TUBERS TAKE TUMBLE

Price Reduced in Keeping With Other Markets.

THE OBTAINING CONDITIONS

With a Stable Market for All Products of the Ranch, at Prices Fair to the Grower and Buyer, Will Aid Development of the Country.

The price paid for potatoes by the Cottage Grove dealers has this week been reduced from 60 cents to 50 cents per bushel, a price higher than is paid in the Portland market. There seems to be a disposition on the part of local merchants to get prices on a business basis, which must necessarily redound to the advantage of the grower. Under present conditions the price paid in the home market for products of the farm is considerably in excess of those paid in the larger market centers, and consequently the consumption of the commodities is confined wholly within our own borders. The merchant who buys for cash or trade, paying therefor more than going prices elsewhere, is unable to buy beyond the needs of the community because of the fact that he cannot ship to the Portland or other similar markets without sustaining a loss.

The crop of potatoes in this vicinity this year is fully up to the average, and more than is needed for home consumption. Yet, without a just price regulation the tubers must remain in the hands of the grower. The territory surrounding Cottage Grove must become a shipper to other markets. With the rapid development of the country, the time has passed when the demands of the home market are sufficient to take these crops, and hence, as a natural consequence, they must go abroad and bring prices which there obtain. When this condition is fully brought about the agriculturist's business will be placed upon a sound and enduring basis, whereas today, with prices paid him for his products higher than in the outside markets mentioned, his output must of necessity be limited. Prior to the reduction in potatoes Cottage Grove buyers were paying one cent a pound, while the Portland price was three-fourths of a cent, and the latter being practically stationary for this season of the year it would not be surprising to witness a still further reduction here.

Trains Must Stop at Latham.

The railroad commission has been advised by the Oregon Railroad Navigation Company that they have issued instructions to have Latham, a station near this city, made a flag stop for trains 19 and 20 and that the order will go into effect as soon as possible. Some time ago this matter was the cause of a complaint to the commission from the citizens at that station. The complaint was laid before the railroad officials with the result that they readily assented to the request.

Has New Feature.

Companion features of the forthcoming Albany apple fair, October 27, 28, 29, will be a display of chrysanthemums. A great interest is being manifested in this feature, and some of the chrysanthemum fanciers of the Willamette valley are planning to exhibit blooms of a rare quality. Mr. J. Courtney, of Albany, boasts that he already has a bloom developed to the extent of 8 1/4 inches in diameter, and others coming on which he believes will even surpass this.

DEATH OF MISS KEM.

Passes Peacefully Away After Lingering Illness.

Miss Malinda A. Kem, daughter of the Hon. O. H. Kem, and a sister of Mrs. C. M. Shinn, passed peacefully away on Friday night last, after a lingering illness, the cause of demise being tuberculosis. Deceased was a native of Indiana, having first seen the light of day in Warren county, December 7, 1878. At the age of seventeen the family moved to Colorado, after having resided in Illinois and Nebraska, and it was in the former state where her health began to fail. She suffered with nervous complications and pleurisy, from the results of which her lungs became affected. A season was spent in Arizona without avail, and about a year ago she came to this place where her father had become identified with the electric lighting business. Although every human aid was given, Miss Kem continued to fail in health until the end came, as chronicled above. During her residence here she made quite a number of warm friends, and to these her death came as a shock, although expected for days.

The body was taken to Portland on Sunday, and in accordance with her expressed wish, was cremated. In their bereavement the father, and relatives of the deceased have the sympathy of many newly made friends and acquaintances, among whom The Sentinel desires to be numbered.

He Likes Our Style.

The Sentinel has a very encouraging communication from D. W. Bath of Hillsboro, former editor of this paper, in which he says: "You are getting out a crackerjack of a paper and a sure winner. It looks good to an ex-newspaper man, and is a credit to you" and certainly be of great help to the upbuilding of Cottage Grove." Colonel Bath and wife will leave Hillsboro in a few days for a protracted visit in California. He has permanently retired from newspaper work, and will now enjoy the fruits of his long years of labor.

Contest to Be Held Soon.

