

MINOR MENTION.

Telling About People and Events in the City and County.

Dr. H. M. Shaw came in this morning.

Miss Laura Wilkins went to Eugene Wednesday.

Since the gravel has been rolled, Henry street rides fine north of the long bridge.

Clifford Kern was discharged from the hospital at North Bend Wednesday morning.

J. J. Stanley went over to the Bay Monday to interview Judge Coke on court business.

Myrtle Point is getting ready to pave six more blocks forty feet wide with concrete six inches thick.

Dr. Low reports a baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hauser at Conlogue's camp yesterday morning.

Sheriff Gage has received official notice that no man will be drafted from Coos county on the first call.

Mrs. Frank Thrift underwent an operation for appendicitis at Dr. Low's hospital. She is doing nicely now.

The Sentinel has this week added a Norris safe to its equipment for the security of its books and valuable papers.

Judge Watson and Mrs. Clarence Tuttle went over to Coos City Saturday night to spend Sunday at the old home.

Wanted—A good live cheese helper at the Coquille Valley Creamery. Experienced man preferred. Wanted at once.

Last Friday Dr. Hamilton removed the adenoids from J. N. Jacobson's eight year old son at the Hamilton hospital.

See Neptune's Daughter at the Scenic next Tuesday evening. It's a great show, seven reels of weird thrillers.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, of Beaver Hill, at the Hamilton hospital here on the 23rd inst.

R. S. Knowlton has a Royal Anne cherry tree in his yard from which 40 gallons of cherries have been picked this week.

The Coos county teachers registered at the O. A. C. summer school this summer are Hazel Fawcett and Edna M. Starr.

The southern hills are thick with smoke these days from the forest fires in Curry county, and the air is blue in every direction.

Mr. I. Hacker and his grandson, Austin Hazard, are here from Pasadena for a three weeks' visit with the Hazard family.

Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Neal were made happy by the arrival of little Gretchen Helen, a seven-pound daughter.

At the County Clerk's office it is not expected to receive the official list of draft numbers by mail before Sunday or Monday.

Unless rain comes soon it appears to be inevitable that forest fires will multiply and more damage be done than in recent years.

That South Fork rancher, who has sixteen acres of beans is watching the weather reports for indications of an "area of low pressure."

See the war pictures and hear the disabled veteran from the trenches in France at the Scenic tonight. It is to be a Red Cross benefit.

We shall be glad to send sample copies of the Sentinel to any of your neighbors who are not receiving it. Just send us their names.

The delayed work of putting in the cement walk on the filed section in the M. E. church vicinity was begun yesterday by N. N. Nelman.

J. H. Roberts, of Myrtle Point, was in town yesterday looking for a lamp which he could not find up there. Neither could he buy one here.

That's going to be a mighty interesting show—the Honor Guard, war pictures and the talk by a man right from the trenches at the Scenic tonight.

D. D. Pierce, of this city, and W. L. Clark, of the North Bend box factory, are preparing to build a modern shingle mill on Catching creek south of Myrtle Point.

W. H. Vanover, a deputy sheriff from Woodland, Wash., was here over Sunday looking for a man named Windling, wanted for wife desertion in his county. He located his man at Powers and went up there Sunday to get him.

O. A. Webster received word last Friday that his mother was very ill and not expected to live, and Saturday morning he started for Merna, Nebraska, his old home.

A small army is busily engaged every day now in trying to conserve the abundant wild blackberry crop, especially in view of the shortage of fall fruits in this section.

Rev. F. G. Jennings expects to leave next Monday morning for California on a month's vacation. He will visit in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and other points in the south.

Royal Anne cherries are always a little the finest ever, but with the lack of rain during the ripening season this year the crop is as superior in quality as it is in quantity.

There is one newspaper in Coos county to whom seeing double is a very slight thing. It magnified one federal official in Coos county to sixteen without batting an eye.

Mayor Johnson says the road work has not prevented his getting all his hands he needs for his mill here. Though some men have gone, others have come to take their places.

Recorder Lawrence brought in some samples of his gooseberry crop Tuesday. He says they weren't the largest on his bushes, but still they measured an inch and an eighth in diameter.

Thomas Devereux was up here Tuesday from his Beaver creek ranch and added his name to the Sentinel's growing list. He says the drought is beginning to affect his pastures down there.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Epperson, Saturday afternoon, July 28, at 2:30. All ladies interested are invited to attend. Plans will be made to make supplies for the Red Cross.

Three United States patents to land in Coos county were recorded in the County Clerk's office here Wednesday. The grantees were E. B. Perrin, A. B. Hammond and William Lawson.

Dr. G. E. Anderson, a brother of H. O. Anderson, came in from North Bend Monday evening and spent the night with his brother. His home is in Portland.

