LOCAL STUDENT IS HONORED

ON CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE FOR U. STUDENT BODY

Laws Have Gotten Into Such a Tangle That an Entirely New Document Is Thought Easiest Solution.

Carlton Spencer of this city, President of the U. of O. Student Body, who is working in the correspondence department of the University this summer, has been honored by being placed at the head of the committee having in charge the framing of a new constitution for the Student Body. Mr. Spencer has written to most of the state universities of the country for student body constitutions for the purpose of gathering data for the re-organization of the body.

Among the features of the new constitution that is being drawn up for presentation to the student body for adoption next fall will probably appear a proposal to the faculty for a student court endowed with full powers and responsibility in preserving discipline among the students.

On account of the installation of the graduate manager and graduate coach system at the University and many minor changes in the organization of the student body, the present constitution has become such a tangle that it has been decided that it would be better to draw up an entirely new one. Besides Carlton Spencer, who hails from Cottage Grove, Deane Walker from Independence, J. C. Cecil of Burns, Carl Martelloff of Portland and Thad Wenthrop of Milwaukee compose the committee which has charge of the important piece of proposed student legislation.

GIRLS' HARROWING EXPERIENCE

Dog Gets Away With Shoes; Goats Digest Clothing.

The Misses Mabelle Wilson and Mabelle Greenwood certainly had some experience on their recent visit with Miss Lucy Burgess at Rose Brier Lodge, if all the stories they tell are true. They took to the open air for their nocturnal slumbers, and between having their shoes carried off by the dog and some of their clothing digested by itinerant goats browsing around for tempting dainties at midnight's unholy hour, they pretty nearly had to have their wardrobes replenished before appearing in society again. One morning they were awakened by the report of a gun. Thinking a man must be around, they made their toilet hurriedly and prepared to greet him with rapturous ecstacy, but it was only Miss Burgess out practicing on a mountain goat she was chasing over the cliffs and crags.

Baker Making Record.

Ray Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker of this city, is making a record in eastern base ball circles. He is now with the Knoxville aggregation, which he says is "some" team. They won the first six games in which he played. Baker pitched the first one, a 1 to 0 game.

Is Heavily Laden With Cherries.

J. H. Shortridge was in this week to exhibit a branch of a Black Duke cherry tree, which was loaded so heavy with fruit that the branch was barely visible. Uncle Jim says the tree produced this year at least 23 gallons of as fine cherries as could be found anywhere.

One Pound Baby Girl Survives but 3 Days

Mother Compelled to Stop at Grove; Gives Birth to Tiny Tot

A one-pound baby girl was born here Wednesday of last week, died Saturday and was buried Monday. The mother is Mrs. Lena Huffard of Whitmore, Calif., who was traveling through the city in company with her aunt and was compelled to stop on account of a slight illness. The birth a few days afterwards was a surprise, as the little stranger had not been expected for several months longer. Being so premature the child was not strong enough to make a successful struggle for life, and survived but three days. The mother is recuperating nicely. The father, who is a traveling man, is expected here in a day or so.

Advertising pays—in The Sentinel...

Knew What Price Ad. Stated

A farmer came into a local store Saturday to buy a union suit that he had seen advertised. The clerk who waited on him had forgotten for the moment the sale price and quoted a price a few cents higher than the one advertised. He had his attention immediately called to the mistake, but was not convinced until the customer referred him to his ad. in The Sentinel. The farmer knew what the ad. said and the treats were on the clerk. Folks will read ads.

HORSE THROWS BOY

Twelve-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Senter Is Somewhat Bruised Up.

The result of being thrown from his horse that had shied at a piece of paper, 12-year-old Otto Senter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Senter, suffered several severe bruises Saturday, the most serious being a gash on the forehead, which required three stitches. This wound was caused by a sharp rock. The boy's back and shoulders were also bruised and there were several minor scratches on the face.

An Interesting Case.

A complaint was filed this week which has as its title The State of Oregon on the Relation of F. W. Casey, F. Bassoville, D. M. Kemp, Tom Wolf and J. C. Beck vs. O. W. Hurd, M. M. Melvin, Lillian M. Hurd, Amasa F. Hurd and W. R. Hollenbeck. Plaintiffs claim that defendants are guilty of usurping, intruding into and unlawfully claims to hold office as directors of the Hurd Lumber and Navigation company when the relators claim to be entitled to hold such office and act for said company.

Associated with C. A. Hardy in the case is Edwin R. Bryson, district attorney, who represents the state. The case promises to be one of unusual interest.

Back to Old Method.

A curiosity during the past week has been to see a number of people cutting grain with a cradle. One rancher has even been using the old time grain sickle. Of course this method of harvesting has only been used on some of the small patches where it could be done better and handier by this method than with a binder.

Creamery for Yoncalla.

E. J. Moore of Creswell has made a couple of visits to Yoncalla recently for the purpose of working up interest in a creamery at that point. He states that he is receiving considerable encouragement.

