GRANGE REPORT APPROVES AG.

Annual Session at Roseburg Told What O. A. C. Is Doing.
"The Agricultural College has advanced in the scope of its work an influence for good in the state at a greater rate during the past year than ever before in its history," says the report of the committee on the Oregon Agricultural College submitted at the annual session of the Oregon State Grange at Roseburg. The report continues:

"It appears to have the exact conception of the function of the state institution of learning—namely, service to the people in their real needs.
"We find that the college has made tremendous gains during the past year in the number of students enrolled. The enrollment this year totals 2,868 students. This is an increase of 680 students over the attendance of last year. In other words, the college gained exactly as many students during the past year as it had in attendance in all of the work in 1905. The detailed registration of the present year is as follows: In the regular 36-weeks courses, 1,292; in the summer school, 1,143; in the regular winter short course, 1,663. Every county in Oregon was represented, and 36 other states and 8 foreign countries sent students to the Oregon school.

"The registration in the various courses is as follows. Agriculture, 1,748; engineering, 310; domestic science and art, 321; commerce, 159; forestry, 38; pharmacy, 55; optional, 21; music, 153; summer school 143. The degrees conferred upon students in June 1911 are as follows: bachelor of science, in agriculture, 23; in domestic science and art, 14; in forestry, 5; in civil engineering, 18; in electrical engineering, 10; in mechanical engineering, 16; in mining engineering, 9; in commerce, 21; in pharmacy, 8; total 124; master of science in agriculture, 3; in pharmacy, 1; total 4; diploma granted in school of music, 1; grand total, 129.

"The faculty has been increased and strengthened to meet the increasing demands of the institution. The most competent instructors are being secured and brought to the agricultural college. The faculty at the present time numbers 102, inclusive of the school of music, who depend upon fees received from the students of music for their compensation. Of the number there are 29 professors, 2 associate professors, 10 assistant professors, 55 instructors and 6 laboratory assistants.

"The value of the college plant has been increased during the past year by the construction of 5 splendid buildings and the sixth is now being built. These are the horticultural wing of the agricultural building; the dairy building, the stock judging pavilion, the farm mechanics building, and the foundry and machine shops building. The college now has 340 acres of land valued at $648,481, equipment valued at $632,401, making a total valuation of $1,271,242.

"A fund established by the sale of lands under the Congressional Act of 1862 amounts to about $200,000. This added to the above makes the total value of the college plant and endowment $1,471,242.
"The demands upon the college for trained men and women are increasing in greater proportion than the college is being equipped to turn them out. The greatest demand is made upon the school of agriculture. Besides the calls which come to the college from the farms, orchards, dairies and poultry establishments there is a tremendous demand from the government at Washington, from other technical colleges, and there is now a demand from the public schools for teachers in the technical work.

"The college feels the great importance of equipping men and women to go into the public schools of the state to teach agriculture, domestic science and art, and mechanic arts. There is a growing feeling throughout the state, fostered by the agricultural college and the government at Washington, and the leading men and women of the state, for the introduction of this line of work in public schools. The demand for teachers for this work will increase almost indefinitely within the next few years. The greatest demand now being made upon the college is a demand for more extension work. This is, greater service to the people of the state who are unable to come to the institution for the regular residence work.

H. H. Schmitt Gets Valuable Patent.
Herman H. Schmitt, the Creswell liveryman, has recently obtained a patent on a mounting for a double bearing spindle to be attached to vehicles and automobiles.
Having had considerable experience with autos and vehicles over Lane County roads and being located in the central part of this great fruit belt of the Willamette Valley, Mr. Schmitt readily conceived the idea of an improvement to eliminate the jolts that one gets in passing over the roads and also for more easy and safe handling of the fruit that is grown and shipped from this district.
This improvement will mean a great thing for this part of the country, and will be greatly welcomed by fruit growers and automobilists of Oregon, as well as the entire country.

Mr. Schmitt will be pleased to show his improvement to all interested, and states that he is confident that the expense items attached to maintaining an auto or vehicle will be greatly reduced.—Register.

Contracts Berry Crop for 10 Years.

