Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tetters, of Fairview, were doing business in Coquille Monday morning.

J. E. Balloni, of the lower river, was in town Wednesday to attend the creamery directors' meeting.

Mrs. Iris A. Elrod, of North Bend, has been over here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Lamb.

Judge Coke and Attorneys L. A. Liljeqvist and R. O. Graves came over from Marshfield Monday morning.

Harry Harding is one of the crew working out from Myrtle Point on the Middle Fork state road survey.

W. J. Longston is at work now making grades for the new sidewalks he is to build about the court house annex.

District Attorney Hall and Chas. I. Reigard were over here Monday attending the adjourned session of the Circuit court.

Riley Bowron, of Templeton, was over here Monday making his annual tax-paying trip to Coquille and made the Sentinel a call.

Mrs. Peter Nichols went up to Salem Monday to visit her husband who is reported to be quite low in the state hospital there.

T. J. Thrift got home from Curry county last Saturday and the first of the week went up to Powers. He is selling life insurance.

Captain O. R. Willard, who used to run the Charms, is going to move to Eugene. He has been a resident of Coos county for 23 years.

H. M. Shaw, M. D., Eyc, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist will be at the Baxter Hotel, Coquille, Wednesday, April 11th. Glasses fitted.

Mrs. Caroline Lorenz returned last Saturday evening from Stepping, California, where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. S. Norton.

For rent 20 acres of well improved farm land with barn and orchard, no house, $300.00 or secured note, near Coquille-City. Inquire of M. H. Hersey. 1212

Mrs. J. Stewart Lyons, Miss Thelma Lyons and Francis and James came over here Tuesday to spend the week with relatives here and in Bandon.

W. A. Hoover, of Bandon, now holds the record for the oldest coin in the county, a Spanish "piece of eight," minted in 1691, and therefore 226 years old.

E. W. Eddy is the field engineer in charge of this survey, and among his force are Harry Oerding, Ellis Elwood, Perry Lawrence and Foster Bither, of this city.

Mrs. Geo. E. Pike and children, Howard and Mary, returned last Saturday evening from Corvallis. Howard does not intend to return to O. A. C. until next fall.

Schroeder Bros. this week installed one of those electric "Butter Kist" peanut and popcorn machines and assert that it cost nearly as much as an automobile—more than a Ford.

Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Hayden were callers Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Hayden expects to locate here and will probably associate himself with Dr. Jas. Richmond in the practice of medicine.

Call at the Ladies Bazaar and see their new line of collars, white Bungalow and other aprons.

Rev. F. S. Shiman has resigned the pastorate of both the Coquille and North Bend Presbyterian churches and is expecting to leave Coos county during the coming two or three months.

Marc Shelby is another Coquille young man who is likely to see service in the world war. His application for enlistment in the navy was sent in this week by Postmaster John Lepore.

Paul V. Maria, state leader of the county agricultural agents in Oregon, came in yesterday to spend a couple of days with J. L. Smith, going over the county and meeting the farmers.

"We like California first rate, but we assure you we still have a warm spot in our hearts for Coos county," is the message which came to us yesterday in a letter from the George Belloni family at Grafton.

J. P. Michels received word this morning from Portland, in reply to his application to join the Engineering Corps, to report there for examination and he expects to leave for Portland the first of the week.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church will serve their annual Easter dinner Saturday evening, April 7, in the church parlors. They will begin to serve at 5 o'clock and continue until all are served. Dinner 35 cents.

Frank Snow, who came up from Los Gatos, California, a couple of weeks ago, expects to return there in a few days. His family did not accompany him, and he has been spending the time on his ranch at McKinley.

O. C. Everson was over here from the Bay Wednesday transacting business. He recalls the fact that he was in the furniture business in this city a few months in 1881, running a furniture store where Hark Dunham's pool hall is now.

Perry Lawrence came in from Eugene last Saturday evening and Sunday went up to Myrtle Point to join the deputy state highway engineer's crew of fifteen, which started the survey of the Middle Fork road Monday morning.

Mrs. Elvira Friseen, who was stenographer for Sheriff Johnson here last year and clerk for Senator Smith during the legislative session is going to take a place in the office of Chas. Hall, president of the Coos-Curry Telephone company.

