Paulson Has a Big Job.

J. E. Paulsen, a timber cruiser and operator of Coquille, is reported by the Times, to be optioning most of the stumpage in the South Inlet district and even beyond the stumpage on tidewater. A good share of this is spruce.

So far, he is said to have optioned over seventy million feet for a period of thirty days.

Mr. Paulsen is supposed to be acting for a syndicate at Pittsburg with which Russell Winslow, of Marshfield, is identified.

Their idea is to put in a shipyard and build vessels in accordance with government specifications but not under government contract or inspection.

In addition to this they plan to have their own mill to cut ship lumber and timber. They point out that by buying stumpage at the prevailing rates, a mill should be able to turn out ship lumber at an expense of not more than $20 per thousand.

The first home grown strawberries of the season were on sale at the Farmers' store Monday. They came from the R. C. Tapley place.

Hereafter all automobile and repair work must be settled for before it leaves the garage. A. A. Paul.

New Manager at Creamery.

E. C. Bayley, who will act as manager for the Dairy Company's plant in this city, arrived here Saturday morning and took charge of the plant. Mr. Bayley expresses himself as well satisfied with the showing already made by the new company and also with the prospects for a big increase in the production of the plant as the summer progresses.

Two cheese shipments have already been made from the plant and as soon as returns are received from these the work can go ahead on a strictly business basis. Heretofore the company has been somewhat handicapped by not knowing the exact demands of the present trade, war conditions having changed requirements to a certain extent.

The machinery is now all installed and in perfect working order but some small alterations are still being made in the arrangement of the plant to accommodate the rapidly growing business of the cheese department. At the present time over 9,000 pounds of milk is being received daily while the output of butter still holds above the 600-pound a day mark.

At this time the plant is manufacturing the Jack cheese and the local plant is the first in this state to undertake the manufacture of these cheeses. Heretofore this industry has been confined to the neighborhood of Monterey, California, where this cheese originated. In fact this brand is nearly always spoken of as the Monterey cheese. The curing time of this brand is somewhat less than that of the cheddar cheese, taking from one to two months at Monterey and perhaps a less time in this climate.

As soon as the stock or curing room is filled shipments will be made about three times a week and there will be a constant stream of cheese going forth at all times. Mr. Bayley, after looking over the field, said he believed there was a good chance to build the milk production to the 25,000 pounds a day mark before the summer is over. It will not be the policy to take from other established plants but to create a larger production among those who are already patrons of the local plant.

Mr. Bayley had his first experience in dairy work in Australia, coming to America four years ago and taking a two-year course at the California school. He then came to Oregon and has just finished two years of study at O. A. C. He comes with the highest recommendations from the heads of the state school, which, together with his previous experience, places him at the head of the profession. And he has a field in the Coquille valley which is well worthy of his greatest efforts.

Items From Arago.

Middlings used in bread is getting to be quite fashionable around Arago and Fishtrap, so fashionable that it has become scarce.

The Arago school will give an entertainment with basket lunch Friday night, June 1st.

E. E. Hampton lost a good horse and colt last week.

Miss Floesie Lett, of Bridge, is staying with her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Carl, this summer.

It was decided to continue the Arago Sunday school through the summer months this year and should like to have all interested attend.

Picnics have begun rather early. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carl and family and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beckman and family were out Sunday and gathered Rhododendrons and other wild flowers of which there are many varieties. A very happy picnic, after the long rainy winter indoors.

The Mothers' Club of the Roy school district met May 17 and elected the following officers for the coming year. President, Mrs. Frank Willard; vice president, Mrs. C. L. Kime, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Lester. The club has done much for the benefit of this school as was mentioned in an article in the Sentinel in December. The prime object this year will be to furnish the teacher with kindergarten busy work for the younger scholars.

Rev. Earnest Root will preach at Arago next Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Halter and three younger children are visiting relatives at Fairview for a few days and will attend Decoration Day exercises there.

Mrs. Lillie and son Clyde are to build a comfortable bungalow on the old home ranch and at about the same place where the old home stood for so many years. They have the lumber on the ground seasoning.

