C. A. Larson went up to Powers yesterday afternoon to relieve P. O. Lund, who is ill, in the Lorens store there.

Geo. A. Robinson and Lans Leneve and their wives went out Wednesday to spend a couple of days fishing at Brewster valley.

The most economical cat on the market—the Maxwell. N. N. Neiman.

R. E. Watson was over here the first of the week shipping his household goods over to North Bend where he is now located.

The city of Marshfield bought a $500 Liberty Loan Bond Monday night, and there was talk of donating it to the Red Cross work.

H. M. Shaw, M. D. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist, will be at the Baxter Hotel, Coquille, on Monday, June 18th. Glasses fitted. 2112

N. N. Neiman has made deliveries of Maxwell autos recently to Clarence Schroeder, of Arago; D. Karheuf and J. L. Crosby, of Lee; Geo. Morehouse, of Gravel Ford.

J. A. Jackson left Wednesday morning for a week's trip out to Willamette valley points around Eugene. A. T. Boldon is acting as night officer during his absence.

Batteries overhauled and recharged at a reasonable price and all work guaranteed. Geo. Batten. 221f

J. W. Springer came in from eastern Oregon Tuesday evening and expects to move his family to that section in a short time. They will move on to his ranch near Ontario, Oregon.

Mrs. R. A. Wernich and daughter, Catherine, of Portland, are here to spend the summer with Mr. Wernich, of the Sitka Spruce Co., who is looking after the work of the lower mill here.

According to Monday's Portland Telegram, Lloyd W. Coleman, the efficient assistant of County Agent J. L. Smith, has just been appointed a company captain at O. A. C. for next year.

Dr. C. W. Endicott reports enjoying a mess of peas out of his own garden last Saturday, June 9, which is remarkably early for a season so backward as this. They were planted in February.

Yesterday Matt Kerrigan brought in to Lyons & Jones some fine samples of a new brand of strawberries. They were beautifully colored and so large that eight of them laid in line measured a foot.

Will be glad to demonstrate the Maxwell to you at any time. N. N. Neiman.

Last Monday the county clerk's office here issued five marriage licenses. That record has been beaten only once in the history of Coos county, six licenses in one day being the limit so far.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gates and daughter came over from Marshfield Tuesday morning, he on a regular business trip, while the wife and daughter are visiting at the Allen Belleu home.

CAR FOR SALE—Second hand Studebaker very cheap for immediate sale. W. J. Longston.

Mrs. Edith J. Cain and two sons called on the Ellsworth yesterday from Bandon for Oakland. They will make their home henceforth in one of the towns around San Francisco Bay, but she was not certain which one when she left.

Next Monday the case of the State of Oregon against Alfred Johnson to enforce the payment of $75 a month alimony to his divorced wife, Flora Johnson, is down for hearing before Judge Cole here.

Those who have read with interest Rex Beach's pen and ink portrayals of life in the wonderland of Alaska will be delighted with the opportunity afforded at the Scenic next Monday evening to see "The Ne'er-Do-Well" in a film reproduction.

Jas. E. Montgomery, superintendent of the Coos-Curry Telephone company, was married to Miss Marie T. Maloney at Marshfield Wednesday evening. The happy couple left Thursday morning for a honeymoon trip expecting to be back in Marshfield by July 15.

The Bandon World says that Logan Kay and family, of Coquille, are spending their vacation in Bandon, Mr. Kay being employed with the painting crew working on the school buildings. In the meantime Howard Smith is operating the Coquille ferry for Mr. Kay.

L. A. Liljeqvist came over from the Bay Monday to make preparation for the tax sales of delinquent properties under foreclosure that the county court has engaged him to look after. He was accompanied by his daughter, Cynthia, who enjoyed a visit with her grandparents.

Ray C. Hyde, of McKinley, arrived at Battle Creek, Michigan, June 8, after a visit of ten days in Canada, while on the way; and finding himself subject to draft registered at once, fixed up his statement of the reason for the delay and mailed it to the county clerk's office here.

Ned C. Kelley is in receipt of a letter from his son, Guy, written June 7 at Newport News, Va., in which he said he had just arrived there from the Bremerton navy yard in Washington, and that the next morning he would sail, although, of course, he did not know their destination.

