VALLEY CITIES RAISING FUND FOR RATE FIGHT

ALBANY AND CORVALLIS FIRST TO CONTRIBUTE.

Eugene Turns Proposition Down for Fear of Offending Railroad, 'Tis Said.

A decision to raise a sum of money from the various commercial organizations in the Willamette valley for the purpose of sending a representative to Washington, D. C., to appear before the interstate commerce commission at its next meeting was reached last week when the railroad and transportation committee of the Salem board of trade and Albany Commercial club met with the business men of Corvallis.

At a previous meeting of the interstate commerce commission, towns within a given radius of a terminal point were given the benefit of the terminal rate on all goods shipped by class rates. On the day on which the action taken by the interstate commerce commission was to have gone into effect, the railroad companies placed into effect a new tariff on commodity rates, naming commodity rates on practically everything that is shipped from eastern to western states. This action on the part of the railroads defeated the purpose and intentions of the interstate commerce commission, and the meeting referred to was for the purpose of raising money to try the case before the interstate commerce commission.

About $1,400 has already been subscribed by Salem, Albany and Corvallis while Eugene, Lebanon, McMinnville, Oregon City, Newberg, Independence and other towns have been asked to contribute to raise the amount of funds to $3,500 or $4,000. It is understood that Eugene turned down the proposition for fear of antagonizing the railroads now headed for that city.

There is a possibility that southern Oregon towns, Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass and Roseburg, will contribute also, providing the question of a regulated tariff for points between Portland and San Francisco may be tried before the interstate commerce commission.

Disston Doings.

Jan. 10.—After a week's shut-down for repairs the J. I. Lumber Co.'s mill resumed work this morning and every thing is working nicely.

L. A. Ralston came up from the Grove the first of the week and is now installed as storekeeper in the company's store.

Rev. J. L. Beatty, of Saginaw, held services in the school house on Tuesday evening, a good crowd being in attendance.

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Pete Chalifoux has been in a very critical condition for several days but is now slowly improving.

Chester Vandenburg, yard foreman, returned recently from a short business visit to Eugene and other points.

Deed of Kindness Cause for Joshing.

The birth of a new citizen of this great land of the free and home of the brave on train No. 13 last night and Frank McFarland's kindness in offering to assist in directing said new citizen to a hostelry has caused him to be the butt of a lot of joshes by his friends. The baby was born to a Japanese woman who was going through, but the circumstances mentioned necessitated her getting off the train here and she is now at the Thompson hotel, where it is understood that mother and child are doing nicely.

LIFE TERMER PAYS MORTGAGE

West's First Honor Man Makes Good by Returning to Prison After Liquidation of Debt.

After working on his honor since last summer to pay off the mortgage on the home of his father-in-law, mortgaged to pay for his defense at his trial, William Mack, life term serving for the murder of George Carter, a bartender at Grants Pass, appeared at the door of the penitentiary last week with a pack on his back and stated he was ready to go back to prison and complete his sentence.

Mack was one of the first upon whom Governor West tested his "honor" policy. According to the story the little home in Spokane belonging to the parents of Mack's wife was mortgaged for a few hundreds of dollars and the money sent to Mack for his defence. Last spring, Mack's wife with two small children and with her parents, arrived in Salem, practically destitute. The story came to the ears of Governor West and he told Mack he could work until such time as he had placed the family in decent circumstances and had paid off the mortgage on the home.

At the end of the time the governor told Mack he would expect him to return to the prison on his own volition and complete the sentence. Yesterday the money on the mortgage was paid off, and today, again in prison garb, he will be back at his old prison duties as though time had slipped by in which he had been a free man.

Mack has served since January 21, 1909, except since June 4, last year, when was granted a trusty parole.

The forest service has decided to make a material cut in grazing fees to be charged for the range in national forests during 1912. The new schedules will reduce the rate on sheep 1 to 1 1/2 cents a head, with proportionate reduction on cattle. It is estimated this reduction will reduce the total fees collected next year about $50,000.

CRUISER FREEZES IN THE HILLS

Aged Eugene Man Sought Matches to Build Fire to Save Companion.

Roseburg, Ore., Jan. 8.—Utterly exhausted after tramping for several hours in the snow-covered mountains in the Smith River region, 48 miles east of Gardiner, E. E. Everts, a timber cruiser of this city, died alone while his companion, B. O. McGee, of Eugene, went to a cabin three-quarters of a mile distant to get matches and kindling with which to build a fire to resuscitate Everts. Before leaving Everts, McGee carried him a half mile on his back. Everts was 53 years of age and McGee is 60.