Dr. V. L. Hamilton came in from Bend Monday evening and went out again Wednesday morning. He is thinking seriously of returning to Coquille to resume his practice here. He says there are too many physicians in Bend for the size of the town.

The new vessel of the C. A. Smith company, which is building at the Kruse & Banks shipyard at North Bend, is expected to be launched tomorrow. The vessel is 266 feet long and will be employed as a lumber carrier between Coos Bay and San Francisco.

In the Circuit court here Tuesday S. D. Pulford, of Myrtle Point, won his case against Benjamin Gant, involving title to a tract of land near Powers. The defendant was, however, awarded a judgment for the taxes he had paid on the land for several years.

Last Monday N. N. Neiman unloaded a carload of six Maxwells on the Johnson mill switch here, which had been on the road for fifty days. These cars come packed in like sardines, the body of the auto swung from the roof of the car and detached from the running gear.

Leo J. Cary returned Tuesday evening from a six weeks' trip to the south and east. He visited New Orleans and also his old home in Grand Rapids, Mich. He says the farther east you travel the more intense is the patriotic feeling and demonstration exhibited.

With 45 inches of rain from Sept. 1 to April 1, it would require as much more during the coming five months to bring our supply up to the 90 inches of the previous year. We are safe, though, in predicting that we will not get much more than the average sixty inches this year—maybe less.

Frank Snow reports meeting Fred Linegar, our former postmaster, while making an auto trip from Los Gatos over to Fresno a month or two ago. He says that Fred is hesitating about making a real estate investment he had proposed to down in the San Joaquin valley on account of the war.

If it isn't one kind of a famine it's another. The first of the week there was no hay to be had in Coquille even at the prevailing price of $20 a ton. The prevalence of raw, cold and rainy weather for the past six weeks has caused an unusual demand for stock feed in this section and stocks are naturally getting low, even in those sections from which this dairy country draws its supplies.

TO HAVE COLLEGE

Prof. Frank Anderson Will Establish a Business College in Coquille.

Frank B. Anderson, who conducted a business college here in 1910, came in Monday from Marysville, California, where he has recently been located in the same line of business, and proceeded to look up his old friends and pupils of seven years ago. He came with the intention of establishing a college somewhere in Coos county and has since decided that Coquille offers a better location for such an educational institution than any other place in the county, both because of being central and because we have a brand of southwestern Oregon weather that is a little superior to any other on tap anywhere.

When he was here before Mr. Anderson, assisted by his wife in the conduct of his school, rapidly built it up and made it a very popular and successful institution with over a hundred pupils in attendance. Owing to some friction between his institution and the public schools, however, which might easily have been averted, Mr. Anderson decided to seek pastures new. Some, who were his pupils then are now among our leading business men, and the general testimony was that he had unusual success in drawing out the abilities of his pupils.

As to the city high school, Mr. Anderson now feels that he can convince the people that instead of being competitors, his school will supplement the work of the city schools.

Since deciding to locate here, Mr. Anderson has invited his brother-in-law, Prof. E. W. Campbell, of Marysville, Cal., an experienced business college man to join him in the work and the latter has wired that he would come at once.

Mr. Anderson feels sure that with the reputation acquired by his former school here, and the added experience he can bring to its management he can speedily make the proposed new institution self sustaining, and that it will draw pupils from all the surrounding country and do something toward making Coquille the favorite educational center of the southwestern Oregon country that we all believe it is destined to become.

One of our leading business men, who seven years ago told Mr. Anderson that if he were not so old he would certainly enter his school, has after the lapse of those years so far reconsidered that decision as to declare that he is going to take a course now.

How Mr. Anderson's former pupils and patrons feel toward him is indicated by the following testimonial:

This is to certify that we, the undersigned citizens and business men of the City of Coquille, Oregon, are personally acquainted with Prof. Frank B. Anderson, who conducted a modern Business College in Coquille during the year 1910; that he had a regular average attendance of in and about One Hundred students during that year; that he conducted said Business College along modern and practical business lines, and in an able and efficient manner; that we are glad to learn that Prof. Anderson has returned to Coquille with the intention of organizing and conducting a thoroughly modern Business College, complete in all its various departments. This will be of great advantage to the young men and young ladies of Coos County who desire an education along business lines. A thing all should have. We heartily recommend Prof. Anderson and his work in his particular line to those desiring a thorough business education.

