REAL MUSICAL TREAT IS COMING

Arcade Management Secures High Class Musical Act For Next Week

Something really novel and unusual in the musical line—something that catches and captivates the audiences the very moment the curtain rises and holds its attention until it drops, is the musical treat in store for Cottage Grove lovers of music.

It is a musical act with a story, "The Venetian Rose," and is full of life and dainty colorings.

The novelty will be put on by "The Musical Irvings" a high class company, which has made a hit in many of the cities of the coast and has been secured by the Arcade management at a high price. The company carries its own large line of special, unique and beautiful scenery.

At the Arcade, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 10, 11, 12.

Popular prices will prevail, 10c and 20c.

In a letter received yesterday Elder Mark Comer gives an interesting account of his trip from Marseilles to Port Said. Some of the party went by train and others by boat. Those who went by boat had a severe attack of seasickness. He says the beautiful blue of the Mediterranean defies description. He reports that four natives of India, highly educated men, are now in the party. The latter expect to come to America next year to complete their education.

Herb Adams is putting in a stock of shoes in connection with the Oregon Woolen Mills Store. The stock is expected to arrive Saturday and will be a large and complete one.

The school supervisory system will be discussed at the meeting of Socialist Local Saturday evening. Members especially request the attendance of all those interested one way or the other in the proposition.

FIRE LADS CALLED OUT SUNDAY

Was Good Exhibition of the Need of Organization.

The fire department was called out Sunday for the first time in six months. Fortunately the conflagration proved to be nothing but a chimney fire at the Helliwell home and was under control before the arrival of the hose carts.

The calling out of the department did some good, however, as it emphasized the need of co-operative work. While there were plenty of volunteers, the lack of a directing head was plainly visible. As an organization has since been effected, things will probably be different hereafter.

LOCAL BALL TOSSERS TO ORGANIZE

Tryout for Places on Team To Be Held Sunday Afternoon.

Plans are being perfected for the organization of a city base ball team, and a tryout will take place Sunday, to which all who claim any ability on the diamond have been invited. Those organizing the team will pick the best players at this time and the team will then proceed to get in shape for the season's work. Challenges will be issued to teams of all the nearby towns. It is claimed that there is plenty of first class material right at home for the organization of a pennant winning aggregation.

DEPARTMENT ORGANIZED

New Fire Organization Starts Out With Thirty-Two Ambitious Members.

A volunteer fire department has again been organized, the organization having been perfected Tuesday night with 32 members after a great amount of labor on the part of those interested. Another meeting to complete the work of organization will be held Monday evening.

A committee of three, one from each division, was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Councilman Knowles was present and assured the members of the good will, support and co-operation of the city council.

united firemen, were the important pieces of business transacted by the city council Monday night.

The proposed sewer extensions can not be made without getting the limit of bonded indebtedness raised and this is the reason for the calling of the special election.

Quite a discussion was caused by the ordinance for the improvement of Weber street. All the councilmen were in favor of a 30-foot street, but voted for the 16-foot roadway because they feared the property owners would not stand for the larger width.

Much Competition for Prizes. Much interest was manifested in the contest put on Saturday by J. F. Spray for prizes for the biggest hen and the heaviest dozen eggs, open to grangers only.

Mrs. S. E. McFarland carried off the prize for the biggest biddie with one weighing eight pounds and two ounces. Frank Sherman brought in one weighing nine pounds eight and a half ounces, but he was not a granger.

Ansel Wood won the egg prize with a dozen weighing thirty-one and a half ounces.

"A Western Girl" Wins Home. A pleasing melodrama by the popular Milburn Kenworthy Stock company, entitled "A Western Girl" played to a crowded house at the Arcade Saturday night. While the play was not of the blood and thunder variety, yet it contained just enough of rough western life to make it realistic and interesting to folks of all ages.
