MYRTLE POINT ITEMS.

Cecil Carter shipped another load of stock last week to Portland.

J. O. Stemmler is suing the Bigelow Estate to recover on a note given him by Tom Green, who at one time owned the property.

James Whittaker, the sawmill man, has sold his dairy herd and will give all his attention to his saw and planing mill.

It is plain that the object of the big majority of our citizens is to make our town "skin tight" dry-closing everything that ever had a bad reputation and all that will come.

The snow has been deep on the mountains at the Dement ranch—about five feet. They had feed for their cattle and Ellis had his usual "foot" above the snow.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Ross, of South Bend, Indiana, are here looking over our country and enduring our climate. They were preceded by their son, who has about selected a ranch and if all like it will at once move on it. They are delighted with the outlook of this valley.

The Davis Neil residence on Myrtle street was recently bought by J. O. Stemmler.

Perry Parrish and wife are the sure-enough happy parents of a 8-pound, 6-ounce girl baby since Monday.

Prof. Claude Noeler closes a very successful term of school in the Stringtown district this week. Saturday he and the pupils will enjoy a picnic on the grounds. Mr. Noeler with his family will return to his farm at Bridge for the summer.

Dr. O. H. Clark's family are expected here this week and they will occupy the Herrmann residence at the corner of Willow and Fifth streets.

Isam and Archie are the gentlemanly lads who expect to conduct and deliver the people from Myrtle Point to Roseburg from the drying up of the mud to the mixing of the same again.

Reuben Stevens, who went to Portland to be a barber, found that "left-handed" barbers were not in demand, so now turns up in Shasta valley, Siskiyou county, California, that "delectable country."

A new doctor is in town, an osteopath. Dr. Bloxham is his name and his sign is on the Guerin stairs.

Four trainmen who ran the through mail train and remained over night here have been transferred according to a S. P. rule of the longest service men getting the precedence in places. The men do not lose their jobs, but change places. A new gang now comes on the evening train and remains over night.

If the color of their blood is indicated by the red in the flags put out before the various stores and houses, there is plenty of good fighting blood in Myrtle Point, but there have been few enlistments.

F. G. Bunch, D. D., with Miss Aikin and Fearnley and wife, went down the river Sunday to the home of Dr. Bunch's father and besides enjoying a good dinner went down to the river bank and pulled in a fine mess of salmon trout.

Dr. O. H. Clark has the decorator at work in his rooms in the bank building and the begin to look like California—colors.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Reese are down from their ranch on the Middle Fork and will take their grandmother, Mrs. Wethey, with them as she can not live alone.

W. H. Carille, of Middle Fork, was the first to bring in good, large rhu-barb—and sold it. It was not grown in a hot-bed but in the open. He has more. "The early bird."

Mrs. Tucker, who has been very ill, has recovered her health. Mrs. Albro was her nurse.

Claude Mussen and wife are here from the Smith-Powers camps on the upper South fork for a few days' visit.

Charlie Anderson, son of W. B. Andrews, is being treated by Dr. Pemberton for pneumonia. The young man is 17 years old and lives with his parents in Stringtown.

Mrs. John Strong, of South fork, also required Dr. Pemberton's services on account of serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Rackleff are the parents of a 7½ pound girl, Dr. Pemberton says.

J. R. Benson was brought in yesterday from his ranch in a very precarious condition.

Ivan Rose was brought before the city recorder by Marshal Brown for being both drunk and intoxicated. He was fined $10 and "admonished." The officers forgot to ask him who or what made him drunk or intoxicated.

Geo. Burr is demonstrating now that he can build wagons as well as bungalows.

W. Tell Sturdivant passed away Tuesday night of this week after a long illness. Funeral services were held at the Norway cemetery yesterday, Rev. Thomas Barklow officiating. He was 34 years of age and leaves his father and mother, four sisters

Raise Your Own VEGETABLES

Most people have some space at home which could be utilized for gardening. A little time each week devoted to caring for this will provide the family with fresh vegetables. This is a matter which should not be neglected for the coming season will be one of extremely high prices for all food products.

TAKE THIS SERIOUSLY. PLANT A GARDEN.
 We still have onion sets at 10c per pound. When these are gone we will have no more.

"Clarke," of the Hub, has so changed the fixtures and stock of the place that it looks like a new store. He is likely to make other changes, too.

A. W. Bontrager, who made a trip to Portland last week on account of illness in his family, has returned.

Al. Baker, after a few days' visit with his family, returned to his work in the Smith-Powers logging camps.

Dr. Bloxham had a severe attack of heart trouble Tuesday night. Dr. O. H. Clarke relieved him and he is better now.

The welcome visage of Frank Layton is again with us, as a representative of the Fleischman Mayer Co. He has known Myrtle Point for many years and some of us longer.

Charlie Dye, a South Fork man who has been digging out stumps, recently turned out a snake which began to uncoil in the warm sunshine, but it had a knot in its tail which would not untie. Charlie left it out over night and it disappeared.

Joe Schilling, former proprietor of the Guerin hotel and later of a hotel in San Francisco, has again sold out and is now in Tonopah, Nevada.

Miss Lena Snyder is the successor of Mrs. Zelia Deitz in the bread store.

A Rifle and Revolver Club has been organized here with a good membership. After some practice some of them may hit something if it or anything gets near enough or asys anything sassy enough.

In Colonial times tobacco was used as a medium of exchange. To some extent the practice is yet in vogue.

E. C. Roberts has been passing it out this week because of a wee little girl that arrived at his home last Sunday.

Gather Harrison has returned from the Shasta Valley where his folks are, but he does not see as much in the country as others do. He was tanned to a leather complexion and said the weather was windy and cold.

We are pleased to announce a marked improvement in the condition of Mrs. Jake Strong.

George Hermann was in town this week writing the usual check for the usual bill of groceries.

We continue to hear the remark, "No reading room! No library! No resort for young men nights and Sunday!"

W. E. Eddy and Pat Haley, of Portland, are registered at the Guerin.

That Armory Appropriation

The county court meets next week and friends of the coast artillery company are going to the county seat on April 6th to present the claims of the company for an appropriation to aid in building an armory in Marshfield, says a Bay paper.

There will be a clever delegation on hand and the demands will not be modest, it is said. Those who are delegated the work of presenting the arguments for a county appropriation will have potent reasons with them. The State has given freely and the city of Marshfield has donated a site worth one-third of the estimated cost. It is not believed the affair will receive any material objection at the hands of the court.

We understand from members of the court that no appropriation can possibly be made from the county funds for the armory until the preparation of next year's budget. Even then, the county levies were pared down so low this year at the request of a delegation from the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce that it is probable nothing for the armory could be included in the budget without submitting it to a vote of the six per cent limitation amendment adopted last fall.

However, it may be possible that a vote on the inclusion in the next budget of the appropriation to be asked for the armory might be secured by putting the question up to a vote at the special state election to be held in June. The Sentinel is inclined to favor this appropriation and believes the people will cheerfully approve the project as a part of the necessary preparation for national defense.
