

The most independent man on earth

The electric motor has freed the modern farmer from the shackles of drudgery. For less than half the cost of keeping an extra "hand" you can have your cows milked, your cream separated and the real work of all your other chores done by a G-E electric motor. G-E motors will also drive irrigation or house pumps, threshing machines, feed cutters and all dairy machinery. G-E motors will pay for themselves many times over by saving time, labor and wages. Let us show you.

MYRTLE POINT ITEMS.

Professor G. D. ... Albany ... has arrived and will remain for a short time with his wife, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Barkley, of the Club Cafe, and will return for the opening of the next school term.

We note in last week's issue that a gentleman from Myrtle Point was shopping in Coquille for a lamp he could not find at home. It anyone sees him again tell him that Myrtle Point now has it or any other old thing he may want. (It was a circular lamp wick.)

Now that we have handled the Liberty Loan Bonds, Red Cross and Chautauqua, we are taking up the Agricultural Fair with the same spirit and will be glad to welcome "you all."

The Doctors Giles, "Willis and Clark," dentists, are this week whipping the Brewster Creek in the neighborhood of Halfway. They are camping and enjoying each other up to date when Dr. Clark will go to service in U. S. army professionally.

James Cavers, the engineer in the construction of our High Bridge over the railroad and river at foot of Spruce street, is now with us and will be here about four months—till the completion of the work.

Several of our good-looking young men are cultivating the Charlie Chaplin style of mustache. One or two as fine as Charlie's.

The Astrakan apple is conspicuous by its absence as are also the Gravenstein "falls."

Dr. K. A. Loop and wife left here by auto stage for Roseburg last Monday on their way to New Orleans, where their son, Homer, who is an aviator in government service, is in a serious condition from a fall from an airplane.

Glee Barkley, of the Club Cafe, took an outing trip to Bandon this week.

Percy Peel, of the Chop House, also takes to the hills for an outing. Mrs. Watkins and Miss Mary Pearson conduct the entry in his absence.

Frank Reimenschneider, meat cutter for A. Pence, has resigned his position and goes to Weed in Northern California where snow is deep—in winter.

W. O. Cooper, one-time merchant and rancher here but now of Bend, Ore., is here this week looking after his things.

K. H. Hansen, manager of the Farmers Store, with his family, will start on a hike next Tuesday morning before breakfast, about 9 a. m. They will stop and make coffee in the good old black pot, fry bacon and eggs and go to it—breakfast. They expect to be gone about three weeks.

Alexander Andrews, the Andrews Tailoring Co. man, late of Powers, is with his family this week enjoying the Yosemite valley. He expects to return here for business.

Our Mr. Pooh Bah Dodge, otherwise known as E. A. J. P., Recorder and U. S. Commissioner, has been doing a land office business this week. Casper Miller came before him with two witnesses, making final proof on his homestead; also James Len Buell with George M. Brown and Asa E. Brown as witnesses as he has fulfilled the requirements of the Homestead Law; likewise John C. Burtles with Andrew N. Kardell and True Salling swearing that he has been a true homesteader, "trees dias en uno."

Mrs. W. C. Fensler and others went to Marshfield last week to see her son and others of the Coast Artillery volunteers leave. This is a part of patriotism—to serenely give the dear ones up to their country's service.

"How much do you charge me for looking at your bacon?" said a man this morning to his groceryman. He carried a piece away out of sight on the way home.

Ben Shull, who went to California a few weeks ago, liked the taste of it so will go again. He may go farther than Shasta valley this time. He believes in "Taste and try before you buy." Ben knows good land.

W. E. Lundy and family, who have been "outside" all the way from Cottage Grove to San Francisco and also washed in the London Springs, returned home last Sunday. He made the trip in his Buick and it is like a newly hatched chicken—"not scratched yet."

O. S. Coleman is in this week with a case of eggs for which he gets 40 cents per. He says he starts his chicks right so they lay when eggs are high in price.

Mrs. James Cavers, recently from Scotland, but now living in North Bend, spent several days in Myrtle Point this week.

Mrs. A. T. Thain with her interesting flock are at Bandon this week enjoying a well earned outing. They all work and father likewise.

Mrs. R. C. Dement was quite ill the first of the week but is much better at this writing. Dr. Clark was called.

Bill Hall and George Cornwall, of North Fork, were in last week with very bad colds.

We are pleased to see our old friend and townsman, Uncle Bill Jenkins, of Marshfield, in town. He used to be our marshad but never canned us.

William Lang and wife would get the blue ribbon if a prize were offered for the finest flower garden in Myrtle Point.

John Sperry and family are here from the east and will remain if we treat them right—and we'll do it.

Mrs. N. G. W. Perkins, of the Perkins Music Store, has this week received a fine piano from the Sherman & Clay music house.

Chester Bender and wife are here from their home in Portland since Monday, arriving here at 12:00 midnight, driving all the way in his car. He will remain a few weeks as here is where he "grows up" and knows the bottom of the old swimming hole near the old creamery, and several other old things. Mr. Bender is a jeweller and optician in Portland.

