THE SENTINEL

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With

The Oregon Farmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measure Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Beckham are entertaining friends from Imperial Valley, California, they having arrived by auto last Monday.

Rev. Mrs. Oman preached at the M. E. Church South on Fishtrap last Sunday morning and evening to an appreciative audience.

Mrs. Wm. Schroeder, of Coquille, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Marion Clinton and family.

The Ladies Aid met at Mrs. Geo. Halter's last Monday.

Ben Moomaw and family left Sunday for a long tour in their car. They intend visiting Yellowstone Park and many other places of interest.

Lester and Teresa Clinton, in company with Wm. Schroeder and family, were touring and camping at Brewster valley and vicinity last week, returning Sunday.

Jas. Stauff started on Wednesday for Seattle to visit his wife who has been undergoing treatment at the Columbia Sanitarium for several weeks. Although she is improving rapidly at present it will be two months longer before she will be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wymer and their four younger children came over from Grants Pass in their auto the third of July to visit his brother, Ethan Wymer and family, also friends and relatives at Bandon. They left on the 15th for Aberdeen, Wash., where they will visit their eldest daughter before returning home.

A fancy work club was organized in the Roy district Tuesday which met with Mrs. Ed. Detlefsen. They will meet once a month. Object—sociality. The Mothers' Club also meets once a month.

O. R. Willard has started a stage line between Bandon and Roseburg. This makes four lines running over the Middle Fork to Roseburg, one ending at Myrtle Point, one at Coquille, one at Marshfield and the Bandon line.

Thought They Were Sawing Out

Last Friday and Saturday night some people living in the vicinity of the court house who were awake at about 2 o'clock in the morning—it wasn't at the Sentinel man's home—heard sounds in the direction of the court house that they thought must be filing on steel, and perhaps indicated that the prisoners at the top of the annex would some night break through the bars and with ropes made by knotting their bedding together reach the ground and make their getaway.

Turnkey Peart was apprised of these mysterious noises and directed Night Watchman Crox to keep an especially sharp lookout.

In the end, however, the whole alarm turned out to be very much like the submarine scare in Chesapeake Bay, where an oyster stake was taken for a periscope.

The watchman at the court house had been about at 2 o'clock in the morning, cleaning up the trash on the concrete basement floor with a shovel, and that was the noise which had been mistaken for filing on the bars of the aerie in which "four bad men from Bitter creek" are now confined.

Different Climates in Coos.

We note that Weather Observer Ostlund at the Bay reports 64 degrees as the highest temperature last Monday—July 17. What would easterners think of that for midsummer? Well, we as an ex-easterner think it would be more comfortable a little warmer. But we were at Myrtle Point that day and found it plenty warm there—we should guess at 84 degrees—and that was not so fine, either. At Coquille the mercury probably stood midway at 74 degrees, an ideal temperature. Anyhow, it's nice to live where if one wants it a little cooler he doesn't have to travel a thousand miles for a summer resort but can get there in an hour. And the warmer section? Oh, half an hour lands one there.

Montgomery Headed Homeward

J. E. Montgomery, of the Coos & Curry Telephone Co., and the Bank of Southwestern Oregon at Marshfield, who has been making an extended wedding trip during the past two months, has been in Washington the last few weeks on matters connected with Herbert Hoover's food control program. He wired Chas. Hall Wednesday that he was starting west and that he was coming via his old home at New Albany, Ind., and Minneapolis and would visit at both places and make other stops en route. He expects to reach Coos Bay about August 9th.

Sitkum Man Run In.

Walter M. Laird, of Sitkum, was telling a story last Saturday about him and his neighbor, Harry, having been pinched at Myrtle Point for driving through the town without closing their cut off. He says Harry had just bought an auto truck from a Myrtle Point councilman and the reason it was in that shape was that the work of putting it all together had not yet been finished. He thinks it was playing it pretty low down on them under the circumstances to pull them for something they were not responsible for.

The 1918 convention of the Swedish Singers will be held at Marshfield through the efforts of the musicians who attended the convention at Seattle last week.

May Locate Here.

A. Y. Blaisdell, an attorney of Lewiston, Montana, arrived in this city last Friday and may make his permanent location here provided general conditions are satisfactory. He is at present making a thorough investigation of matters pertaining to his calling and hopes that the promises of the first impression are carried out by the facts. Mr. Blaisdell is seeking a more congenial climate than that of Montana and stated Friday that this country and the climate suited him perfectly and if business conditions were equal to the climate there was no question of it being his future home.

Frank Harlocker's Trip.

Dr. L. G. Johnson and wife and Frank Harlocker arrived home last evening from their auto tour of California. Mr. Harlocker, who motored down with Cell Ireland and party, left them at Stockton and took the train to San Francisco where he spent six days taking in the gay and giddy sights of the western metropolis as a part of his vacation from the First National Bank. It took them four days to drive up, stopping the first night at Fort Bragg, the second at Eureka and the third at Brookings. The roads are pretty rough.—Coos Bay Times.

He Grew Younger Fast.

Last evening Marshal Epperson accosted a young fellow down at the dock, requesting to know his age as he was smoking a cigarette. The fellow protested that he was 21 until Sam asked to see his registration card when he admitted that he was only 19. But he refused to tell where he secured the "makin'" and Sam locked him up, later turning him over to the sheriff. He told several conflicting stories as to where he came from and finally offered to tell where he secured the cigarette papers if given his freedom.
