John Christenson, the Breakwater sailor convicted at Marshfield Wednesday, was placed in jail here yesterday to serve time for his $50 fine.

Rev. H. B. Her, of Scio, Oregon, who has been visiting in Coos county the past week, will preach at the Christian church next Sunday morning.

Logging operations at the Conlogue camp down the river were delayed for a day or two by the breaking down of a donkey engine Wednesday.

The grand jury will convene here April 9, a week from next Monday, and the April term of the Circuit court will begin a week later, on the 16th.

Grass is beginning to grow fast, notwithstanding the backward weather, and a bigger supply of milk is expected at the Creamery early next month.

Lawrence Rackliff, who has just begun making cheese at his new factory up the river, was a caller yesterday to secure stationery for his business.

O. M. Trembley, of Portland, general agent of the Reliance Life Insurance company, of Pittsburg, Penn., has been doing business in Coquille this week.

W. E. Cleghorn came in last week from California, where he had been for several months. He is undecided whether he will remain here or go back there.

Last Sunday morning the Coquille was out of its banks here and covering most of the bottoms. Since then it has been up and down, but all the while pretty moist.

Only one marriage license has been issued at the county clerk's office the past week, that one being to Geo. Lawrence Mickee and Agnes Marion Mossman on March 26th.

The Union Market at Marshfield last Thursday shipped in a carload of beef steers from Portland. This is said to be the first carload of beef ever shipped into Coos county.

Theodore Clinton, of Norway, was in town last Saturday. His 20-acre ranch supports 14 cows in good shape, which is more than the average farmer attempts on a farm that size.

Tomorrow night (Saturday) the New Era club, of Bandon, is going to have a Woolen Mill dance—that is a dance to help finance that institution under a new management.

With seven men from here already in the service, it won't take long for Coquille to make up her quota of eighteen or twenty of the million men who may soon be called for in this country.

The news that German submarines have been detected lurking off Mauntau Point and in Long Island Sound is especially interesting to the writer whose first quarter century was spent on Long Island.

Judge Watson has been engaged for the past three days in hearing the case of Eunice Kinnicut, of Myrtle Point, against her guardian, W. E. Pike, for an accounting for funds of hers in his hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Folsom and Eleanor came in from McKinley last Saturday and remained over Sunday. Bert says he will raise beans and potatoes this year and get the ranch in shape to dairy next year.

The Standard Oil company is getting to establish a fuel oil depot at Coos Bay, saving 600 miles of the trip the tankers make to Portland by stopping the steamers with supplies for the Southern Oregon country at the Bay.

E. W. Gregg has an elegant new bungalow, which he intends to occupy when finished, up and enclosed just north of the house he has rented to F. E. McKenna near the Academy. It will cost between $1,500 and $2,000 when finished.

Miss Cecelia Hoffman, A. J. Sherwood's stenographer, left her purse containing $10 in her room over the Busy Corner last Saturday night while away, but some one beat her to it and extracted the money before she returned on Sunday.

J. S. Houck, of Medford, who was a Coquille citizen a couple of years ago and for a time interested in the Myrtle Wood Factory, writes us that he expects to return to the Coquille country one of these days as he has found nothing better.

Melvin Kern, who has a tie contract with the A. F. Estabrook Co., was over from Marshfield yesterday and said he had been ordered to report for duty with the Coast Guard company at Marshfield within five days. He was on his way to Bandon to see the company about abrogating his contract.

Mrs. W. D. Roberts, of Allegany, died Wednesday at the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Salem, where she had been for about a year. She was well advanced in years and is survived by a grown family. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning.

Referring to the resolution passed here last Sunday by a union congregation elsewhere published we want to say that the place where religious worship was broken up by men made drunk by liquor illegally sold at a country store was not in the Coquille valley.

Paul Gary, who has been at work in the mill here, was summoned Monday to join his company (M of the 3rd Regiment, O. N. G.) at Salem. It was called out again on that day for home guard. It is only a few weeks since that regiment came back from the Mexican border.

Joe. Miller, son of H. W. Miller, left Wednesday morning in response to a call to join his company of the Third Oregon at Portland. He is a corporal in Company F. Mr. Miller had been here about four months, being engaged with his brother in operating the old Peart coal mine.

Sheriff Gage was rather amused at the Bay one day this week when one of the papers there published a story about his going down the Bay to meet the Kilburn and search her for booze. He says he passed the Kilburn coming up the Bay, but his business was not with her at all.

W. L. Kistner returned last Thursday from a trip down to Humboldt county, California. It required four days each way to make the trip, three on the boat in each case. He came back on the Breakwater and had to lie outside the Coos Bay bar for 25 hours, owing to rough water.

Chas. Schroeder received a telephone message from Stanley Bartlett in Portland Monday evening asking him to send his uniform up there as he would not have time to come down for it. He belongs to Co. F of the Third Oregon and was in Portland when he received the mobilization call, on his way back from Wisconsin where he was called by the death of his father.