According to the proposed Hoover regulations ladies will be debarred from serving refreshments at parties or from giving afternoon teas and after dances and after theater suppers will be cut out.

Delinquent taxes are still coming in freely at the Sheriff's office and if over the big tracts which are behind since 1905, like the Kinney properties, can be cleared up the tax rolls will be in pretty good shape.

Lisle Morehouse, publisher of Lamanda Park Herald in the Los Angeles neighborhood has been visiting his brother, G. E. Morehouse, of Gravel Ford, this week. They made the Sentinel a call Monday morning.

E. G. Perham has been making fine progress on his second contract on the Coquille-Marshfield road this summer. The grading is mostly finished from Overland to John Yoakam's place, near which his big camp is now located.

Last Saturday while cranking his auto Will Lyons had the too common misfortune of breaking his right arm. Only the small bone of the forearm was broken, and he has still continued to drive his auto as well as ever with his left hand.

O. C. Sanford returned Sunday night from his vacation visit to his parents at Ashland. He says crops are being cut short by the drought in Jackson county and that the Rogue river orchards will only produce half a crop of apples.

Mrs. C. A. Boyrie will leave Saturday morning for Turner, Oregon, where she goes as a delegate to the state convention from the C. W. B. M. and Endeavor of the Christian church. She will also visit relatives in Portland before returning.

O. A. Mintonye, who has been employed for several months at the big Smith mill on the Bay, came over here last Friday evening to pack up his household goods and Monday moved his family over to Marshfield where they will make their home.

The Commercial Club has not had a meeting for the past month or two owing to various other important matters interfering, but all the members are requested to remember that there will be a meeting next Wednesday evening at the city hall and to be there.

J. P. Michels writes to F. E. McKenna here that the government seem to find it as difficult to secure supplies as does the Oregon Power Co., and that the bunch of five from here were sent to the training camp at Clackamas without uniforms. Mick said he was going to get overalls for his.

A. J. Sherwood and family started last Friday on a six weeks' camping and fishing tour. They went via Portland and the Columbia Highway to the Deschutes and will go south up the valley of that stream to Klamath Falls and return by way of Crater Lake.

Four of our Coquille boys—Harry Oerding, J. P. Michels, "Curly" Larson and Claude Kinsey—started for Portland Sunday morning to join the colors. Forty of their friends were down at the depot at 6 o'clock to bid them God speed and wish them a safe return.

The Presbyterian Sunday School pupils and teachers and friends—enjoyed a delightful picnic at the city Park last Tuesday. It is worth a good deal to know that the beautiful grove that used to be called "Patterson's" is now in good and in truth a city park.

J. E. Quick has been busy this week removing his stock of new and second hand goods from his old stand on the First street bridge to the store building west of the Scenic—formerly occupied by the Coquille Furniture company where he will be right in the business quarter.

On the lower river Dr. C. M. Gardner, the assistant state veterinarian, found 21 tuberculous cows out of 29 in one herd and 16 out of 20 in another. It will evidently pay to keep close watch for the beginning of this disease for once it gets a foothold in a herd it spreads fast.

Sam Neas, of Astoria, came in Sunday and proceeded down the river to look after the cannery and get ready for the season's work. Mr. Neas has had charge of the cannery on the lower river for several years and anticipates a good run this year. The cannery crew will be in in a few days.

L. W. Coleman, who took the examination for appointment to the officers' training camp at Eugene Wednesday, returned last evening. There were 22 who took the examination there and four others who failed in the physical test. They are to be notified Aug. 10 as to their selection.

A. T. Boldon has a patch of raspberries 30 feet square from which he has already sold $16-worth, and they are only half picked. This is at the rate of over a thousand dollars an acre, and indicates the possibilities there are in berry culture. Irrigation ought certainly to insure as good a crop on lots of our bench lands.

Owing to County Clerk Oddy being disqualified for membership on the county exemption board, on account of being within the draft age himself, a new appointment will have to be made. There are no examinations to make for the first draft which does not hit Coos county and so promptness in filling the vacancy is not as essential as it would otherwise be.

When the war census was made three young men of draftable age were enrolled in the jail here, which was 75 per cent of the inmates. When the draft was made last week all three of them were in it—Ward, Ralcy and Weidner. Ward has since been discharged to go hence; but it looks as though any drafted man who might try to disappear, wouldn't find the United States big enough to hide in.

Jeff C. French, of Port Orford, was at the Bay Wednesday en route home from Portland with E. L. McLain, of Hood River, who is figuring on buying the famous Star ranch near Langlois. This ranch consists of over 1,100 acres of bottom land and is said to be the largest dairy ranch in this part of the state. It is owned by a couple of California men who are breaking up partnership. Mr. McLain is quite wealthy.—Times.