GRANGE ASKS SPACE

Will Keep Cottage Grove Country Before Visitors at District Fair This Fall.

Cottage Grove Grange will keep the Cottage Grove country before visitors at the District Fair this fall. This wide-awake grange has applied for space in the pavilion for exhibiting agricultural and horticultural products raised by its members.

Cottage Grove can and does produce the best there is in agriculture. All there is to do is to tell about it and show it. That is what fairs are for.

M. M. Wheeler, a member of the Grange, says "Ever more and Better," so everyone can expect the display from Cottage Grove at the District Fair to be a hummer.

The dates of the fair are September 11 to 14th, inclusive.

Exhibits Travel Free.

Word has been sent out by Superintendent L. R. Alderman that the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric lines have agreed to transport free to the State Fair and return all children's exhibits, providing they are shipped in accordance with rules prescribed by the carriers.

Creswell Will Have Festival Aug. 30

The committee in charge of the Creswell school and agricultural fair met Friday afternoon and decided to hold the same Friday, August 30. The picnic and festival will be held the same day and in conjunction with the fair.

What do you want, anyway? A Sentinel want ad. will get it for you.

Sheriff Bown Out of Danger.

Sheriff Harry L. Bown, recently injured in an automobile accident, is now out of danger, according to attending physicians. It is said he will be out of danger in ten days.

LIFE SAVED BY FOOT OF WATER WHEN MAN FALLS

BERT RICHMOND NARROWLY ESCAPES INSTANT DEATH

Knocked Unconscious by Falling Timber He Tumbles Twenty-Seven Feet to Bed of Row River.

Owing his life to the fact that he fell into about 12 inches of water instead of onto the sharp rocks a foot or so away, when he was knocked off the Wildwood bridge Saturday forenoon, Bert Richmond has been in a serious condition at his home here this week, but his complete recovery is now certain. He is on his feet again.

Richmond was assisting in tearing down some false work, when a timber fell from above and hit him on the head, rendering him unconscious. He then tumbled off the bridge to the river bed 27 feet below. His head and shoulders fell into about a foot of water, partially breaking the fall but not sufficient to prevent the sharp rocks from inflicting painful bruises. Thinking him dead his fellow workmen hurried him to this city. He regained partial consciousness on the way here and a medical examination revealed no internal injuries. The gash on the head caused by the falling timber was the only open wound.

It is thought that the fact that Richmond had been knocked unconscious before he fell, his body therefore being limp, saved him from more serious injury when he fell onto the rocks.

This is the second time Mr. Richmond has met with injury within the past few months.

Mr. Richmond usually works as book-keeper in the office of the railway and had been working outside but four days when the accident happened.

Willamette Grown Radishes

Vegetables on Maple Dell Ranch in Delight Valley Grow With Great Persistency and Unusual Vigor

As fertile a piece of ground as can be found anywhere in the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette Valley is that of the J. L. Beatty Maple Dell ranch located a mile and half north-east of this city, in Delight Valley. The accompanying photograph gives might have recalled to mind the nursery legend of Jack and the Beanstalk.

Mr. Beatty is developing an orchard of considerable promise. He has 700 fruit trees, 10 acres being Yellow Newtown Pippins. The balance are some idea of how vegetables grow. The picture shows a row of Icylee radishes, some of which are 12 inches in length and still edible. The vacant spot shows where a few were pulled before Mr. Beatty thought of having the picture taken. Some of those pulled weighed as much as a pound and a half. All of Mr. Beatty's vegetables grow in the same proportion.

Saturday he brought in some turnips which were 12 inches in circumference. There is no telling how large they might have gotten if left to grow the season out. In the original picture before the sky line was trimmed off the radish tops towered above the peaks of the mountains in the distance and pears, cherries and other varieties of apples, with the exception of one almond tree. The latter has already been trimmed for fruit. All the trees are four years of age and will soon be yielding bountifully of their fruit.

In the way of grain, Mr. Beatty has 10 acres of wheat that is now shoulder high and will probably go 50 bushels to the acre and 30 acres of oats that will provide a large quantity of provender for his live stock.

Mr. Beatty's place, which consists of 107 acres, is a part of the old John Bower donation claim, better known as the Dillard ranch and adjoins the Harding ranch on the West.

O. & S. E. RY. MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

A crew is busy in the yards of the Oregon & Southeastern Railway leveling up the grade and putting in new scales. A raise of several inches is necessary in several places to bring the grade up to the level. The new scales will be located a few feet east of the old ones.

Divorce Granted.

In the case of Lutellus L. Woods against Ethel Veatch Woods, heard before Judge Galloway at Salem this week, divorce was granted to the defendant, who will resume her maiden name of Ethel Veatch. All of Monday afternoon was consumed in taking the testimony. There are no children.

New Partner in Metsan Shop.