A young rough sport from down the river came up a year ago and cleaned up several of M. P. scrappers. As the season is here again so is he. A challenge was soon extended and a wagon pulled by two horses far out of town carried the bunch but did not get far enough for some one said, "Jim Brown!" and 19 fighters, umpires and spectators climbed into the wagon and made for "Reeds Ford" where the officer did not follow. The report is that the aforesaid R. S. licked one of his kind and another of the sort whipped him and lastly the party of the first part knocked out another of his kind.

Aunt Mary Culbertson, of Gravel Ford, will keep the K. H. Hansen residence during their absence caring for "old Tom," a $25.00 dog, and the pot-pie hens.

Uncle Jerry Haines' daughter and son-in-law arrived this week from Portland. He cannot see them but his hearing is as acute as ever and their voices sound good to him. They took him out for a short ride in their automobile.

The race track is now being put in fine condition for the C. & C. county fair. Last week Hiram Hatcher and Jasper Yokam ran their horses—each his own jockey—on a bet of $100. Hatcher says he won.

Another family with several representatives for Uncle Sam's front is that of Russel C. Dement, of Myrtle Point.

A young miss stepped into an ice cream parlor for a cone and as she stood at the counter waiting her turn she swatted a fly with the hand that held the nickel and it fell into where the flea "Alexander" was supposed to come from and go to. The Miss was jumping gracefully up and down to rattle the nickel down, the last we saw of her.

Miss Bernice Chaddler left Thursday for Port Orford for a few weeks' vacation. Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts took her as far as Bandon. They were accompanied by Miss Nellie Barton.

A new shingle mill is in operation on Catching creek on the B. Bartlett ranch. D. D. Pierce, of Coquille, is the operator. It is about three miles from Myrtle Point.

There are a lot of good workers on the ground doing the preliminary work to the building of our new bridge, moving earth for the piers and building a machine and tool house. Mike Wyland is on the job with the "best" team and got an I. W. W. in the bunch. James Cavers is the county's man.

Dr. Clarke removed tonsils and adenoids from Mr. Christenson's two elder children.

Mrs. Eva E. Lane will conduct "Uncle Henry's" store while he is in Portland during Buyers' Week.

W. A. Alby, of Fishtrap, passed away Thursday morning after a long illness.

Mrs. Irvine Miller, of Wedderburn, is reported to be dangerously ill. Her relatives here, Mrs. Dan Barklow, Mrs. Walter Miller and Jack Pullen, left Wednesday to be with the sick one. Guy Duncan, the auto man, took them there.

Dr. Pemberton left this week for a trip in the valley to visit his father at Newburg and also some other points and will return about August 16.

Dr. Willis Giles, who is at Brewster, will return on the 13th.

Many of the friends and relatives of the late Archie McNair, of Bandon, attended the funeral. Mr. McNair formerly lived here and was well and favorably known.

A fire alarm was turned in Monday and the fire boys got out in record time to the E. J. Snyder tract on the second bench above town, reaching the fire just as the occupants extinguished it. A hole was burned through the roof.

Joe Devault has "been" and will return to Orlando, California, with his family after living and making money here for many years.

E. J. Michael is now stocking his wood yard with dry wood for the coming season.

Conrad Hammerlof, of Gravel Ford, passed away Thursday morning while at breakfast, aged 85 years. He was one of the pioneers of the North Fork valley. He was born in Sweden and was a firm friend and good neighbor.

Ralph Wingham also goes to Orlando, California, to a hotter country, which some of us are trying to avoid.

Many interesting looking people are passing through town going to Bandon and to the Bay. They are all glad when they reach Myrtle Point from Roseburg.

Professor Gary, who will handle our grammar school, arrives this week and will reside in the Cooley residence at corner of Spruce and A streets.

George Ruth and wife, of Iowa, who have been visiting with Thomas Barklow several weeks have started on the homeward way. They were neighbors and farmers in Iowa. Uncle Tom did not come from Missouri.

Mac Arnold's brother-in-law with his wife has returned to their home in Pueblo, Colorado, after a delightful visit. Mac and his wife are good entertainers though we have not personal proof.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent, of Gold Beach, are here, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langlois and Dr. and Mrs. Pemberton. They are on their return home from a trip to Portland and other interior towns where they have been in the interest of educational matters. Mr. Kent is superintendent of schools for Curry county.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pape were here Wednesday this week driving a car as white as the flour he sells, the "Drifted Snow."

J. W. Hall with his wife and mother, Mrs. Lyons, of Portland, went down to the sea in an auto Tuesday to remain for a few days at Bandon.

Sam Johnson Jr., of North Yakima, is here this week. He will visit the old homestead on South Fork where he grew up and went to school. He later taught school and kept store here.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a lawn social at E. E. Fraederick's residence—the old Skeels' place—this evening. Ice cream and cake will be served and there will be plenty of music, orchestra, solos and instrumental.
