MISSHOGATE MARCH BRIDE

DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. W. A. HOGATE WED LAST NIGHT.

Glen H. Phelps, of Bladen, Neb., Captures Popular Cottage Grove Maiden.

The marriage of Miss Alma Gertrude Hogate to Glen H. Phelps, of Bladen, Neb., took place last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hogate. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the home. The bridegroom entered first, attended by Chas. Beidler as best man, followed close by the bride attended by Miss Atha Widdersheim. The Lohengren wedding march was played by Mrs. Robert Sutcliffe and the impressive Episcopal ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robt. Sutcliffe in the presence of about 40 guests.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was gowned in crushed strawberry silk poplin and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bridegroom and best man were dressed in conventional black.

At the close of the ceremony Miss Neita Hazleton sang "I Love You Truly."

A dainty three-course dinner was served immediately following the completion of the ceremony by Misses Mae Armstrong and Ada Matthews.

The house was very prettily and tastily decorated, the sitting room with jonquils and fern and the parlor with primroses, hyacinths and fern. In the parlor was also an arch of green and white, under which the ceremony was performed.

The outside guests were Guile Phelps and Miss Emma Phelps, of Elmira, Ore., cousin and aunt of the groom; Louis Riechenrifer of Bellingham, Wash., a boyhood friend of the groom. The happy couple will visit at Eugene and Salem and then leave by way of California for their future home at Bladen, Neb., making many stops by the way. They will be at home after April 15th.

Miss Ethel Eakin was guest of honor at a china shower Saturday afternoon given by the Misses Mabel and Blanche Veatch, assisted by Miss Jennie Smith, at the pretty Veatch home on Fifth street. Each guest was presented with a blank booklet with subjects written on each leaf to be illustrated with pictures clipped from magazines. The subject began with the entrance of the guests into this mundane sphere, continuing up to their first school, first long dress, first beau, proposal, engagement, announcement, honeymoon, etc. Magazines, paste pots and scissors were distributed and the matrimonial contest began. When the booklets were completed they were passed around and read to the amusement of those present. A delicious luncheon was then served at small tables. A pretty buttonaire adorned the place cards and the owners were asked to write a proposal in the back

CHURCH NEWS

Church of Christ.—A special children's service will be held at the Church of Christ next Lord's Day at 7:30 p. m. A large chorus will lead the singing and will render seven special numbers, including two vocal solos, a special number by six girls, a violin solo and choruses. The children have practiced hard for several weeks and an excellent musical program is assured all who come. Sermons for the day: 11 a. m., "Christ's Social Code of Morals;" 7:30 p. m., "The New Testament Church." The public is cordially invited.

Last Sabbath evening in the Methodist church pew after pew was filled with men. At the close of the pastor's address, after the use of the three flags, all the male members of the church gathered around the altar and were joined by three young men who by so doing placed themselves on God's side. The five minute prelude will be a regular feature during the month of March. The coming Lord's Day will be a most interesting one. Public worship at 11 with address by pastor on "God and Company." Reception of members. People's popular service at 7:30 with lecture by Robert Sutcliffe on "The Good-Bye Kiss." Vocal solo by Clarence Morris and selections by large orchestra. Subject of prelude, "The Frequency of Mistaken Identity." Bible school at 9:45 and Epworth League at 6:30, led by M. H. Anderson. The glad hand for all.

Not many people are unpunctual at the Methodist church on Sunday evenings. They gather early to hear the high grade music given by the orchestra. The first number commences at 7:25. Messrs. Wood, Scovell, Morris, Talmadge, Spriggs and Mrs. Robert Sutcliffe make a splendid combination.

The Men's class of the Methodist church is steadily growing in numbers and interest. Two new brothers were welcomed on Sunday. It was decided to call the organization "The Lend-a-Hand Men's class." The members are determined to live up to the title. Librarian Howard has now got the lending library into good running order. Next Lord's Day the topic for study and discussion is "Men and Religion Forward Movement." Each brother will bring a reason why men do not join the church. All present will be counted as charter members and have their names placed on the framed certificate.

of each, a prize to be given for the best proposal. These were read aloud and the judges awarded the prize to Miss Eakin. But the gift was not to be presented until the winner attained the end of a ball of twine that had been strung all over the parlors in every conceivable place, beginning at one end and carefully working to reach the other end where the precious goal was to be obtained. The rest of the guests were watching Ethel's movements with breathless interest and after twisting, turning and winding at last in a dark closet that opened out of an adjoining room, the coveted and well earned prize was secured. It proved to be a huge basket filled with beautiful china, the gifts of Miss Ethel's admiring friends. Each package was carefully opened and the accompanying cards read with delight. The basket contained eight beautiful plates, a pretty tea set, cake plate, sugar bowl, two creamers, and a beautiful pair of pillow cases.