S. H. Brown, who resides near Corvallis, is planning one of the largest individual loganberry patches in the United States. He now has 16 acres and this fall will set out an 80-acre patch. Every berry he produces will be shipped to the Oregon Packing Company at Portland, his contract running to 1920. The exact figure to be paid for the berries is stated in the contract, but Mr. Brown, complying with the wishes of the company, will not make the price public.

To those not acquainted with berry culture, a few facts concerning the amount of work required to harvest the crop may prove of interest. Eight pickers are required for each acre of berries, or total of 768 pickers for the 96 acres which Mr. Brown will eventually own. The bushes set out this fall will start bearing in June, 1914.

"I feel highly gratified at the start I have made in closing such a long contract for my entire output. The price is satisfactory and I have no hesitancy in getting into the business on a large scale. Only recently, I understand one Chicago firm tried to contract for 100,000 pounds of dried loganberries, but they found the Willamette Valley crop was contracted for in advance. In other words, every berry to be produced in Oregon this year has been sold in advance. This speaks pretty well for the growing demand for berries, and especially for loganberries. Within a radius of six miles of Gervais there are about 150 acres set out to loganberries, and it is my belief that within a few years more than 1,000 acres will be in bearing bushes."

Lorane Students Plan Play.

The Lorane Literary League, an organization of Union High School No. 2, will present a comedy entitled, "From Pumpkin Ridge," at the grange hall, Lorane, Friday evening. The stage has been built over and enlarged and preparations have been made for a large crowd. The league has procured an accomplished critic and if their hard work counts for anything, this play should surpass all home-talent productions heretofore presented. The proceeds will go towards paying for the high school library.

"DORA THORNE"

A Clever Company to Present a Dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's Most Famous Novel.

It will be remembered the popular Wilbur Company presented a short time ago in this city several very clever plays and gave satisfaction to all who had the pleasure of witnessing their clever work. They are now returning with a larger and stronger production entitled "Dora Thorne."
Miss Dorothy Douglas, to whom the leading part, "Dora Thorne," is intrusted, gives an exceptionally clever conception of the part. Mr. Billy Quin, in the role of Ronald Earle, plays his part in a way that is long remembered in the hearts of local theatergoers. Geo. H. Johnson, as Hugh Fernley, the jilted lover, does a very clever bit of acting throughout the piece. Clarence Love, as Stephen Thorne, the father, Marshall W. Zeno, as Lord Rupert Earle, Nathaniel Holmes, as Barney McEarle, Richard Wilbur, as Dick Darce, Peggy Dunbar, as Letty Earle and Gay West as Lady Chartiers (Valentine) perform the parts well.

In all the cast is composed of nine of the best people that can be secured and will give a performance that will long be remembered.
Don't forget the date, Monday evening, June 3, 1912. The place, Arcade Theatre. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c. Tickets now on sale at Bon Ton.

Boards of Inquiry for S. P.
Boards of inquiry will hereafter be convened to ascertain the cause and fix the responsibility, where such immediate cause is not clearly manifest, for all accidents on the Southern Pacific, according to information made public in the general offices of the Southern Pacific recently. Full publicity as to the findings of such inquiry boards will also be given.
This is a new move on the part of the Southern Pacific and is in line with its policy of full publicity for accidents adopted several years ago. Following an accident that is not of minor consequence the ranking official on the division on which the accident occurs, shall convene the board, which board shall comprise two disinterested persons not connected with the railroad, and the division officers representing the operating, mechanical and engineering departments. The board must visit the scene of the accident and must take the testimony of employes and eye-witnesses, persisting in the investigation until the causes are determined. Should a division board of inquiry fail to reach a conclusion a second board comprising higher officials shall be convened and if the findings of the second board be not conclusive the general manager will convene a third board.
The instructions to officers who shall convene inquiry boards state specifically that the responsibility must be fixed regardless of individuals or interests affected. The findings must be turned over to the general manager and from the lantern's office to the press. Prominent business men from the neighborhood in which an accident may occur usually sit as members of such boards and of several inquiries already the findings of these boards have all been unanimous.