"Mr. Bob" Tomorrow Night If long and careful training has anything to do with good acting, the high school play tomorrow evening at the Masonic opera house is sure to be a stunner. The seven students who are to take part in the production have worked faithfully for many long weeks in order that their presentation of the comedy, "Mr. Bob" might be a creditable one and those who have looked on at rehearsals state that the acting is more than usually strong. A dress rehearsal will be held this evening and the play will be given tomorrow night. The hour is eight fifteen.

A crowd of Norway people are coming down to see the high school play tomorrow evening. Marion Schroeder, daughter of C. A. Schroeder, of the Norway district, is one of the principal performers.

Basket Ball Next Friday. Basket ball fans will have an opportunity to see a fast game here at the Masonic Hall next Friday evening when the Oerding Brothers' team will meet the Marshfield Independents. A team composed of five brothers with two more as substitutes is something unusual in athletic circles and when they play the class of ball that the Oerdings do it is still more remarkable. The game will be called at 8 o'clock. The team is composed of Walter, Harry, George, Charles and John, with William and Albert as subs.

Summoned to the Front. Yesterday William N. C. Downs, son of Rev. T. H. Downs, of this city, who is a member of Co. C, 2d regiment Washington National Guard, received a telegram calling him to the colors and he started by this morning's train for Vancouver.

Mr. Downs is also just in receipt of a letter from his son James, with the army in France, stating that they are "driving the Hun." He has been in the trenches now for a year, without the customary vacation.

Milk Rates Increase. Owing to numerous causes over which we have no control we are compelled to make a slight increase in the price of milk beginning April 1st. The new price will be $2.50 for 30 quarts delivered; $2.00 at the dairy. Special rates for customers taking 3 or more quarts at one delivery.

Sanitary Dairy, by Aaron Wilson, Lorenz Dairy, by Geo. Lorenz, Coquille Dairy, by John A. Brennan.

You can still get the four-magazine combination for two bits extra.

To Secure State Picnic.

Every Moose Lodge in Coos county was represented at a meeting held in Coquille last Sunday. The object of the meeting was to select the location of the annual Moose picnic which the order hopes to secure for Coos county this summer. For several years past this picnic, which is annually attended by 2,000 to 2,500 Moose, has been held at Seaside, but John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, is endeavoring to have it held down in this corner of the State this year and it appears that he is likely to be successful.

The committee decided last Sunday to hold the affair at North Bend, with a day each for Coquille, Bandon and Marshfield to entertain the visitors and one day for them to go where they pleased, thus making a five-day celebration. Committees were appointed for handling the various matters of preparation and entertainment.

The exact date of the picnic has not been decided, but it will probably be the latter part of July or the first of August and an effort will be made to combine the State affair with the annual county celebration.

If the Moose come down here this summer in the same numbers they have been going to Seaside heretofore, it will furnish another fine opportunity to advertise the resources of Coos county and its attractions to other sections of the State.

Probate Court Notes. Ole Paulson has been appointed administrator of the estate of G. A. Signalson. The estate is valued at $7,750, of which all except $250 is real estate. The appraisers in this county are J. E. Paulson, Hans Geisholt and Alvin Smith. Another set has been appointed for Multnomah county where part of the estate lies. Lillian May Perigo Madden has been appointed administratrix of the estate of the late Thomas F. Madden, of Marshfield. The appraisers of the estate are W. L. Sinclair, J. B. Sneddon and L. E. Brown.

Frank M. Bates, of Bandon, has been appointed administrator of the estate of John O. Bates, which is valued at $10,900, all real estate except $900 personal. The appraisers are James T. Mars, Chris Rasmussen and Stephen Gallier.

A petition has been filed for the administration of the estate of Sarah E. Newcomb, of Marshfield.

He Had the Goods. At Marshfield yesterday John Christenson, one of the sailors on the Breakwater, was convicted of violating the prohibition law and fined $50, or 25 days in jail. Sheriff Gage says that when he found two bottles of booze under Christenson's bunk and held them up before him he very earnestly declared, "They're mine." Two other sailors under whose bunks the sheriff found liquor denied knowing anything about it and were acquitted.

Enlists in Canada. O. A. Mintonye has received a letter from his son, Claire, who had been working up in British Columbia, that he has enlisted in a Canadian regiment there. The young man will be 21 next month, and although his father has written to Senator Lane to try to have him released he has little hope of it being done. The young man was assured, however, that if the United States entered the war he would be transferred to an American regiment.

In New Quarters. We are this week moving from the W. O. W. building to the room in the First National Bank building next door to Lyons & Jones, where we will be pleased to greet all our old customers and new ones.

Ladies Bazaar. Champion Melon Ester, Berkeley, Cal.—Thomas S. Vanask, world's champion, is in training. Vanask, a senior in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, says that next summer he will either break his own record or burst something trying. He holds the title of world's champion cantaloupe enter. Last summer he worked in the Imperial valley. Before his tent he put a marker, and every time he ate a cantaloupe he added a notch. When he got through there were 780 notches, an average of twenty-six a day. Now he is practicing on oranges and cup custard just to keep his hand in.

Farmers Attention!

We want to remind you of some reasonable articles for this time of the year.

Formaldehyde

Before you plant your grain or potatoes give them a good soaking in this Formaldehyde Solution. It will improve the quality as well as prevent smut and rust.
