We Will Handle Subscriptions to the Government War Loans Without Charge

As a member of the H. M. Bylesby & Company organization, the undersigned will receive and handle subscriptions (without charge or profit) in any denominations authorized, for the new Government Bonds, issued to finance the war for Democracy.

Our Organization maintains a well equipped Bond Department, normally employed in financing the construction requirements of the utility properties under Bylesby management.

The facilities of the Bond Department have been placed at the disposal of the Government and the public without expense of any kind in the nation-wide effort to make the War Loan an immediate success.

It is a patriotic duty for all those who are able to invest liberally in the new Government Bonds.

We will be glad to take your order for any amount—large or small—and to supply all available information regarding the issue.

MYRTLE POINT ITEMS.

G. W. Jones, auctioneer. Address him at Myrtle Point.

The Barnes' circus has come and gone. They left three big, rotten dead serpents, the burial place of the remains of a mule, and a lot of litter, besides the remembrance of their presence.

Our big water chief, Jim, last week replaced some of the old wooden pipe at the intake with good iron.

J. W. Mullen, a G. A. R. man, has moved to town from his farm on Middle Fork and now occupies one of Dr. Loop's houses on Cedar street.

The agent for the Coos and Curry Counties Dairymen's Association was last week asked by the government to bid on an order for cheese of 30,000 pounds.

Dr. Mason V. E. after operating in his profession in the country last week found it necessary to go to Marshfield for repairs. He consulted an M. D.

Antone Jacobson, who has been with the Smith-Powers in railroad construction work all winter, came down last week to look after business and enjoy a little rest. He has been working with the steam shovel. They made some cuts of 75 feet and much of the time were in mud slush a foot deep, but the company is taking good care of its men. The road is headed for the Eden country.

Sunday last after dinner, Jean Shields, a young man living at Bancroft, shot himself through the heart with a .38 revolver. He appeared to be normal mentally and physically and no cause is known for the act.

When it comes to a circus parade the motor car isn't in it with the prancing horses.

Mr. Robert Annin suffered last week from a slight attack of pneumonia.

Quiller Arnold is laid up by a boil on his jaw. He is stopping with his sister, Mrs. Otto Prey, on Fifth st.

The Barnes circus camped and did business around, in and over the High School grounds. Their marks are there today.

W. C. Dancer, who for a couple of years owned and conducted the Club Cafe, has returned to his "Bees" which business he was engaged in before he was called away a year ago by interests in the North. He has been over much territory in Canada and Washington but is pleased to be back in our Coquille valley to remain.

The Barnes Circus could not get into the Coos and Curry Fair grounds because of the mud, so the city put them in the High School grounds.

John F. Greiger is the new salesman in the Rexall Drug Store. He comes from Portland, Ore., though his home is in Florida and he was raised in Virginia. He likes Myrtle Point and hopes to be permanently one of us.

The Barnes circus had 7 span of horses on one wagon and 32 horses on another and a tongue and forward wheels were pulled out of another. The elephant bucked the heavy one up the hill to the railroad.

L. Purdy, of Portland, has arrived and is the new barber in the Guerin Hotel barber shop.

Max Dement is this week out on the street, "off again, on again, gone again," as it were.

Miss Mina Magness, teacher in Broadbent school, took advantage of the several no school days, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, to be with her relatives and friends in Myrtle Point who are always glad to have her.

Mrs. E. J. Michaels came home from the hospital Tuesday.

Ben Winguet was down from Powers to see the circus incidentally. There is not much worth seeing that Ben does not see. He has other interests here.

A lot of fine looking people came here to the circus from Coquille. They paid 50 cents for reserved seats. But the school kiddies were promised and it had to be kept—that they should go to the Circus. The Fair ground was impossible so the Barnes show, the greatest wild animal show in the world, had to be let into the school ground and about 300 kiddies saved from disappointment—and others. Two of our best citizens at their own expense cleared up the grounds and nearly everybody is happy.

Jap Yoakam brought two bear cubs down from Eckley about a month old last week. They were at the George Stewart barn and got their share of attention. They will eat any decent food but are especially fond of honey and milk. In time of war, we might eat "bar."

There were said to be 2000 people in the big circus tent. The Virginia minstrels were well attended in their big tent on the old Chastanqua ground.

Ed Pearson chased a big black bear on the rear of his ranch and thought he shot him though he didn't get him.

R. L. Weekly, of North Fork, was in town Tuesday, not walking exactly plumb but he was not on the "bum." He was exchanging nicely lithographed pieces of paper at a bank for all the kinds of money we have. About 2 weeks ago Mr. Weekly was suddenly stricken down while in the field. He was carried to his house and soon became unable to move. Medical assistance was called and gradually he rallied and now though a little lame in the hip he can move about without assistance. The doctors pronounce his affliction lumbago.

A big black bear was chased by Jim Hobson from his ranch. Jim "seen" it and it was a big one.