Let's see, how many years ago was it Grover Cleveland was president? During the period running from 1885 to 1897 he held office for eight years of the twelve, or two thirds of the time between 20 and 32 years ago. No wonder the name is met with frequently in the War Census lists we publish today.

There will be a farmers' and dairymen's picnic at the Norway grove on Saturday, June 23, to which everyone is invited. We have been unable to learn just what the list of sports includes but from what we know of the Norway section we are safe in assuming a profitable and enjoyable day for those who attend.

The Red Cross campaign is now on and next week Coquille and its tributary will be vigorously canvassed. $2500 is the amount we are asked to raise and we hope to see everyone put shoulder to the wheel and see the thing through as we can't afford to be slackers in this enterprise. To contribute is a patriotic duty that every one should be glad to perform.

Mrs. Harriett H. Heller, of Portland, who is connected with the Boys and Girls' Aid Society of this state, is this week making her annual visit to the wards of that society who have been placed in homes in this county. She came over Wednesday to see Judge Watson in relation to some matters in the line of her work, and dropped in to make the Sentinel a call.

The Sentinel folks are in receipt of an announcement by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Nevills, of Chicago, Ill., telling of the marriage of their daughter, Muriel Winifred, to Rev. Wm. F. McDermott, of that city, June 6th. "Mac's" many friends here will all feel like congratulating him on securing a helpmeet, and extending best wishes for a long and useful life to the happy pair.

The surveying crew for the Oregon Power Co. began operations here this morning and will work toward Marshfield. The line will leave the county road across the gulch and run directly south on Taylor street to the Sentinel corner and thence up Second and down Hall street. The building of the line will also begin in Coquille, according to F. E. McKenna, and progress toward the Bay.

The Sentinel was laboring under a bad case of misinformation when it published the item about Rev. F. G. Jennings last week. Mr. Jennings did not go to Portland to be ordained a couple of weeks ago for the good and sufficient reason that he had been ordained a year previously. And although he received a call from the Episcopal church at Centralia, Wash., he did not accept but declined it.

In writing to renew for the Sentinel, Rev. H. D. McIntyre, formerly of Coquille, tells of the prosperity he and his sons are enjoying in the Yakima valley in Washington. He says, "we have done well since coming here and have full and plenty of everything that one could desire. It's lots of work, though, as it takes the labor of two young men every day for eight months to care for 10 acres of orchard."

Another Change at Garage.

Yesterday the Gardner & Larson garage and machine shop was leased to a company composed of F. B. Schow, Geo. N. Batten and Burt Doyle, who have all been connected with the garage for some time. The lease is to Jan. 1, 1918.

Geo. Matthewson, who it was announced last week had made arrangements to lease the property, decided this week that other business interests would prevent his giving the attention to it which the garage deserved and accordingly did not complete the deal.

The new lessees, who have had considerable experience in the business and are fully acquainted with the establishment and the demands of the trade, will without doubt make the garage a popular resort both for the local and the travelling automobile public.

Fred Von Pegart will devote a portion of his time to the machine shop end of the business for the new company.

Promised Carload of Catfish.

A. J. Sherwood, who has been trying to secure from the State Game Warden, a carload of rainbow and eastern trout, and some catfish for stocking the North and East Forks of the Coquille, is just in receipt of the following letter from R. E. Clanton, Master Fish Warden at the Bonnevilles Hatchery:

"Owing to the extreme high water in the Columbia, I am unable to say when we can get at seining for catfish and bass, but you can assure the sportsmen there that I will give you a carload of catfish, provided we are able to catch them."

Not Expected to Live.

A. H. Thrift, the father of T. J. and A. G. Thrift, of this city is very ill and not expected to live at his home in San Jose, Cal. Last Sunday another son, E. B. Thrift, of Langlois, passed through here on his way to his father's bedside and Wednesday morning A. G. started for San Jose. The elder Mr. Thrift was one of the earliest settlers on Coos Bay, having landed on this coast at Portland when 14 years of age. He is now 82 years old. About 18 years ago he left his Curry county ranch and went down to San Jose where he has since resided.

Quick Trip to Marshfield.

Dr. G. E. Low and N. N. Neiman made what comes pretty near being a record run to Marshfield and return over the Summer road yesterday in the former's Maxwell. And it is probably the time has never been equalled for that route. From here over, the time was one hour and 50 minutes to the ferry at Eastside and the return from that point was made in one hour and 22 minutes. The speedometer did not show less than 15 miles an hour at any time on the return trip. Considering the Summer road it is evident that they were going some.

