MYRTLE POINT ITEMS

Albert Barklow sold his little ranch across the river for a good price and will now be a citizen of our city. Jess Clinton, the buyer, will occupy the place and enjoy all the advantages of city life in Myrtle Point. Mr. Barklow has been in the county 46 years and has more boys and sold more farms than any real estate man we know of.

Robert Stevens is going to college in Portland. After securing his diploma he expects to return to Myrtle Point and do a barber business.

Grover Brown has gone to San Francisco for business. If he is satisfied with his prospects he will send for Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Ida Hansen made a business trip to Powers last Saturday, returning the same day.

E. J. Myers was elected delegate to the State Grange, which will be held at Astoria in May.

Dr. Pemberton has now a fine "galant," new Ford roadster. It will "amble right along."

Uncle Jerry sits in his "armed" rocking chair ready for any emergency.

We didn't hear much potato talk nor do we see much stock the last ten days. Farmers are beginning to put them in the ground.

Miss Nellie Breuer begins to teach this week in the Sugarloaf district.

All reports from Mercy hospital of Mrs. J. O. Stemmler are that she is recovering, owing to her great vitality.

A lady from North Fork came in this week and said the roads were too bad to describe.

Mr. Adelsperger, the timber man, is in town this week picking up new business and odd ends.

Charlie Bunch, of Coquille, is in town this week for a few days with his son, Dr. Bunch.

Enos Ross, Sr., has been spending the winter with his brother-in-law, Ed Weesky, up the Middle Fork. This is why we miss him around the chimney fire where we always congregate.

Henry Strong and his wife brought in their little baby to have an abscess in its lower jaw lanced. Dr. Leep was the physician.

Miss Goldie Michels has returned from Pueblo, where she has been living since last summer. She will resume her position with Attorney Claud E. Giles, as stenographer.

Prof. Jones, of the Broadbent schools, is in town today. Miss Miss Magness, the assistant, with the aid of one of the more advanced scholars is keeping the school going.

Ernest Mayse, son of Jack Mayse, of North Fork, came in last week to visit his sister, who is in high school and see the basket ball game.

Alfred Long and family are moving from the Ed. Page house on Maple street to one of Mr. Perkins' houses on Seventh street.

A. A. Miller kalsomned Tom Gurnlin's kitchen and as they gazed at the work with great admiration they said, "Go to! Let's find another 'goop' who will bet we can't again do the walking stunt to Coquille any night and we'll have money for the poor."

Mrs. L. D. Traver is over from the Bay side visiting at the home of Mrs. Nellie Bender, her cousins, and others of the Hermann family.

E. G. Fish, of Middle Fork, was in this week and says he has just delivered 6,000 railroad ties to Ed Hanon and has contracted for timber for 10,000 more. He carries on his farm at the same time and is building two silos to care for his 60 head of cattle and will have 100 head next year. Ray Waterman came down with a four-horse team and took out a load of feed for the stock.

Wilbur Barklow has sold his residence to his father, Thomas Barklow. Wilbur will probably go "back to the soil."

Noah Bonewitz shipped another carload of knees for ships last week. With the knees, matchwood, ties and saw-logs this country is rapidly being denuded of its best timber.

Dr. Pemberton says Bob Sturdevant and his wife are parents of a big girl baby since the 14th. The Doc's scales say 9 1/2 pounds.

Mrs. Corbin's boy, Walter, got his arm broken Monday. It was set by Dr. Pemberton.

A. J. Newman, of Wagner's station on South Fork, had occasion to call for medical help for his little girl Monday.

P. W. Laird is busy fixing the road—filling a hole here, mending a bridge there, etc., on his beat.

Mrs. L. J. Roberts came down from their ranch on Middle Fork with a basket of eggs and her smile. She has many friends to greet her, having lived here several years.

259. This is the number of marriages the Rev. Theo. Barklow has solemnized to date, the contracting parties being Walter Ervins Barklow, son of Dan Barklow, and Miss Ruby M. Wallen, all of Strington and the date was March 14th.

W. A. Laird, of Bandon, was in town this week visiting his son Henry who is in school here, and other relatives up in the Powers country.

A man named Strong, generally known as Hatcher, was killed in a Smith-Powers logging camp Thursday morning. He was in a gulch when an 80-foot log was cut which fell toward the man below. All escaped save Mr. Strong. He was 30 years of age. The funeral will be from the Brethren church, Rev. Theo. Barklow officiating.

H. B. Steward is now the proprietor of the Lester Harrison pool hall, having acquired the property yesterday. Mr. Harrison will follow his folks to Shasta Valley, California.

We have just come from a visit with Uncle Jerry who sits in his comfortable chair, and although he cannot see his mind seems to be as alert as ever and he can quickly "see" a joke. He is falling physically.

Report on Condensary.

On Tuesday the following report was submitted to the Myrtle Point Commercial Club by the committee on Condensary:

We, your committee appointed to investigate the possibilities of a Milk Condensary in the vicinity of Myrtle Point, respectively submit the following report:

Let it be understood that this report of your committee is confined to a radius of five miles distant from Myrtle Point.

1st. In 1916, there was the product of 3,000 cows manufactured by the five Cheese Factories, the product that was manufactured into butter not being included in this report.

2nd. The estimated amount of milk manufactured into cheese by the five-cheese factories daily was about 45,000 lbs., let it be understood though, that some of this milk was brought to the cheese factories for a greater distance than the five miles in some cases.

3rd. We have found a suitable site for such a factory, which has the advantages of both wagon and river transportation, that can be purchased at about $400.00 per acre for one or three acres.

4th. The ground on which the factory would stand, if constructed on the site investigated by your committee, would not require the building to be built on piling, for that reason the cost of the piling has been eliminated by your committee.

5th. We find that the lumber would cost about $18.16 per M.

6th. We find that gravel and sand such as is on the South Fork of the Coquille river, would cost about $1.50 per cubic yard delivered.

7th. As to water supply there is two sources from which to draw from, the city and the river.

8th. We find that wood three feet long can be delivered to the factory for $2.50 per cord.

9th. We find that the insurance rates on a D class structure would cost $3.25 and on a B class building would cost $1.75.

10th. As to fire protection if the building was constructed on the site selected by your committee, it would have the protection of the city water works.

11th. We find that a cow can be raised at the age of two years old for $25.00.

12th. Most wagon roads for a distance of five miles from Myrtle Point in any direction can be traveled at any time of the year, most are gravel and rock roads, fairly well graded.

13th. We believe that the possibilities for increasing the output from the dairies within a radius of five miles can be increased to at least three times what is now being produced.

14th. We find that the further back from the market you may go, the less interest is manifested in the dairy business, and we believe that the interior from five miles out to a distance of 20 miles can be increased to five times as to what it is to the present time. Respectfully submitted, J. O. Stemmler, W. C. Cutler, J. S. Whitaker.

Norway School Program.

The Parent and Teacher association of the Norway school met again Friday evening at the school house with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by J. H. Barklow with J. F. Schroeder as secretary.

The part of the program furnished by the school was "An Evening with Longfellow," whose birthday was being observed by the school.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Cowgill, a domestic science professor from O. A. C., who is now working in the capacity of field worker for the boys' and girls' industrial clubs. Her talk was very much appreciated for its helpful suggestions.

The audience was pleasantly entertained between numbers on the program by selections on the new Victrolas, recently purchased by the association for school and community needs. This school is one of the first rural schools in the county to own such a fine instrument and they are justly proud of it.

You can still get the four-magazine combination for two bits extra.