The Modern Woodmen are this week putting in the furniture they bought for their recreation and reading room on the upper floor of the McClosky building.

Hary Llewellen was here this week selling the Bradley Clear Candy which is made in Marshfield. Harry himself grew to his present stature here.

Mrs. Claude Nosler left yesterday with her small children for their ranch home at Bridge. Lyle, who is in high school will remain till the end of the term.

Miss Lelah Schrieter, late of the telephone force here, has been at home the last week troubled with tonsillitis.

Ben Winguet has quite recovered from his indisposition, we hope.

Dan Giles is quite indisposed these days and we miss his usual appearance up town.

Attorney E. C. Roberts has been appointed military census taker for precinct No. 55.

Ed Huntly got one of his fingers crushed at the sawmill and was obliged to have it amputated. Dr. Pemberton was his surgeon.

Mike Yoakim, of Mariana, Arkansas, is here today looking for a location for his father and mother. He feels as though he were in a strange country. He is a worker in wood, so is in the proper country.

Mr. Gregg, who is conductor on the Coos Bay Limited, is here to live with his family and will occupy one of the Llewellen houses on Seventh street.

The Berry-Schroeder Furniture Co. is moving from the brick building at the corner of 6th and Spruce to the McClosky building in the same block on Spruce street.

R. F. Goodrich, late of Los Gatos, Cal., but latterly here with his daughter, Mrs. Houge, is now confined to the house by sickness.

John F. Appleton, of Myrtle Creek, was in town this week to see his grandson, Lyle Hardman, who is here under the care of Dr. O. H. Clarke, who is treating him for an injury to his eye, cut on barbed wire. The boy is doing finely.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening Dr. Clarke was appointed health officer.

Robt. J. Montgomery and O. E. Hill, of Bridge, were in town on business Wednesday.

The Wittaker saw mill in town is now doing full business, having a steam engine put in where the electric motor failed to work the planer.

The county now has a 20 years' lease on the rock at Cooper bridge on the North Fork. The rock will be used to gravel the road from Myrtle Point up the North Fork.

We are pleased to say that Mrs. Jake Strong is steadily improving in health.

Mrs. Dr. White, who has been here the last several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dement, and other relatives, leaves Friday for her home at Klamath Falls. She will visit her sister, Mrs. L. Braden, at Hubbard, Ore., before going home. Mrs. White is a native of this valley and is greeted by all who knew her. She was a favorite.

The county court has acquired the right of way through the E. N. Smith property at the foot of Spruce street and is now asking for bids for the overhead bridge to be built across the railroad track and the Coquille river at that point.

Herbert D. Patton and family have taken up their residence here. They will live in the Seaman house on Maple street. Mr. Patton is one of the train men on the Portland train.

Circus day Jim got three full of booze and they contributed $30. That's all.

Charlie Dye this week lost a valuable horse. It simply got sick and died.

William Billings, Paret Adams and Lawrence Snyder went from here to join a million or two of U. S. boys.

Mrs. Sarah Houghton and her son, George, were in this week for their usual supply of good groceries.

Taylor & Clinton is a new firm in town. They will deal in Willard Storage batteries and be agents for the Myrtle Point-Roseburg stage. They are located in the Tom Guerin building.

Mrs. Wm. H. Tregawn arrived here Tuesday with her son, Billy, from Portland and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lehnerr on Floras creek.

Grandma Hays, mother of the several Hays brothers on South Fork, is very sick. Mrs. Calvin Gant, of Myrtle Point, is a daughter.

County Commissioners Philip and Armstrong were here Tuesday to keep the local road affairs on the right track.

For War Against Weeds.

J. L. Smith, county agent, last night received from O. A. C. the form of an enlistment blank for service on the farms.

It establishes a scale of wages for able bodied boys over 16 providing a minimum wage of $27.50 a month and board for those who have had satisfactory farm experience. Green hands will get $22.50 the first two months and after that $27.50. Boys and girls of any age not able to do regular farm work but fit to do berry picking and work in canneries are to get the same wages for those classes of work.

The following is the pledge which the boys are required to sign:

I hereby enlist as a member of the UNITED STATES BOYS' WORKING RESERVE and pledge my services to the country as a farm laborer, to the end that the nations now engaged in war for the preservation of democracy may be adequately fed. I will continue my regular school duties while school is in session unless assigned to active service, but I will hold myself in readiness to respond immediately to assignment to duty. I am willing to accept the wage scale as printed hereon. I will keep N. F. Johnson, Director of the Public Employment Bureau, Portland, informed of my address or place where I may be located. I offer my services in the spirit of patriotism. I will stay with the job and endure hardship like a patriotic American.

The Virginia Minstrels, real negro comedians, gave us some fine music on the street Wednesday noon and evening and their tent on the Collier corner opposite the laundry was crowded by auditors that evening. It seemed as if the whole population was turning out that night.