Signed: C. R. Barrow, F. E. McKenna, H. N. Lorenz, J. A. Lamb, Fred Von Pegert, Geo. A. Robinson, J. E. Norton, C. T. Skeels, S. M. Nosler, A. T. Morrison, Geo. T. Moulton, R. H. Mast, W. H. Lyons, C. J. Fuhrman, J. E. Quick, H. O. Anderson, L. H. Hazard, O. C. Sanford, H. W. Dunham, W. H. Schroeder, J. W. Leneve, Lee Goodman, Ralph Nosler.

Entertains for Her Sister.

Mrs. J. A. Lamb entertained a small company yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Iris Elrod, of North Bend. Cards formed the diversion for the afternoon, after which refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Mrs. Fred Slagle and Mrs. John Leneve.

The iron cage that used to stand about the jail in the court house basement and the steel of the two cells there that were not moved into the new annex were being carried away this morning. They are to be shipped to the foundry of Harry Kern at North Bend, who purchased them.

Death of S. A. Assen.

Sigwald Arnold Assen, of this city, died at Merry Hospital in North Bend, last Saturday morning at 2 o'clock. For some time past he had been in poor health and on Wednesday of last week came up from Assen's camp to consult a physician. That night he became delirious. Thursday morning he was taken to the hospital where Dr. Houseworth, after examination, said the appendix had broken and blood poisoning set in. He was tapped to relieve the congestion and suffering but it was too late for an operation to be effective and he passed away Saturday morning.

The funeral services were held at the Ellingsen undertaking parlors at 11 a. m. Sunday. The services at the cemetery were in charge of the Loyal Order of Moose, of which he was a member.

Mr. Assen was 34 years, one month and twelve days of age at the time of his death, being born on Hall's creek in this county, Feb. 18, 1883. He grew to manhood on the home place there, and has lived in Coos county all his life except for a short time in California. Of late years he had been employed in the lumber camps and had been working at Assen's camp at Beaver Slough since last December. He had never married. He leaves to mourn his untimely passing, his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Assen; a sister, Mrs. Fredenburg; five brothers, L. M., M. T., and O. H., all of Hall's creek; and J. L. and E. A., of this city.

Young Man Drowned in River.

Harry Sappington, a young man about 25 years of age, was drowned in the Coquille river at Sam Clinton's wharf at three o'clock last Sunday morning. He had been down to Bandon to attend a dance and rode up to Lampa on the river boat May with Les Perkins who was taking the dancers home.

When the May got back to the Clinton's place, between Lampa and Parkersburg, Sappington stepped off on to the floating wharf and sidestepped down the wharf while talking to Perkins who had remained aboard. Whether he could not see the end of the wharf or whether he was looking at Perkins and not where he was going is not known, but when he came to the end he continued another sidestep and plunged into the river. He had on a heavy overcoat which helped keep him afloat for a moment and then weighted him down so that he sank and never came to the surface.

As he fell he called to Perkins but the May had drifted so far away that the latter had to turn the boat around and run back to shore. By the time he could get back Sappington had disappeared. After searching for a few moments, Perkins went for help and by daylight the searchers began to drag the river where the unfortunate man went down. It was not until 9 o'clock Monday morning that the body was recovered. It was brought up here to the Ellingsen undertaking parlors that afternoon on the Charm.

Sappington had been working for Sam Clinton about four years, having come from Tillamook county where a brother and sister reside at Hebo. His brother and brother-in-law came in Monday evening and left Wednesday morning for home with the body. His parents have both been dead for several years.

Farmers Attention!

We want to remind you of some reasonable articles for this time of the year.

Formaldehyde

Before you plant your grain or potatoes give them a good soaking in this Formaldehyde Solution. It will improve the quality as well as prevent smut and rust.
