It was cloudy here all day yesterday and made a stagger at a sprinkle early in the afternoon—but it was like squeezing a dry sponge. Today it is sunshiny again, but we all realize that the rainy season is near at hand.

The Public Service Commission of Oregon informs us that the application of the Coos and Curry Telephone company for authority to increase and amend certain toll rates, telephone rentals and service charges will be heard at the city hall in Marshfield on Friday, September 14, at 1:30 p. m.

Ben Lawrence came in last Saturday evening from his home in Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit with home folks, and after a two weeks' stay, he and Mrs. Lawrence, who has been here for the past month will start for home. J. S. Lawrence went over to the Bay Saturday afternoon to meet his son.

During the past season, he has sold sixteen Maxwell touring cars and two trucks, the last one to A. V. Bennett, who runs the milk and cream route from McKinley and Dora to Coquille.

We always like to see the home firm win, and that was the case here this week in the bids for typewriter and carbon paper for the county for the coming year. Bids were received from wholesale houses at Portland, Salem, Eugene and Marshfield, but the Knowlton Drug Store beat them all on a low bid of $504.

Gorst & King have been granted a jitney franchise by the North Bend city council. They are to run cars between that city and Marshfield every fifteen minutes with a ten cent fare, of which half a cent will go into the North Bend city treasury. They will also run cars from North Bend to Empire four times a day for 25 cents a trip.

The delegation which is expected to represent Coos county at the Crescent City Interstate road meeting next Monday will probably consist of Judge James Watson, Commissioners G. J. We used to hear about the folly of people who "killed the geese that laid the golden egg. Their breed is not extinct, however. We hear of cases where the owners of chickens are out of town and the eggs are being stolen. This, of course, reduces the H. C. L. for people not over scrupulous; but in one case they have not only stolen the eggs but the feed too!

O. H. Beyers, of Canyonville, Ore., came in with his wife and family in his car Wednesday for a visit with his brother, Assessor Beyers. They usually come over for a visit during the heated term and surprise him, but this time they were surprised themselves when they found the house locked up and no one at home, Mr. and Mrs. Selander being also off for a vacation. What made it still more a complete surprise was that when the visiting lady telephoned to Mr. Beyers at his office that she wanted to get into the house he failed to recognize her voice. Mr. Beyers reports the hottest as well as the driest weather ever, over in the Umpqua valley at the mouth of the Cow Creek canyon.

Fred Slagle Goes to Bay.

Fred Slagle, who has been in business here for a number of years, has decided to forsake the tailoring line, for a time at least, and soon after the first of the month move to Marshfield and associate himself with Geo. Goodrum in selling Dodges, Buicks and other popular makes of cars. He expects to leave his business here if he can find the right man, preferring to retain ownership rather than to sell it.

Mr. and Mrs. Slagle have a host of friends in Coquille and vicinity who regret to see them leave here, but who wish him abundant success in his new line of work. They will be especially missed in social circles.

Wednesday morning the Sentinel had a call from William James and his son-in-law, Walter E. Tanner, of Pittsburg, Kansas. They had bought "unsight and unseen" from the U. S. Department of the Interior, 160 acres of Indian land in the southwest part of this county about ten miles from Bandon, and had come out here to hunt it up. At the court house they could not find it on the tax rolls, but after learning its location they went off down to Bandon to inspect it. Other Indian lands in the same section are for sale September 24, on bids, by the land office at Roseburg, and are appraised at $480 a quarter, or $3 an acre, and are listed on a sheet in this office.

What One Cent Will Buy.

What is the most that may be purchased for a cent? This is the question uppermost in the mind of the average householder as he contemplates the monthly bill and notes that matches, shoestrings, and numerous small articles which used to sell for the lowest bit of American coinage are now placed in the nickel class. Household accessories formerly exhibited on the penny counter are now sold at the "Five and ten," while many goods formerly displayed in the last named stores have been graduated to the department store.

Put to certain uses a penny is indeed a helpless bit of coinage. Yet when a Lincoln penny is applied to the electric light bill it will purchase fully twice as much light, heat and power as a similar amount spent only ten years ago. Fifteen and twenty cents per kilowatt hour were the usual rates but a decade ago, while nowadays the Mazda lamp, the improved electric motor, and the modern electric range make the same amount of electricity go much farther than it used to, while the rate of eight cents per kilowatt for lighting service is now fairly common. Taking eight cents per kilowatt hour as a standard, one cent will purchase enough electricity to:

- Light a 25-watt (23 candle-power) Mazda lamp for 5 hours.
- Make ten cups of coffee in an electric percolator.
- Heat milk in a nursery warmer three times.
- Make 300,000 stitches on an electric sewing machine.
- Heat an electric chafing dish for a quarter of an hour.
- Warm a heating pad for two hours.
- Make ten slices of toast on an electric toaster.
- Heat an electric flatiron for ten minutes.

The draft list has not yet been finished. When it is done it will contain the names of every man registered in Coos county.