The guests present were: Misses Ethel Eakin, Belle Burkholder, Fern Holcomb, Allie and Flo Phillips, Edith Hastings, Veta Holderman, Hazel Hazelton, Maude Hooper, Lauretta Atkinson, Mabel Rosenberg, Jennie Smith, Mabel Veatch, Blanche Veatch, Mrs. Armand Wynne, Miss Esther Stearns of Eugene and Miss Oglesby.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church served a splendid oyster supper Friday evening in the Woodmen and K. P. hall and it proved to be a most enjoyable occasion. A large crowd was present and one could be served all kinds of dishes from Boston baked beans, salads, etc. to puddings and pie. Misses Veta Holderman, Ethel Eakin, Dale Groves, Jennie Smith, Alice Counts and Ursula Lockwood served the tables. Receipts of the evening, $32.00.

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Robbins entertained the Social Whirl-Around club Thursday evening. The principal amusement of the evening was caused by each person taking a position and seeing how long he could hold it,

MINSTREL BOYS MAKE HIT.

Clever Songs and Real Snappy Jokes Are Well Rendered by Local Talent.

The local troupe under the headline of Alexander's Ragtime Kids held the boards at the Arcade Monday and Tuesday evenings, playing to a crowded house at both performances. Dockstader's Minstrels would appear to travel at a snail's pace compared with that set by the "kids." Burton and Baker were exceptionally strong and their wit and laugh-producing skill kept the audience in a humorous, laughing mood throughout the solid hour of fun. Billy Brund's song "Nobody Knows Where John Brown's Gone" made a big hit and was encored for a return engagement, which brought forth the substitute, "Nobody Knows Where Jack Rice's Gone." (Miss) Parker, the doughnut king, made the Spanish dancing girls look slow with his graceful skirt dance.

The entire company acquitted itself in splendid fashion and grins worn on the faces of those who attended bespoke their approval of an evening's enjoyment.

The members of the company not already mentioned were Lloyd Stratton, Dr. H. H. Owen, Ren Sanford, Selden Powell and Harry Boehmer.

A man never claims to understand woman—a woman always thinks she understands men, until after she marries one.

A girl never talks an arm off of a man when he has that arm engaged in hugging her.

Being married isn't so bad if you don't let it burden your mind too much.

It beats all how a woman can think that a man who will stoop to elope with her is any better than the one she is married to.

S. B. Eakin's Will Probated.

The will of the late Stewart B. Eakin of Eugene was admitted to probate last week and letters of administration were issued to Mrs. Eliza J. Eakin, his widow, who was named as executrix. The estate is stated to be $50,000, of which $10,000 is real estate and $40,000 personal property. His stock in the First National bank of Eugene of which he was vice president at the time of his death, was transferred to his wife before his death, and is not included in the value of the estate.

The bequests are as follows: To his brothers, Robert, Herbert, James and Walter T. Eakin, he gives $1,000 each; to his sister, Jane Paul Hanna, $1,000; to William, George and Walter McQueen, nephews, $250 each; to Katherine McQueen, niece, $500; to his sister, Katherine Campbell, $1,000, held in trust; to Charles, Frank and George Hadley, $250 each. The Central Presbyterian church has its debt to him (supposed to be about $5,000) wiped out and also gets a bequest of the residence property just south of the church as a gift for a parsonage.

More Than 200 Attend Banquet

(Creswell Chronicle.) As anticipated by the Development League, the largest crowd in the history of the organization was present Tuesday night at the best banquet ever given by the League. The Etna opera house was filled and over 200 plates were laid. Every feature of the occasion was all that could have been desired and the event will be remembered as one of the most pleasant public functions ever held here.

SAVES TIME ON THE FARM

The farmer with the Bell Telephone Service at hand doesn't have to travel in rainy weather. The Bell Telephone Service saves him all that. There are always a lot of rainy-day chores about the farm.

Instead of spoiling a day in going to town, the farmer goes to his Bell Telephone and does his business. The time saved can be spent profitably.

That is why he would not think of being without the Bell Telephone Service. It is poor economy to try to get along without it. Consult our local manager.