We make immediate deliveries on Maxwells. N. N. Neiman.

To Portland for Help.

Roadmaster Murdock went to Portland yesterday morning to endeavor to interest some construction company there in road projects in this county for which no bids were received. The work on the Cunningham-Fairview road will be done on force account under the immediate supervision of the roadmaster, as the project is within or near the city limits here. The two projects for which outside help is being sought are the Coquille-Myrtle Point road and the coast road from Coos Bay north.

Attend Funeral at Langlois.

The funeral of George Halsey Guerin took place at his old home at the Langlois cemetery near Denmark in Curry county at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. Not only the relatives from Myrtle Point but a good many old settlers of the valley went down by auto to attend.

Those attending the services from Coquille were A. J. Sherwood, T. M. Dimmick, J. S. Lawrence, M. H. Hersey, William Betts, James Watson, and J. A. Lamb. They left about 10:30 in the morning and returned home at 7, the forty miles of the return trip being made in just three hours.

Great Asset for the Future.

On the east side of what is known as "the Sherwood Hill" in the southeast part of town overlooking the Collier bridge and only a little beyond the south end of Coulter street is a remarkable group of young myrtle trees. The number of sprouts from around the base of a decaying stump is about fifty. They are perhaps forty feet high and from two to five inches in diameter and all within a circle six feet in diameter. There appears to be no sort of tree or vegetable growth of any kind that succeeds so well or appears so thoroughly at home on the deforested hills of southwestern Oregon as does the Myrtle.

Taking a long look ahead it seems to us that the work of encouraging myrtle growth here by planting and thinning these trees on the bare hills of this valley would be immensely profitable to the generations that are to follow us. We who are here now can probably get no returns from any myrtle except the trees already mature—but think what groves of myrtles, two or three feet in diameter growing just near enough together for perfect development would be to the cabinet maker of say 1975.

Wants $3185 for Broken Arm.

In the Circuit court here Wednesday Julius Brache filed suit against the Smith-Powers Logging company for $3,185, damages for personal injury. He was employed in one of the camps at Powers two years ago and was engaged in "snaking logs." In a tangle where he could not move quickly to save himself he was caught by the tightening yard line with the result that his left arm was broken between the elbow and shoulder. The injury, he claims, is permanent and his earning ability greatly reduced. Hence for loss of time, suffering and disability he asks compensation in the sum mentioned.

Waiting to Hear From Capital.

A good many people who have suggested names for the Darifood Company at the creamery here are awaiting with interest the results of that contest. The company has sent a number of names, first, second, third choice and so on to the national capital to see which have and which have not already been registered as trademarks, and as soon as word is received from there they will be ready to make the award for the most satisfactory name.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

Notice is hereby given that the County Superintendent of Coos County, Oregon, will hold the regular examination of applicants for State Certificates at the High School Building, Coquille, as follows:

Commencing Wednesday, June 27, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., and continuing until Saturday, June 30, 1917, at 4:00 o'clock p. m.

Oregon Must Not Fail.

Oregon did so well in taking more than was asked of the Liberty Loan bonds that we don't expect to see her fail in the Red Cross stunt next week. One dollar for every man, woman and child in the state and the nation. Not that all are expected to contribute but that they are strong must bear the infirmities of the weak. That is, they that have more of this world's goods must put up more than their dollar per capita, to make up for those who can't afford to pay that much. Let's all do our part.

MISSPENT ENERGY.

Don't whine over failure, but begin anew. The world is full of hopeless failures that could have been successes had they devoted to real work half the energy devoted to complaining.

Blissful Ignorance.

Two hunters found themselves some distance from a town when darkness set in and prevailed upon a lonely settler to put them up for the night. He had finished his supper, but there was an ample supply of stew in a pot, which they found delicious. The next morning the host said he was sorry that he had nothing to offer them for breakfast but muskrat. "Muskrat!" echoed the hunters. "We couldn't think of eating it. We'll go without breakfast." "Well, it's what you had for supper," returned the settler, "and from the dent you put in it you seemed to like it pretty well."—Chicago Post.

Adirondacks.

"Adirondacks" is an Indian word meaning "wood eaters" and was a term applied in derision to a defeated Indian tribe driven to the mountains by the Iroquois and forced to live there on bark and berries.