Lloyd W. Coleman, assistant to the county agent, went out to Eugene Tuesday morning to take the examination for appointment to the next officers' training camp which will open Aug. 27. K. E. Hodgman of the Roadmaster's office went out to Roseburg Thursday for the same purpose. They stand a better opportunity of getting in than did the applicants for the last camp, as this time there will be only three times as many examined as can be appointed while last time the ratio was ten to one.

They Use Much Less Fuel.

The economy of using electric locomotives instead of those burning coal has been so manifest on the mountain divisions of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad that at a recent meeting of the directors it was voted to electrify 220 more miles of track. The same amount of power can be produced from one ton of coal used to generate electricity as from two and one half tons burned in the locomotive boilers. But no coal at all is used to furnish power to the big electric moguls on this railroad. It all comes from the mountain streams that formerly ran to waste. These are the "white coal" of the modern world.

F. B. Phillips called this morning with his nephew, Forrest Phillips, of the Los Angeles neighborhood, who is making an auto trip up the coast with his family. He finds this climate especially delightful at this season for down at Davis in the Sacramento valley eight days ago he experienced a temperature of 116 degrees. He thinks if one was able to spend his winters in the Imperial valley and his summers in Coos county, he would have ideal weather all the time. There is no more rain down there in the winter than here now.

Beef Five Cents a Pound.

Among the late Mr. Levar's papers Mrs. Levar came across a bill of the Pioneer Market at Marshfield for $103 worth of supplies sold to John Levar in 1878, when he was running a lumber camp. The prices compare curiously with those prevailing here now. For instance there is 150 pounds of beef at $6.50—a nickel a pound—while 110 pounds of pork cost $11—a dime a pound. Flour was $1.90 a sack then and grapes $1.50 a box. Cracked corn at 3 cents a pound wasn't especially cheap, though.

"Neptune's Daughter."

All who have ever seen "Neptune's Daughter" will be glad of an opportunity to see it again at the Scenic next Monday night. There are seven reels of this wonderful film and it delights the beholder from start to finish. It is a weird production and introduces a great actress, a wonderful dancer and an expert swordsman.

Those who have never seen this play will miss a treat if they are not there next Monday evening. Music will be furnished by a 5-piece orchestra. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

See the war pictures and hear the disabled veteran from the trenches in France at the Scenic tonight. It is to be a Red Cross benefit.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

Mrs. C. A. Howard entertained a party of ladies yesterday afternoon in honor of Mr. Howard's mother, who is here from Wichita, Kansas.

The occasion was Mrs. Howard's 71st birthday, and she was the recipient of congratulations and best wishes for many happy returns of the day. Those present were Mesdames Mary G. Howard, Chas. A. Howard, Barrow, Evland, Longton, Lawrence, H. W. Young and Miss Shaw.

2314 V. R. Wilson, The Watchman.

Mother-in-law.

The mother-in-law is an indispensable institution, an ornament and a necessity in many American families and an outcast from precious few of them, yet she has from time immemorial been made the unhappy butt of cheap jokes by witless-jokers, and as a class she has suffered in the general esteem. But as an individual the mother-in-law of one family is the mother of another family. Who has ever dared say a word against a mother? Who that might have dared has ever said it?—Portland Oregonian

Just Because.

Mother—Run away, Johnnie! Johnnie—Why? Mother—Because I'm busy. Johnnie—Why are you busy? Mother—Because I am in a hurry. Johnnie—Why are you in a hurry? Mother—Because father's bringing home two gentlemen to dinner. Johnnie—Why's father bringing home two gentlemen to dinner? Mother—Because the boiler's sprung a leak, because it's the cook's day out, because I've got a headache, because the butcher has not brought the meat and because—oh, I wish you'd go away!—Exchange.

THE INEVITABLE.

LIKE the man who faces what he must
With steps triumphant and a heart of cheer;
Who fights the daily battle without fear;
See his hopes fall, yet keeps unflinching trust
That God is God—that somehow, true and just
His plan works out for mortals; not a fear
Is shed when fortune, which the world holds dear,
Falls from his grasp—better, with love, a crust
Than living in dishonor; envies not
Nor loses faith in man, but does his best,
Nor ever murmurs at his humbled lot;
But, with a smile and words of hope gives rest
To every teller. He alone is great
Who by life heroic conquers fate.
—Sarah Knowles Bolton.

AVE!

BELLS upon the city are ringing in the night;
High above the gullions are the houses full of light;
On the healthy Pentlands is the curlew flying free,
And the broom is blowing bonnie in the north country.
WE came back the bonds that God decreed to bind,
But we'll be the children of the heather and the wind;
Far away from home, O, it's still for you and me
That the broom is blowing bonnie in the north country!
—Robert Louis Stevenson.