Everts' death occurred on December 31, but it was four days before McGee could make his way to the nearest settlement, Sulphur Springs, and send word to Gardiner. On the following day Coroner Jewett, of this city, was notified and left immediately. He will not reach the body, it is believed, before today. Two of Everts' sons, Jason and Edward, residents of Roseburg, left for Gardiner last night.

State Tax Greater this Year.

The assessed valuation of the property of all public service corporations in Lane county, as fixed by the state tax commission is $3,366,156, and Lane county's share of the state tax this year is $124,679.

The amount of Lane county's state tax this year is a great surprise to county officials. It is two and a half times as great as this county's share of the state expenses last year. No explanation of the great increase has been given. The county court will have to increase the levy accordingly.

As yet it has not been decided what the new levy will be, but it is pretty safe to predict that it will be about 12 mills, as compared with 10 mills last year. The heavy state tax, together with increases in other expenses of the county, will necessitate a slight increase at least.

The total valuation of all property inside the county outside of the public service corporations is $34,144,090, which, added to the assessed valuation of the property of the corporations, makes a total of $37,510,46. With a 12-mill levy the revenue would be $450,122.95.

North Fairview Stockholders Meet.

A special meeting of stockholders of the North Fairview Mining company in Bohemia district was held Tuesday at the office of the company in Eugene, for the purpose of laying plans for the extensive operations of the company's property this spring. Recent development of the company's mines show rich deposits of high grade, free milling ore in quantities sufficient to operate the mill, recently secured, for a period of several years.

The company took over the Crystal mill and properties recently and now, with this addition, it has one of the best equipped properties in the entire Bohemia district.

The West Coast Mining company, whose mines adjoin those of the North Fairview on the east, has been operating its mills almost continually since June 1910, and the output has been good.

Reports emanating from Bohemia are very flattering indeed, and indications point to an era of unusual activity throughout this famous mineral zone during the coming season.

You can judge the kind of job printing a newspaper does by the kind of a paper it prints. The Sentinel is willing to let its paper be an ad. for its job printing.

ROSEBURG HAS GOLD FEVER

Mining Operations Begin in Heart of Residence District of City.

Believing that his land is more valuable for its mineral products than for residence or manufacturing purposes, David Israel Walker, a Roseburg capitalist last week commenced sinking a six-foot shaft in the very heart of North Roseburg. Mr. Walker recently purchased the tract, and soon thereafter announced that he intended to build several residences for rental purposes. Later he abandoned this idea, and, without announcing his intention, obtained the services of two experienced miners.

North Roseburg people were surprised to see a crew of men recently busily engaged in sinking a shaft. Mr. Walker refuses to give out any information relative to his operations further than admitting that he believes he will be able to get gold in paying quantities. With plenty of money at his command, Mr. Walker says development of the mine will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The mouth of the shaft is located in the very heart of North Roseburg's residence district, and abutting property-owners are eagerly awaiting developments. Especially is this true of persons who have come to the conclusion that Mr. Walker found evidence of gold before starting operations.

West Guest of Convicts.

Medford, Ore., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Governor Oswald West ate chicken at "Westville," a state road convict camp, yesterday. About him sat the men whose word of honor he has that they will not break for liberty. The chief executive, as the guest of honor, listened to the personal grievances of the convicts, and after dinner made a speech, in which he thanked the honor men for helping him maintain his prison policy. He was welcomed to the camp by the exploding of sticks of dynamite.

"I am glad to find that all of you have kept your faith with me and that none of you has attempted to get away," said the governor.

"It is freely predicted that at least one or two out of the 27 would break his pledge and even I expected that the temptation would prove too strong for some of you."

Governor West and party made the trip to Derby by the Pacific & Eastern and from there rode horseback to the camp. The snow was over a foot deep and was swept by a biting wind. The cold was intense and the governor was the first to reach the camp stove on his arrival.

Father Avenges Daughter's Dishonor.

Coquille, Ore., Jan. 9.—W. R. Foote shot and instantly killed Charles Wilcox on a street here today. Foote is a retired rancher. He charged Wilcox, who was roadmaster of the local railway, with having improper relations with Foote's young daughter.

Wilcox was a married man and the Foote girl stayed at the Wilcox home for a while, as a companion to Mrs. Wilcox.

Several persons witnessed the shooting. Foote is in jail here. He is about 60 years old and came to Coos county two years ago from Louisiana.

Deposits in Oregon banks total $121,834,644, according to the statement of Superintendent of Banks Wright, just issued. This shows a steady gain in bank deposits over a year ago.
