First Gasoline Threshing Outfit Arrives.

A new gasoline threshing outfit was unloaded here Tuesday. The outfit is owned by the McDole Bros. The separator is a 42-inch, all steel, J. I. Case, hand feed with a 24-inch cylinder and a "Farmers' Friend" wind stacker. The engine is a 20-horse power I. H. C. Titan gasoline tractor, and also the first all steel separator in this vicinity. The McDole Bros. have run a Case machine for a number of years, and have made a success of the threshing business, and there is no doubt that they will do good work with the new outfit.

L. P. McCoy, who is a gasoline engineer of several years' experience will run the engine this season.

EDITED BY ANNA OGLESBY

Friends of Mrs. H. H. Somers tried to surprise her Tuesday afternoon, but as the ice cream was delivered a half hour before the guests arrived the hostess surprised the guests by meeting them at the door in her usual sweet manner and in her "best gown." A button contest was held and Mrs. George Kerr won the prize for the quickest work. The most interesting feature of the afternoon was the handkerchief shower. In the room was strung a line and twenty dainty, pretty handkerchiefs were put on with tiny clothes pins. Mrs. Ora Read Hemenway told a thrilling experience she had while a backwoods school teacher. Refreshments of ice cream, wafers, marguerites and mixed fruit punch were served.

The guests made many remarks about the exceptionally neat printed invitations used. The guests were: Mesdames W. A. Hemenway, H. A. Miller, W. B. Cooper, John S. Medley, Geo. Kerr, Chas. Burkholder, Horace Cochran, Van Allison, S. L. Mackin, Helen Silsby, F. L. Ingram, Mary Smith, L. R. Woods, N. P. Shaw, C. A. Harlow, Claude Cruson, B. Lurch, B. Lawson, W. H. Abrams, A. Brund, Elbert Bede, C. D. Brainard, W. T. Hankins, V. S. Goff, Miss Esther Silsby.

The Social Twelve Embroidery Club was delightfully entertained on Thursday at the pretty home of Mrs. N. E. Compton on Tennessee Avenue. A very elaborate cafeteria luncheon was served, the hostess being assisted in serving by Misses Neita Compton and Eleanor Wheeler. The guests of honor were Mesdames B. R. Job, Chas. Adams, Roy Smith, B. S. Swengel.

A pleasant picnic party was that which took the gasoline speeder up the O. & S. E. Sunday and spent the day roaming the woods, picnicking and taking pictures. Those composing the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Armstrong and children, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Swengel, Miss Hooper, Herbert Demore, Ren Sanford, Misses Ada Matthews and Ruby Demore.

CARNIVAL MONEY IS LEFT HERE

The carnival put on last week by the Miller Amusement Co., under the auspices of the Library Board, was a fizzle in point of attendance and receipts, less than $500 being taken in during the three days. The Miller people did not pay expenses and the Library Board realized but a few dollars after paying their expenses.

As an aftermath, considerable adverse comment towards carnivals in general has been made during the past week, and the feeling is so strong against them that it is not likely that any entertainment of the kind will be able to make good here.

The members of the Library Board were surprised at the attacks upon the carnival, as members watched carefully to see that no objectionable features were put on, and Mr. Miller fulfilled his agreement in this regard. So far as reported, nothing out of the way was permitted, there were no smutty or leading stories or remarks and nothing was seen or heard that is not seen or heard at any public theatre or show house. The gentlemen who looked after the interests of the Library Board on the grounds has stated that it was one of the cleanest carnivals from a moral standpoint that he ever had anything to do with and that the young lady performers were well behaved and orderly at all times.

Very few favorable comments were heard for the quality of the performances, with the exception of the free acts, which were above the average, the aerial bicycle act receiving high commendation. The minstrel show, glass blower and Aryana show received some praise.

FOR BETTER WHEAT

To encourage the farmers of the American Northwest to grow better wheat and to attract the attention of the whole country to the fact that the seven northwestern states are the best wheat fields in the world, the Northwest Development League is offering a five thousand dollar prize for the best five bushels grown this year.

Conditions under which this prize will be given are being prepared by Will A. Campbell, secretary of the League with office in Minneapolis, Minn., and they will be sent out free to any farmer or grain grower in the northwest. The prize consists of the Big Four "30" farm tractor; Emerson-Brantingham plows and other machinery, besides which the league will deliver the outfit to the winner without cost.

A. H. Smock, who lives on College Hill, yesterday brought to the Register office a box of exceptionally fine gooseberries. Mr. Smock has 38 gooseberry vines, and he says that last year he canned over a bushel, gave many of the berries to the neighbors, and sold $25.05 worth. He has measured the ground, and finds that his gooseberries last year produced at the rate of $1,000 per acre. The crop this year will be fully as good, he says. He also has an unusually industrious hen. The hen is a White Orpington a year old, and has laid 88 eggs this spring without showing any desire to set. Register.

