced interest only when the cementing process took place by licking the cement.
