MYRTLE POINT ITEMS

Max Dement was reported to be suffering from a severe hemorrhage Wednesday.

Andrew Hough is not so well this week. His father-in-law, Mr. Goodrich, is somewhat better.

When Mr. Hughes leaves us he leaves no one to succeed him in the line he specialized in. There is no one here who won't remember Bill.

H. B. Steward went to Powers Wednesday evening to look after unfinished business.

G. W. Starr, former station agent, was here for a few minutes Wednesday evening as the train stopped. He is with the S. P. on special service and has been down in California. He saw his son, Louis, who had enlisted, on guard at the Columbia bridge at Vancouver. He came here in answer to a telegram that Mrs. Starr was dangerously ill in Powers, their present home.

Wm. Stevens, the barber, is the new deputy in the post office. Mr. Schroeder has resigned to give all his attention to the furniture business.

Murray Bright broke his new Buick car which he bought of Dr. Masson. In turning he didn't turn far enough and ran into the cement curbing and a wheel came off.

Clifton Pulford, the eldest of three brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Pulford, passed away in the Bandon hospital Tuesday where he had been taken because of complaint of rheumatism. He was a bright boy, about 12 years old.

Mrs. J. O. Stemmler, who had been in Mercy Hospital for about two months, came home on Wednesday evening's train. Her many friends are very pleased to see her again.

A. Christenson, the creamery man, went to Powers Tuesday and then to Marshfield and is now home again.

Mrs. Norman McDonald, of Broadbent, took the early train Wednesday morning for Portland, where she will visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hermann, who also grew up in Coos county.

John Nichols, who has been worrying with a broken arm for a long time, goes this week to Mercy Hospital to have it reset, or whatever seems necessary.

Mrs. Grover C. Brown is packing up preparatory to joining her husband at Orcutt, Calif.

Berry & Schroeder in the style of the new furniture firm. Besides undertaking and furniture they will carry a stock of pianos.

Mrs. Abbott, the milliner, makes a trip to market this week to "sort up."

Frank Riemenschneider's wife has arrived and they will live in Mr. Perkin's house on the south side.

The recruiting man says that ten young men of Myrtle Point and vicinity have enlisted.

Henry Rancier, who has lived in this country for many years, passed away last Saturday. The funeral service was held in the Brethren church, of which he was a consistent member, Rev. Mr. Barklow and Rev. Mr. Reed officiating.

Fred Schunke, a German, who formerly lived on Sugarloaf mountain, but later conducted a chicken ranch a couple of miles below Norway, has sold his place to Mr. Ellis, of West Norway. It is not known where Mr. Schunke will go.

N. N. Neiman, the Maxwell auto man of Coquille, was in town this week. He will have cars up here for sale.

This warmer weather has brought the senior Mr. Huntley to town. We are pleased to see him, though he says he is feeling not at all well. He came to this country when "jargon was talked."

Myrtle Point meals in hotels and restaurants are now 35 cents.

Jimmy Stinson was in town Wednesday to have his throat operated on. He is a small boy, the son of James Stinson, of South Fork.

Ed. Lyman and Henry Neal are on a tour of investigation in the land where there is gold—up the South Fork.

Edgar Hannon, the big tie man of North Bend, was in town this week meeting his men.

H. A. Johnson, of South Fork, is planting 20 acres of spuds this season.

Tom Hall, of North Fork, was in this week having completed his contract at Gravel Ford for 42 cords of wood. He will now tackle the ground.

The Barnes show people pasted up a man's wood-house with lion and tiger pictures without proper authority, which they should have cleaned off, but the insulted party had to do it himself—which he did with a hose—at least all that would come off.

"Kaiser" William, K. H. Hansen, William Jennings Bryan and John L. Sullivan are of the same age—but it is evident that they don't think exactly alike.

D. S. Brode, of Bridge, suffered the loss of his home by fire last week. It was insured. There were few things saved. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Curry County's Case.

A Salem dispatch of yesterday in relation to Curry county's attempted nullification of the road bond election law for June 4th says:

"It is believed that Mandamus proceedings will be instituted to compel Curry county to call a special election June fourth unless the Curry county court recedes from its present position. The proceedings will possibly be brought by Attorney General Brown or District Attorney Buffington."

NOTES FROM FAIRVIEW

The entertainment given at the school house was a complete success in every way. Upon entering the cloak room no person was allowed to pass into the main room until the scale of measurement had been placed upon them, which caused a great deal of laughter and fun. The scale ranged from six feet down to two or three feet. The speaking and exercises were good. President Wilson's picture hung on one side of the room, draped with the American flag and worded navy. The room was decorated freely with the stars and stripes. After the exercises were over refreshments were served free to all. Then old school games were played by both old and young until a late hour when all departed well pleased with the good time they had enjoyed.

E. C. Barker, of Coos River, is visiting relatives at this place for a few days.

Mrs. Wilcox and family, of McKinley, were interested in school affairs at this place last Saturday.

Mike Boon, or "Happy Mike" it should be, took in the entertainment. He kept the audience in a continuous uproar of laughter and fun the entire evening.

Allan McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Samson, Etta McLeod and the two Samson boys were calling at this place last week.

Mrs. Neely, Geo. Benhan and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norris drove out to Brewster in their car, last Sunday and enjoyed a visit with relatives.

Frank Stock, of Parkersburg, came out last Saturday to visit over Sunday in Fairview.

Lauds Coos Bay Country.

A Eugene dispatch of the 21st says: The Coos Bay country was proclaimed as the promised land by E. O. McCormick, vice president of the Southern Pacific company, upon his return today from his first trip over the railroad into that section of Oregon. Coos Bay and the Coast country served by the Willamette Pacific railroad hold forth greater opportunities than any other section of the West," he said. "Shipbuilding, the timber industry and dairying in this region has just begun. A great future is ahead." There is no limit to the possible growth of Marshfield and other Coast towns, in the opinion of Mr. McCormick.
