

THE LIST DRAWN

Names of the Coos County Men Who Will Respond For the Next Call For Troops.

The war draft was completed last week, but as yet the official results have not been received by County Clerk Oddy. As the list of numbers drawn were photographed and the photographs transmitted to the various registration districts of the country by mail it is not certain how long it will be yet before the official list is received. Below is the list sent out by the Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times. In this list the numbers only were given, the names being filled in at the Times office. That errors may have been made in transmitting the numbers by telegraph is made evident by the fact that there is more or less discrepancy between the lists sent out by different press associations. In the matter of accuracy, however, we usually find the Associated Press the most reliable.

In case Coos county men are conscripted they will be called in the order that their names appear below:

High Physical Standard.

The men in America's armies will be the most perfect physical specimens in the nation. In regulations outlining requirements for the draft army, issued by the war department, rigid standards are set up. In general the following are the requirements:

Height, 5 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 6 inches.

Weight between 118 and 211 pounds. However these standards are not absolute, but men under 5 feet 4 inches must be of exceptionally good physique.

The mental test is designed only to develop whether the man is of sound understanding.

Examination of the eyes and ears are made by charts and whispering tests.

Almost any disease of the lungs or heart is disqualifying.

The men must have at least four serviceable molars—two above and two below opposed.

Before the heart and lung test the drafted man is required to jump straight up, kick the heels behind, hop around the room first on one foot and then on the other, and then make several standing jumps. After this exercise the examination is started.

The chest measurement should be between 31 and 33 1/4 inches. The pulse and respiration must be nearly normal and the skin in good condition.

1,400,000 Salmon Fry Hatched.

The number of chinook salmon hatched at Indian Creek hatchery, at the mouth of Rogue river, this year was 1,400,000, which is about the average number hatched and liberated annually for a number of years. The Reporter says that this number should stock the river to a greater extent than it is depleted by the annual commercial fishing. Last year's catch of salmon was about 100,000.

How Women Can Win the War.

Dean Calvin in her recent visit to O. A. C. made many striking and impressive statements that served to awake the housewives and mothers to the present war situation. "American women can win the war over their cook stoves," says this specialist in home economics of the U. S. Bureau of Education and former dean of the Home Economics School at the College. She surprised many by her statement to the effect that we had enough food sources for all of America's needs as well as 60 percent of the allies' needs. Also that it was entirely up to us to supply the deficiency of 40 percent or take chances of losing out in the great struggle now on. She impressed on her audience the following facts:

American women are not awake to the true situation. We are so accustomed to plenty that we never have thought of the dire necessity of food conservation. We waste annually $700,000,000.00. Steps are being taken in the great cities of the United States to stop the awful wastage resulting in the custom of returning bread not sold during the day to the bakeries. From 12 to 15 percent of the bread is wasted; 7 percent of this is returned bread. In large cities 7 percent of the gross receipts of the grocery man are spent for delivery, another useless waste. It costs two cents for the delivery of a loaf of bread. There is absolutely no excuse for such criminal waste in these times. We need save.

Many a business woman says, "My time is too valuable to observe those thousand and one little ways in which to save." It is indeed a little hard on some but the individual must forget herself and work solely for the good of her country. We must find the 40 percent needed by our allies. To help do this let us adopt the slogan, "Swat the dog, feed the hog." All food which is eaten above what is needed is absolutely wasted and is furthermore stolen from the mouths of hungry children. We must eat food as much as possible that can't be shipped. Substitute corn, eggs, milk, vegetables, and fish for meat and wheat.

She cited several specific examples of the tremendous loss resulting in the almost negligible waste of each individual. For instance she explains if every family in the U. S. wastes one slice of bread each day, a waste of one million pounds would result in a year which would be ample to feed a good sized army. The average family of five has fifteen chances a day to do so, and each family more than does it.

How Will Coquille Answer?

A town looks like its citizens. Is there anything wrong with your town?

Are the back lots filled with rubbish?

Are the basements full of trash?

Is there rubbish leading to exits that people would have to pass over?

If there are any of these conditions existing, then there is something the matter with your town.

If your tongue were coated, your back ached and you had chills, you would go to a doctor. You would go because you were sick.

Your town is sick. It gets clogged up like your system and is coming to the only doctor it can come to. It is coming to you.

People judge a town by its looks. If there have been fires in your town from moss on the roof, from defective flues or from rubbish in the basement, it is too bad.

Property that could have been taxed and thus helped to reduce your burden, is beyond the power of taxation.

Food that could have been eaten is destroyed.

Gold with all its alchemy cannot substitute; it has purchasing power, not food value.

Clean up your town. It will mean dollars and cents to you.

It may mean the saving of a life. Your own home may be destroyed. His home is in the same danger as yours.

Sunlight, fresh air, and cleanliness never start spontaneous combustion; lack of ventilation and accumulation of filth and dirt will.

This is your town. You live in it. It is what you make it.

Remove those unsightly and dangerous piles of rubbish. Clean up and fix up. This is your home town.

Uncle Sam Will Do More.

The United States will probably do more, under the new law which went into effect the first of the month, to stop the importation of booze into Oregon ports, than the local authorities possibly could but the government has had too much urgent business on hand so far to send such a swarm of detectives into Coos county as was reported by a Coos paper.