Mrs. G. E. Wickham and Nola Osmundson returned Sunday from a three weeks' visit in southern California. Mrs. Wickham says her son, Gene, a former resident of this city, is doing fine now and that everything is on the boom in that section. Mrs. Osmundson's health is greatly improved by her sojourn in the southland, so much so that she will remain for an indefinite time.

Curry County News.

(From the Gold Beach Reporter.)

Taylor Diment, of Myrtle Point, was circulating among the cattle men of the county the past week hoping posted on the chances for a beef and mutton supply.

Wm. Hunter and crew on the Queen went to the reef Saturday to begin the killing of sea lions, and have their tent pitched on the Camp rock, which they make their headquarters.

At the close of the registration books for the forthcoming election there were 1879 votes registered in this county, which shows that the county has grown somewhat in the past few years.

Two men from Corvallis this week went up Rogue river on a prospecting trip. Two others from Nevada also went up from here into the hills to hunt for precious minerals. The hills of Curry will be prospected more this year than ever before.

Bear or other varmint have been doing considerable damage on the Henry range about Myers creek, so on his return Monday from a trip to town Otto Ismert took his varmint dogs and went out for a hunt. It resulted Tuesday in the rounding up and killing of a fat 500-pound bear on Egan creek.

Frank Baur and family left for Coos county early this week, and probably Frank will be employed by E. G. Perham on his road contracts there. Recent advice are that Perham is paying men $3 per day for labor and $7 per day for a man and team, with a special low rate for horse feed.

Systematic prospecting of the sands of the ocean beach north of Rogue river is progressing steadily, a force of men and a drill being employed in the operations. Probably both of the beaches, the one to the north and that to the south of Rogue river, will be gone over this summer.

(From the Port Orford Tribune.)

Our officials are now making preparations for the election.

George Forty and Rolla Cook have returned from Coos Bay with a 28-foot gasoline launch that they will use this summer in deep-sea fishing off this place.

J. G. Hill came in from his mining claim on upper Elk river the first of the week with the biggest black bear hide seen in this section in many years. The skin measures five by seven feet, and Mr. Hill is confident the bear from which it was taken would have weighed 400 pounds. The animal was caught in a trap by a front foot, but tore the trap loose and went off with it. With his shepherd dog Mr. Hill tracked the bear and killed it after a long chase in which he was taken so far from his camp that he had to lay out one night. He secured ten gallons of grease, and says that about five more could have been saved.

Forest Ranger, J. B. Carl, visited the Fish and Egg rocks with Capt. Geo. Forty last Saturday. The quest of the fanny tribe and the sight of the thousands of Murres now nesting on the rocks made the trip one that Mr. Carl had been looking forward to with much pleasure, but about all our reporter was able to get out of him on his return, was "never again."

Announcements have been made of the engagement of Miss Ada E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Masters, to Earl A. Brown, and of Miss Wilma A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Turner, to Sidney A. Walker. The young people are all of Gold Beach, and will be married by Rev. J. W. Hoyt in a double wedding at that place June 2, next.

Cyril and Dora Tompkins were in town Monday night while on their way from North Bend to Wedderburn to join their father, W. E. Tompkins. Two of the Tompkins boys are in the fight for their country, the eldest having joined the marine corps about a year ago while Clyde enlisted in the army with a group of North Bend boys a few weeks ago. Master Cyril, who stands nearly six feet, says that he is big enough and man enough to go, but as he is not old enough he has to be content with staying at home.

Liberty Loan Bonds.

Is it patriotic to purchase these bonds?

Yes; every American who subscribes to the justice of the course of the United States in entering and conducting the war we are now engaged in should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue to the extent of his or her financial ability.

Every American who subscribes to the belief that an American should stand by his or her country should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue.

Every American who loves America and is jealous of America's honor should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue. The real success of the loan is to be more determined by the number of Americans participating in it than by the amount subscribed. The spirit of the Nation is going to
