

TALES OF THE TOWN

MANY MATTERS OF MORE THAN PASSING MOMENT.

Thursday morning the house of Peter Deardoff of Silk Creek caught on fire and would most likely have been burned to the ground had it not been raining. Miss Elsie climbed to the roof, where she received and used with good effect water passed her by those below, thus preventing the progress of the flames until other help arrived.

Churches Will Advertise.

Investigation of the relation between the newspaper and the church, under way by a commission of newspaper men under the direction of the men and religion national congress, will result in the general use of newspaper advertising space by churches. It has been announced by a member of the commission. A press agent, or rather, a director of public policy, it was predicted, would be used by many congregations.

Among the men on the commission are George W. Coleman, Boston; Victor F. Lawson, Chicago Daily News, Chicago; William T. Ellis, Swarthmore, Pa.; J. A. MacDonnell, Toronto Globe; Milton McRae, Detroit; Josephus Daniels, Raleigh News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C.; George B. Dealey, Dallas News, Dallas, Tex.; Edmund W. Booth, Grand Rapids Press, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Halford, New York; Frank W. Ober, New York; William S. Powers, Detroit; and Dr. W. C. Covert, Chicago.

The commission has arranged for one day of the religious congress in New York, April 19-24, to be devoted to publicity.

Bill For Nine Foot Sheets.

Two sheets for every hotel bed, the upper one to be at least nine feet long, is the innovation proposed by Assemblyman Phillips, a member of the New York state legislature.

Phillips provides that the size must be stamped on all sheets; also beds must be made up so that the upper sheet is folded back over the blankets. This law obtains in various western states. The purpose is to isolate bacteria that may lurk in recesses of the quilts.

Assemblyman Whitney went Phillips one better by presenting what he called a "pure mattress bill." A statement reciting materials used must be attached to every mattress offered for sale.

Following this, Phillips countered with another bill making it a crime for hotel keepers not to furnish individual towels to guests.

CHURCH NEWS

Baptist Church.—Services next Sunday: Bible school at 10, regular preaching at 11, Young People's meeting at 7.

Presbyterian Church.—Sunday, April 28th, there will be two more of the usual good services. No attempt for the striking or the peculiar, but wholesome, helpful sermons for everybody with special music. Morning subject at 11, "Standing by the Guns." Evening subject at 8, "Saved by Law."

Church of Christ.—Regular services next Lord's Day morning and evening. Bible school at 9:45 a. m., sermon at 11: "The Bread That Came Down from Heaven." Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:30 p. m. with a study of missions. A live song service begins at 8 o'clock. Special music. Sermon: "Adam and Eve on Trial." The messages in sermon and song throughout the day will lift you if you come. You will be welcomed at all of these services.—V. E. HOVEN.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church will hold an old fashioned box social in Odd Fellow's Hall on Friday evening April 28. The ladies will each bring a lunch for two. All brothers attending will pay a quarter. A choice program given. Proceeds for the benefit of the Sunday school.

The district convention of the Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church was held at Springfield last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Cottage Grove delegates being Mrs. J. H. Chambers, local president, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Orpurd. Mrs. Benson was down on the program delivering an interesting address. Two foreign missionaries were in attendance from India.

The open forum maintained by the Lend-A-Hand class at the Methodist Church is proving most attractive to thinking men. At the close of the debate by Shinn and King on the wisdom of having a marital commission in Oregon to regulate marriages the question was put to vote and a large majority took sides with the former who upheld the affirmative. Next Sabbath morning at 10 the subject for study is "The Ideal Home." Some of the divisions are The Economic Basis, Children and the Family. A debate takes place on the question: Resolved, That the ideal marriage is more nearly reached by those of dissimilar tastes and views. Pervasive, affirmative; Clarence Moss, Negative. The class commences at 10 a. m. in the vestry on the east side of the church.

Not only are the evening congregations at the Methodist Church large but the morning audiences are steadily growing. Close upon two hundred people have been present the past three weeks. People are looking forward with expectancy to the gatherings of next Sabbath. The local Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges will attend a memorial service at 11. Selection by male quartet. Reserved seats provided at the People's Popular service at 8 p. m. for people who were born or have lived in the states of Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas or Nebraska. Which of the four will have the largest representation? Solo by Clarence Moss. Bible school at 9:45 and Epworth League devotional meeting at 7, conducted by Miss Jean Culbertson.

Chicago School Head Coins Words.

Chicago has a manufacturer of improved English all its own. Mrs. Ella Flag Young, superintendent of schools, is the reformer. If her ideas are carried out school pupils soon will be perplexing their parents with remarks about "he'er," "his'er" and "him'er."

Translated into old fashioned English, "he'er" is to take the place of "he or she," "his'er" is to supplant "his or her" and "him'er" is to stand for "him or her."

Mrs. Young boldly announced her advocacy of "reformed English" at a meeting of school principals. The superintendent's subject was "Simplification of the Course of Study," and from the beginning she used the substitute pronouns she has invented.

"We are in need of a personal pronoun, third person, singular number, that will indicate both genders," said Mrs. Young. "Now, most of the personal pronouns of feminine gender end in 'er,' and if we take a masculine pronoun and put 'er' at the end we have it."

Among the sentences used by Mrs. Young containing the "simplified pronouns" was:

"A principal should so conduct his'er school that all pupils are engaged in something that is profitable to him'er, and where the pupil is required to use knowledge in school in accomplishing his'er task."

Mrs. Young urged a general simplification in the course of study in the schools.

How long does it take you to read The Sentinel from front page to last page. Just time yourself some time and then try to think of any other country newspaper in a city the size of Cottage Grove that prints as much live news.

Men With a Price.

What of these candidates who go about Portland asserting that the newspapers are subsidized?

What is inherently in the mind of the man who, because a newspaper supports his opponent, proclaims that the newspaper is bought?

What about the purchasability of the man who thinks all things and all men are purchasable.

What about the salability and buyability of the man who thinks in terms of dollars that makes a newspaper support or not support a candidate?

The inner thoughts of men come to the surface, and when a candidate insists that the opposition to him is bought, it means that he would support, if he could, and that he is himself for sale at proper times and under suitable circumstances.

Speaking for itself, any man who hints, suggests or asserts that the editorial utterances of The Journal are ever bought or ever have been bought or ever will be bought; or any man who hints, suggests or asserts that the editorial utterances of The Journal are ever influenced, ever have been influenced, or ever will be influenced, under its present publisher, by any other issue than high questions of what is right, what is fair and what is true—such a man is a common liar.—Oregon Journal.
