JOHNSON & CO.

Alphabetical Rock Is Freak of Nature.

A bit of Rogue river rock, found by George Holcomb on a tract of land he purchased from J. H. Cruse, of Medford, lying on the outskirts of Gold Hill, bids fair to be rated as one of the "geological freaks," and to find a last resting place among the famed curios in Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C.

The rock might be designated as an "alphabetical rock," for on its smooth, rounded sides the action of the elements and Rogue river have stenciled with the art of a master stenciler, the letter "D," "N" and "H." The "D" is in the Gothic style and clear cut. People with good eyes assert they can determine the outlines of the entire alphabet, but there is no doubt regarding the three named.

The rock was found on ground that was once the bed of the Rogue river and is clay and sand formation.

Around the rock, which is about two inches long and corresponding in width and diameter are bands, perfectly formed, of grayish color. In one of these bands can be seen a "hell diver," or some species of water fowl, in full flight. The striking feature of the curio is the clearness of the outline of the fowl and the letters.

Another Robbery at Springfield. Springfield, Jan. 2.—Henderson & Co.'s dry goods store was broken into again Sunday night and two outfits of men's clothing were stolen. This time, as in the case of the previous robbery several weeks ago, the burglars left their old clothes in the store.

Entrance to the store was made through a rear window. The goods inside were considerably disarranged as before, and the crime had all the earmarks of the previous one. It is believed here that it is the work of local people who are acquainted with the premises.

A bar of soap evidently used by the burglars was found inside the store. This was perhaps rubbed on the soles of their shoes, so that the blood hounds, if used this time, could not track them.

Sheriff Bown and his deputies are investigating the crime.

Another Governor Against Hanging.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson will not permit any more executions in California during his term, and he is at present planning legislation to abolish the death penalty. Word concerning the governor's aversion to the death penalty has reached San Quentin and Folsom, and it is generally understood that his views have the general support of the wardens of both prisons. It is said Governor Johnson echoes the sentiments of Mrs. Johnson. She has a distinct aversion to capital punishment.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE COMING ELECTIONS

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES REQUIRE 60 SIGNATURES.

Important Data for Coming Battle of Ballots—Precincts Increased.

Republicans seeking to have their names placed on the county ballot for the primary election in April will have to have at least 60 names of registered voters, and at least 17 of the 84 precincts of the county will have to be represented. These are the figures given by the county clerk's office in applying the elections law to this time.

Since the last general election the county court has increased the number of voting precincts in Lane county to 84, and as at least one-fifth of the precincts must be represented on the petitions for nomination, 17 will be required. The number of signatures required is two per cent of the party vote for representative in congress, and as Congressman Hawley received 2975 votes in Lane county, the republican who would seek a county office must have 60 signers.

For the democrats, the same number of precincts will be required, but the number of signers is less, as Smith, the democratic candidate, received but 1898 votes in the county. Two per cent of this gives 38 as the required number of signers.

In the case of precinct and justice district offices, the same ratio of two per cent prevails, but on account of the smallness of the precincts, it will not require over a half dozen signatures in most cases. County Clerk Russell has not yet determined the number of names to be required in the newly organized precincts but the number will not be large.

Following are the different dates to be remembered in connection with the primary and general elections.

Primary election.—

January 2—Opening of registration.

April 3—Last day to file petitions for nomination.

April 9—Last day to register for primary election.

April 19—Primary election (polls open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.)

May 4—Last day for candidates to file statement of expenditures.

Note—All candidates must file their declaration before circulating petitions and all candidates elected must file their acceptance with certificate of nomination.

General election.—

April 24—Opening of registration.

May 15—Close of registration.

June 4—Opening of registration.

October 5—Last day to file local option petitions.

October 5—Last day to file certificate of nomination by political party or assembly.

October 19—Last day to file certificate of nomination by individual electors.

October 20—Last day to register.

November 5—General election (polls open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.)

November 20—Last day for candidates to file statement of expenditures.

Note—All candidates must file their acceptance with certificate of nomination.

Hungry Itinerants at Eugene.

Mrs. W. F. Osburn, of the Osburn hotel, reports that the hostelry is feeding more than its share of hungry mendicants. From six to twelve itinerants report for meals regularly and she has not the heart to turn them away empty handed. Mrs. Osburn makes the proposition that she will furnish five gallons of soup and a quantity of bread daily to help supply a "soup kitchen" if other charitably disposed persons will do their share.

A Register reporter made a tentative canvass of the local situation yesterday and found that those seeking alms, for the most part, were bona fide laborers lured here by the reports of railroad work in progress in the outlying districts. Thus far the supply is away in excess of the demand and the inevitable happens. The men soon exhaust their small stipends and are dependent upon the charitably disposed citizens for sustenance. No home is exempt from their quest for food. Among these itinerants may be found skilled mechanics, thoroughly capable men in their chosen vocations. Few hoboos remain to brave the rigors of Oregon's rainy season. Like the migratory fowl, they seek the warmer climes when the storm clouds betoken winter's turbulent blast. So the majority of hapless strollers within the city's gate are not of the "genus hobo."—Register.

