Eugene Register.—There will be a splendid crop of winter apples this year—in fact, the best we ever had. As the fruit men have been somewhat disappointed in the prunes and cherries, it stands them in hand to take proper care of their apples. They should be effectually sprayed several times yet for the codlin moths with the arsenate of lead solution. Wormy apples are a death blow to fruit reputations and bring in no money. If you want to have good fruit, don't grow "weary in well doing," but spray, spray, spray.

MORE BITULITHIC AT ALBANY

Albany, June 19.—The contract for paving First Street with bitulithic has been awarded to the Warren Construction Company.

This award was made after the committee appointed for that purpose and a number of interested property owners had made a thorough examination of the various kinds of paving in use throughout the Northwest. They found bitulithic in more general use than any other paving, and found it eminently satisfactory wherever used; perfectly surviving every test of wear and of climatic conditions and proving the most economical of all pavings because of the fact that it will support the heaviest traffic for years without repairs.