J. FRANK BURKE TO SPEAK SUNDAY

J. Frank Burke, attorney for the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, and a speaker with a national reputation, will speak in the Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and at the Christian Church at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Burke is an able speaker, and presents his side of the liquor question in a forceful manner.

A recent dispatch sent the Chicago Tribune said: "The Opera House was crowded last night and listened two hours and a quarter to J. F. Burke of Portland. Mr. Burke used every art of the trained orator in presenting his cause, argument, humor and pathos. His success is evidenced by the fact that not a soul left during the entire address."

SUTCLIFFE SCORES CARNIVALS

SAYS THEY ARE DEGRADING AND DEMORALIZING.

Would Rather Have Circus Fifty-Two Sundays in the Year Than a Carnival Three Days of the Year.

on, occupied a conspicuous place near the front. In a friendly way after the service the latter expressed himself as astounded by the remarks made by Mr. Sutcliffe, stating that he attended every show put on by the carnival, for the express purpose of putting a stop to anything that might be put on that could be construed as objectionable, but found nothing that could not be found or seen at any theater or show house, and had not heard a single complaint against the carnival from a moral standpoint.

Mr. Sutcliffe intimated that no good could come from securing books with money secured through a carnival.

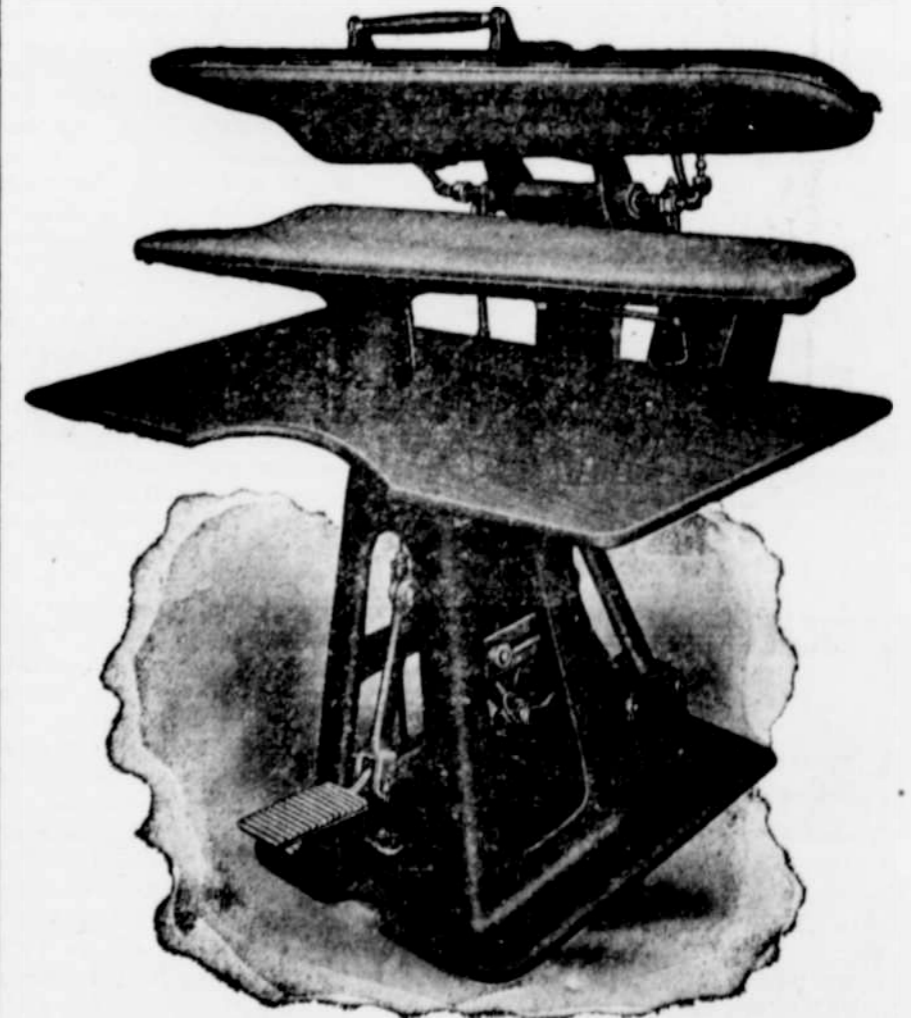

Rev. Sutcliffe served notice that a warfare would be started that would tend to the cleaning up of the city, declaring in no uncertain tones that cigar stores, card rooms and pool rooms must be closed on Sundays and that those running are doing so in violation of state laws. He also stated that the saloon question would soon be up again and those opposed to a wet city must be preparing for the battle.
