Rainfall For the Year.

The rainfall up to the present since Sept. 1st of last year is 56.88 inches at the Bay, says the Coos Bay News. The precipitation for the year ending Sept. 1, 1905, was 55.13 inches. This was an unusually dry year and it was predicted that the following year would be an unusually wet one, but such was not the case, the rainfall for the following year being 61.68 inches.

MYRTLE POINT NEWS

The school children and children from far and near

Are coming in to begin the school year.

Frank Handerson, the popular janitor for banks and school houses, is now pulling "what do you call it?" dog faunal from the school house front door. Frank knows how to entertain.

The old sow, one of George Muller's, got him 10 little pigs in April. He sold four of them August 1st for $40 cash. He fed them only $2.50 grain, the other six sharing it.

C. C. Carter, our stock-buyer, is picking up another carload of mixed stock for Portland this week.

Dr. Masson went down the river to "sample" a lot of stock, 36 mules and 8 horses which had been shipped from California into this state irregularly.

List of premiums for the 6th annual exhibition of the Coos & Curry County Fair Association which will be held at Myrtle Point September 12th, Wednesday, and continue four days, may be had at the Farmers' Store. The officers are W. T. Dement, J. L. Masson, J. O. Stemmler, Don W. Snyder, Wm. Weekly, E. S. Dement, C. M. Shultz. Admission—Wednesday, first day, no charge. Day ticket for adults, 50 cents; for children from 10 to 15 years, 25 cents; children under 10, free. Grand stand for men, 10 cents.

Harry Barklow, son of J. D. Barklow, who has just returned from an automobile hike with his wife over in the valleys—London Springs and other health resorts—reports a fine time but not much health improvement. He was "out" six weeks.

Henry Fessler has moved into his Burr built bungalow—a real up-to-date bung. It is on Sixth between Willow and Cedar streets.

Frank Harnish, of Gravel Ford, generally brings something when he comes to town. This time it is a dead hog for which he took 10c per pound.

Robert Annin and family have gone by auto to Portland and vicinity for a few weeks.

P. W. Laird, late one of the county roads men, will be the man at the window. Hello, Pink! Here's our money. Mr. Laird will be assistant cashier at the Bank of Myrtle Point.

S. S. Duff is the foreman for the company constructing our new high bridge. He comes from the metropolis.

P. W. Hervey and his brother, J. C., are visiting at Lee, the brother having come over from Rockie, Douglas county. The Lee Hervey came here when Coos was a kid.

John Ludberg, is the new cutter in the city market. Pence knew him as a cutter in Marshfield and has wanted him and the customers will like him. "He's a Swede, who came from Norway," etc.

Up in Camp 2, two Myrtle Point boys (they were boys here once) work together "falling." Above them work was being done on a road to a new "landing" in which stumps had to be blasted and as they hold on to the little earth and loose rock with all their claws when an explosion occurs, various sized stones fly in the air and roll down. They had no whistle to give warning to the men below but yelled. The last time "Manly" heard and got behind a tree but Bill didn't and a rock caught him on the shoulder—Bill Diets about "10 days." Manly Arneson a chance to come down and "see the girls."

L. K. and Mrs. Bruce and child are here from Salem enjoying what they are pleased to call our fine climate. We go blackberrying with a bunch in an auto, but we prefer to pick alone when we want berries.

The Myrtle Point hotel is treating itself to a new floor. Patrons wore the present one out—clear seasoned lumber.

Mrs. H. O. Clarke will teach a class in music (piano) at Broadbent beginning Wednesday this week.

Mrs. Henry Plogers' canary bird, Dick, aged 9 years past, had his little toes trimmed August 4th.

Miss Lola Green, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Davidson on their trip to California and back, is not enjoying an attack of diphtheria. California is in all right for dust and some other things.

The small child, two and one-half years old, of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig, now living with Mr. Pence, fell 15 feet striking its head, then off a porch 3 feet to the ground. It had a good head for it is reported by its father as doing finely.

W. W. Endicott, who is in the employ of the S. P. in the repair department as blacksmith which causes him to often "move camp," got near enough the last move to be near home and we'll have a chance to say "Hello Bill."

Miss Golda Teany, of Bandon, is the guest this week of Miss Cleo Barkley, of the Club Cafe.

That man Neiman is not "discounting" the Henry Ford machine but he is decorating the valley with Max-walls. John Warner is the last new customer for "more gasoline."

A. D. Hall, from Idaho, came in a few days ago with his family; he has his rod and gun—license. He will remain with us.

W. C. Cutler and family, with their baggage strapped onto their car just like "anybody" from Oregon, are now in California, not in Shasta valley, but just having a good time.

H. B. Her, of Scio, Oregon, is the new barber in the O. K. Shop, and will also officiate as pastor of the Christian church.

Mrs. E. C. Monse, of Berkeley, an aunt of the Bryant brothers, who has been visiting here for several weeks, has returned to her home.

Rev. Thomas Barklow has conducted 27 funerals since January 1st.

Mr. Maloney, from the city and guest of Al Powers at home and in woods, said to Mr. Powers, "Don't you ever see any deer about here?" In reply Mr. P. said, "There's one." But the other said, "That's a tame one." Mr. P. said, "Put your hand on it." He didn't. Mr. Powers does not regularly keep deer at hand. Mr. M. was pleased with all including what he had to eat.

Items From Arago.

The Ladies Aid chartered the steamer Dora from Fishtrap to Bandon Wednesday. About 60 went, took their dinner and ate it all together on the beach. They had a very nice time.

The funeral of Wm. Albee occurred last Friday at Fishtrap, Rev. Thos. Barlow officiating. Mr. Albee was 63 years of age and had been in this county 35 years. His wife, three daughters and three granddaughters survive him. He was buried in the Fishtrap cemetery above the church.

Constable Cox said there is less business in justice court than in a long time. He has engaged in the poultry business on the side and brought down five hens which brought him $6.—Coos Bay Times.

It is of record that in Populist times in Kansas, Mary Ellen Lease went over the country advising the farmers to raise less corn and more hell. It seems that with prohibition in force in Oregon the constables raise less disturbance and more chickens.

2814 V. R. Wilson, The Watchman.

Eighty-Six Years Old.

July 24 William Culbertson, of Gravel Ford, celebrated his 86th birthday. A family picnic was held in Bennett's grove at which were gathered his sons and daughters, their families, and some of the neighbors. When the Culbertsons, the Hellers and the Brights are rounded up there are some numbers. A few of the grandchildren and great grandchildren were too far away to be present. Mr. Culbertson carries his years easy and does not carry a grudge.

Homer Leep Not Hurt.

After all the stories told about the death of Homer Leep, of Myrtle Point, in an aeroplane accident at New Orleans, it transpired first that he was fatally injured but not yet dead, then that he would recover, next that his wife could find no trace of him at New Orleans, next that he had suffered no such accident, and lastly that he was not a member of the aviation corps.
