Wimmer's Bad Break.

W. O. Wimmer, who formerly conducted a barber shop in Marshfield, but recently has been a resident of Albany, was arrested near Myrtle creek, Douglas county, one night last week, after the tires of an auto in which he and a woman who gave her name as Carrie Ryan were travelling, had been punctured with buckshot fired by Deputy Sheriff Hopkins. They were charged with transporting liquor into a dry state, and had been arrested for the offense near Ashland, Wednesday, where several suits of booze were taken from the car, but Wimmer threatened the officers with a Winchester rifle and got away. Roseburg officers were notified to look out for them, and after their arrest the additional charge of assault with a deadly weapon was made against Wimmer. In the justice court at Ashland, Saturday, Wimmer and Carrie Ryan pleaded guilty to unlawfully transporting liquor into the state, and were fined $500 each. Wimmer is yet to be tried on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon and the federal officials are wanting to get him on a white-slavery charge.

It Is Up To Carry Now.

In the Good Roads campaign that is now going on along the coast a situation has developed where it seems to be up to Curry county to do something. The California State Highway Commission and the people of Del Norte county promise to come to our southern boundary with a good highway, and on the north the Oregon Highway Commission and the Coos county good road boosters promise to meet us with a like highway. There is assurance that if Curry county will bond herself for $90,000 or $100,000, at least an equal sum can be secured from State or National sources. This amount, together with the $55,000 available from the State, would go a long way in putting a good road through our county especially in view of the fact that the State Highway Commission will make the survey and locate the road exclusive of these sums. There is also assurance to the effect that if Curry county will follow this policy and do all that she can for her roads, and lacks sufficient money to complete them, that funds will be available from outside sources. —Port Orford Tribune.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. T. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

About Shipping Meat.

J. D. Mickle, of the State Dairy and Food Commission, asks us to publish the following warning and advice to farmers who dress and ship their own meats:

"A great amount of this meat is condemned and ordered destroyed because of reaching the market in such a condition that it is unfit for food. This is not only a direct loss to the farmer who ships it, but in such times when we are exercising every effort in the line of food conservation, it is a loss to the consuming public, and we feel a great deal of such loss could be avoided if farmers and butchers would properly prepare their meats taking necessary precaution to see that it reaches the market in the best possible condition.

"Dr. E. E. Chase, Chief Meat Inspector of the City Health Department of Portland, informs me that during the last 16 months there has been condemned 18,426 lbs., of meat that was killed and dressed by farmers, and this condemnation has not on account of a diseased condition of the meat but simply on account of what is termed "Spilled Meat." We feel that if farmers and butchers will observe the following requirements, much of this loss can be eliminated:

"1st—The carcasses of veal and hogs must be entirely free from animal heat before being offered to the transportation company for shipment.

"2nd—All carcasses of veal should have two sticks, one in the thoracic cavity, the other in the abdominal cavity, so as to spread the carcass and hold it apart. In hogs weighing over 200 pounds it would be well to have them split through the hips and shoulders, as hogs sour very quickly during hot weather. Thoroughly wash the inside of the veal with hot water and wipe with a clean cloth until all slime and dampness is thoroughly removed; the sprinkling of cayenne pepper on the inside tends to prevent the work of flies.

"All carcasses, except veal, must be wrapped in a clean cloth before being offered for shipment."

Not in Love with California.

J. S. Middleton returned from his California trip Saturday and will remain in Coos county indefinitely. Mr. Middleton stated Saturday that he found conditions far from good while on his trip south but that he gained enough in the way of health to make up for the other disappointments. While in the south he visited the section of the state north of San Francisco and in every section he found many idle men and general poor conditions. He says that there is little money in circulation there and that the small farmers' crops are nearly a failure owing to the extended drought. Those who planted fruit in recent years call the year a failure while those who went into poultry are compelled to sell of their flocks owing to the high cost of feed and many of them are compelled to hire out at days wages. This makes the supply of laborers far in excess of the demand and lowers wages so none who have to pay board can more than make a bare living. Taken as a whole Mr. Middleton says Coos county conditions are far ahead of any he found in our sister state.

From the Rautoul Camp.

Mrs. McCormick, of Riverton, furnishes us a copy of a letter just received from Orville Boje, a former Coos county boy, who is now in camp with the Tenth Aeroplane Squadron at Rautoul, Illinois. We make the following extracts:

"No one has been killed here yet but if the students don't be careful there will be; five machines have been broken and smashed in four days in landing.

"I had a talk with the Captain and he thinks we will be here for some time. It sure will be fine for we can go fishing and hunting and we are welcome at any farmer's place. People come for miles to see the field, yes, hundreds of miles, and we always get invitations to come and see them.

"Well, I had better get ready for dinner. We get good eats and a dandy place to sleep. I wish I could be home for dinner and get full of those cherries and cherry pie and strawberry cake. If ever I get home I'll never leave, so you had better be glad I'm not there, still if they would give me my preference to stay with U. S. or go back to Oregon before the war ends I certainly would stay, as we have chances here we never would get in civilian life."

Doesn't Want a Change.

It looks as if there will be no road investigation in the county. Failure is due to the reticence on the part of those who complained most to contribute towards defraying the expenses of such an undertaking. In that case it is hoped that there will be less attention paid to vague rumors and unfounded criticisms in the future. In order to get the best results it is necessary that the officials receive the cooperation of the public. Honest criticism, made in the interests of the taxpayers, is welcomed at all times, but that criticism, if made in good faith, should warrant investigation to first arrive at the full facts.—Bandon World.

Trying to Spread Leprosy.

Doubt that there is a well organized propaganda in this country, supported by German money, to spread disease through the country, is dispelled by a letter received here from "Grandma" Rachel Short, of Sparta, Ill., who visited here a year ago, says the Cottage Grove Sentinel. A peddler in that section of country was selling a soap which he recommended as a positive cure for all skin diseases. He sold a large amount of it, one purchaser being a neighbor of "Grandma" Short, who at the time was afflicted with a skin disease. She used the soap, but instead of healing, the eruptions became worse and spread over the entire body. A physician pronounced the malady leprosy, and leprosy germs were found in the soap. The peddler has been arrested and indignation runs high in that section of the country.

Postmaster Hugh McLain went to Portland Monday to appear in the federal investigation of the case against Darwin Wood, in which Mr. Wood is accused of sending obscene letters through the mail. The case was up for hearing before U. S. Commissioner Peck in Marshfield last week, and was turned over to the federal grand jury at Portland.—Times.