The annual competition of the Fourth infantry, Oregon National Guards, will be held in Cottage Grove on Thursday, October 28 by Company E, and a team for the contest will be selected by tryouts, the first of which will be held next Sunday morning at the Cochran range. Those who participated in the state contest will be barred from entering.

The regimental trophy contest will be for teams of four men from each company, and the medal contest will be open to eight men from each company, two sighting and ten record shots per man; ranges 200 yards slow, 200, rapid, 500 and 600 yards.

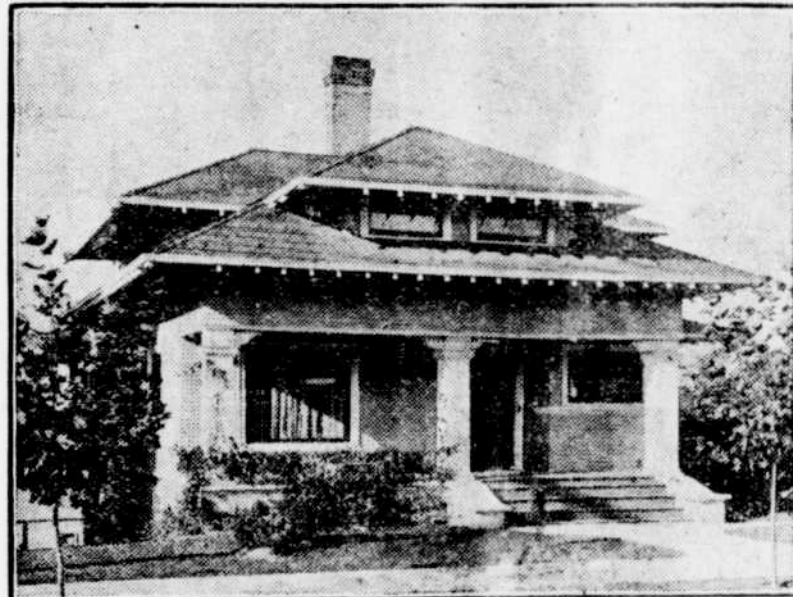

H. C. Cook will move his stock of groceries crockery and shoes to the new Woodward building as soon as it is completed. One block east of the Hotel Oregon.

Simple, Attractive and Homelike.

A Small, Well Proportioned House With Many Novel Features - It Can Be Built For About $5,000.

Designed by Thomas L. West, Seattle, Wash.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW - FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Here is a design for a small house combining simplicity, beauty and homelike appearance. The broad, low and well sheltered front porch with large, square columns, the low overhanging eaves of the main roof and the perfectly proportioned dormers in the second story provide an exterior which is simple and at the same time beautiful. The staircase hall is large, and the main landing is provided with a window seat. An arched opening, having square columns with heavy mission capitals and beams overhead, leads from the hall to the living room. The mission design is carried to the bracket shelf of a corner mantel of red tile in the living room. There is also an arched opening between the living room and the dining room. A pretty feature of the dining room is a deep bay, which has five leaded glass casement windows. This room also has a coffered ceiling and a plate rack. Pantry contains porcelain enameled sink, kneading boards, drawers and locker. The kitchen and pantry are finished natural and the rest of the first floor in stained mission oak. Basement, in concrete, contains furnace, fruit room, fuel room and laundry. Size, 26 by 38 feet. First story 9 feet in height; second story, 8 feet 6 inches; basement, 7 feet 6 inches. Can be built for about $3,000.

THOMAS L. WEST, Architect.

Bales brothers of Dorena, near Cottage Grove, recently refused an offer of $1000 an acre for their apple orchard. Their trees are ten years old for the most part, but did not yield heavily this year, owing to the general off season throughout the entire state. In the Bales brothers' orchard are to be found the following varieties of apples: Jonathan, Baldwin, Rhode Island Greening, Mammoth, Black Twig, King of Tompkins County, Winter Banana, Delicious, Garvenstein, Yellow Transparent, Red Astrachan, Early Harvest, Red June,

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, who live in Crook county, north of Pineville, who have been visiting at Cottage Grove and Eugene since returning from a trip to California, returned home yesterday. They note great changes since they were here 35 years ago. Mr. Hamilton is now a prominent stockman in Crook county, but crossed the plains in 1858. - Eugene Register.