Belt Line Delayed.

Pat Lavey's proposed electric belt line to take in several of the valley towns, including Eugene, Junction City and Creswell, has been postponed on account of the failure of the American Bank & Trust Co. at Portland.

The most complete line of watches, ladies' or gents', in the city. Nothing nicer for a Christmas gift. Call and see them; they go for cost until Christmas at Madsen's.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Cottage Grove People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Cottage Grove. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. E. B. Sherman, west side Cottage Grove, Ore., says: "The statement I gave for publication in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills two years ago still holds good. It would be almost impossible for me to describe how severely I suffered from kidney complaint. The trouble came on gradually, the first symptom being a pain in the left side. I became tired, nervous and languid and as the trouble progressed, I began to suffer from headaches and spells of dizziness. Sometimes my limbs and feet became so badly swollen that I could not wear my shoes. Nothing helped me until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Benson's Drug Store. They removed the pain and lameness and proved of benefit in every way. The contents of five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health and I am now free from kidney trouble."

London.

Jan. 4.—Some rain and a little snow—just enough to remind us it is time for winter.

The revival meetings that have been in progress for the last two weeks have closed. There were many interesting and instructive sermons preached, and a lot of good seed sown.

The next question for debate by the society is "Resolved, That Abraham Lincoln deserves more honor than George Washington."

Grant Tower, of Junction City, who has been taking treatment at Calapooya springs for rheumatism, returned home December 23rd feeling fine.

Mrs. Harmon, son and daughter returned home December 29th. They have been taking treatment for heart trouble and rheumatism. They are very much pleased with Calapooya springs.

The sawmills of this section are not doing much this winter. The Rouse mill saws a board once in awhile, but the Shortridge mill is idle.

Road building is receiving a good deal of attention. The citizens have just voted a special road tax which will raise seventeen hundred dollars, and the county appropriation gives about a thousand dollars more, making twenty-seven hundred dollars, which will put the road in fine shape from Cottage Grove to Calapooya springs.

Mr. Wilson, who has charge of the Calapooya springs, is preparing to raise a big garden to supply his table and the many campers who yearly visit the springs.

Times seem a little dull, still nearly every one seems to be busy.

The Calapooya Springs Co. is shipping lots of water and saline which brings in quite a revenue and helps to keep business moving, and when spring comes a lively business is looked for.

Double Up on Price.

Less than a year ago H. A. Soultis and J. F. Allen traded some Eugene property for 160 acres of timber in the Lorane country. They sold the timber land a few days ago to Frank Leunzman, of Milwaukee, for a little over double what they paid for it.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
JOHN LEGAT, Cottage Grove

The Cedars.

January 4.—School opened Tuesday. During vacation a new sidewalk was built. An organ and clock were also purchased.

Elanid Veatch visited her aunt, Mrs. Hawley, in Creswell this week.

Miss Velva Young, of Corvallis, is visiting Mrs. W. A. Hemenway and other friends.

A number of friends spent Sunday evening at Curtis Veatch's home. The time was passed in conversation, recitation and song. Good old fashioned hot doughnuts with coffee and real cream were served. After watching the old year die, all retired with a wish for a happy new year.

The stockholders of telephone line No. 2 held their annual meeting Tuesday evening at W. A. Hemenway's and elected officers for the ensuing year. Those chosen were: President, G. W. McFarland; secretary and treasurer, W. A. Hemenway; directors, Ed Ashby and Curtis Veatch.

Another Pioneer Gone.

John Applegate passed away at his home in Yoncalla January 2, 1912, at the age of 69.

The deceased appeared in his usual good health throughout the day, partaking quite heartily of the evening meal and doing the evening chores as was his custom. About ten o'clock p. m. Mrs. Applegate retired for the night, and in a few minutes Mr. Applegate followed her, and upon going to bed was immediately stricken with apoplexy and expired without uttering a word, and but for a heavy groan his last struggle might not have been detected. Medical aid was summoned, but nothing could be done.

Mr. Applegate settled in Scotts valley in an early day, and later moved with his family to Yoncalla.

Rural High Schools are Developers.

The rural high schools of Lane county are proving a splendid force in the communities in which they are located. Their influence is not confined by any means to their pupils. As a result of the new stimulus that they bring, literary societies are being organized in which all the residents of the districts take part. Then several of them are coming to be community centers, where libraries are being established. The rural high schools are coming to have an influence on the community that was undreamed of when they were first established.—Eugene Register, 7th.

It Makes a "Difference"
What You Say—
It Makes a "Difference"
How You Say It

Half of the art of advertising is in what you say and how you say it. Of course, no kind of an ad. would sell woolen underclothes to Fiji Islanders at any time of the year, but a poor ad. might even fail to sell them to residents of Medicine Hat when the thermometer is 60 below.

The trick is to say the right thing in the right way at the right time to the right people.

The Sentinel will reach the right people for you at the right time, and we urge all advertisers who wish to do so, to call in our services in the preparation of advertising at any time. We may be able to assist you in preparing the right thing to say and in saying it in the right way. That's one of the things we are here for.