A change in the Metsan Shop takes place today with the addition of Merle Scovell as a partner in the business. Mr. Metcalf will hereafter devote his entire energy to looking after the greenhouses run in connection with the other business.

Mr. Scovell has been with Lurch's for some time and has become well known in the business circles of the city.

E. C. POWELL BUYS OUT W. B. COOPER

W. B. Cooper has sold his interest in Powell & Cooper to E. C. Powell. The members of the firm are now A. S. and E. C. Powell. The name of the firm has been changed to Powell & Co. The change was made last week. E. C. Powell is the wife of A. S. Powell.

Spend Sunday at London.

Among Cottage Grove people who spent Sunday at London Springs were Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Swengel and their guests, Mrs. C. B. Crawley and daughters Gladys and Virginia of Little Rock, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Henry Landess, Mrs. A. W. Kime, Misses Alice Counts, Hattie Landess, Orpha Snodgrass, Ruby Ferguson, Winnie Landess, Jennie Landess, Mamie Kime, Daisy Hawkins, Clara Groom, Messrs. Frank Knox, Joe Arnold, Wm. Landess, Jr., Roe Kennedy, Carl Malaby, Chas. Durham, J. W. Grant.

Unusual Rain.

An unexpected shower surprised Cottage Grove citizens Tuesday night. The downfall was accompanied by several peals of thunder, which fact was curious enough to dispel sleep. Yesterday was drizzly all day.

Six-Foot Alfalfa Is Ad. for Valley

J. L. Beatty was in from his Maple Dell farm the first of the week exhibiting a sheaf of alfalfa hay that measured exactly six feet. Mr. Beatty cut his hay some time ago, but some was mixed in with the oats and this is where he secured the sheaf he was exhibiting. A stalk of timothy in the bundle measured 6½ feet.

Tooth Knocked Out.

Bert McKibben, employed in the Chamber's mill at Latham, was hit by a lever of the carriage just as he started to work Monday morning and one of his teeth was broken off, making it necessary for him to see a physician and lay off for a day.

CAUGHT BY PULLEY

Saw Mill Foreman Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury in Accident Yesterday.

Mark Garoutte, foreman of the Brown Lumber Co.'s mill, has a couple of broken bones in his right hand and narrowly escaped more serious injury in an accident at the mill at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Garoutte was attempting to put a belt on a pulley, when his hand suddenly caught between the belt and pulley and he was thrown about twelve feet against a lumber pile. Two bones were broken in the hand just below the wrist, the hand above the wrist was bruised and his body was bruised by being thrown against the lumber. That he escaped more serious injury was remarkable.

Mr. Garoutte narrowly escaped death a few days before when he was jerked out of the way of a log bearing down on him. His hat was caught under the log.

Exhibiting Cherries.

There is an exhibition in the show window of the Eaton Art and Book Store at Eugene a box of Lambert cherries grown by George A. Dorris on his farm above Springfield and packed by J. Lawson, the fruit dealer. The cherries will be left in the window for several days just to show how long they will keep. A Royal Anne or almost any other variety would not keep in such a place more than a day or so. This is to demonstrate that the Lamberts are the cherries to ship to the east. In a cool place they will keep a week or ten days. The cherries have attracted a great deal of attention on account of their size. Many people ask if they are plums.

Bitten by Spider.

Mrs. B. S. Swengel is suffering from a peculiar and seldom heard of injury. Her face has been bitten in two places by a spider and the affected parts are badly swollen.

ROSEBURG DEFEATED

Cottage Grove Wins 8 to 5 Game—Morris Twirls Good Ball for Locals.

In a fairly well played game at Roseburg Sunday the local team did up the team of that city by a score of 8 to 5.

The battery for the locals was Morris and Glass. Morris did some good twirling, but the support in the outfield was ragged at critical moments. The local team will play Lorane next Sunday on the latter's grounds.

Man Starving in Woods Has $250 Bank Deposit.

John Hensley, more than 50 years of age, was discovered by some small boys in the woods near Coquille in an almost starved condition. When found he had two bottles of water by his side and was so weak he could hardly stand. He was rushed to the hospital in a critical condition from exposure and starvation but is now out of danger and was induced to talk. He said for over a week all the sustenance he had had was water. A woman had given him some food in a bag but he was so weak he could not eat it.

Investigation of his room at the Vendome hotel disclosed a suitcase full of clothes and other paraphernalia which gave evidence of his being above the hobo class. A bank book was also found which showed a deposit of almost $250 in the Kalispell Valley Bank of Usk, Wash.

Another Quick Delivery.

Cottage Grove Manufacturing Co. reports a quick delivery of merchandise from Portland. An order telegraphed at 4 p. m. arrive at noon the next day. Cottage Grove isn't so far from the metropolis.

MOOTED QUESTION IS ANSWERED

ADVERTISING VALUE PROVEN BEYOND DOUBT

Local Store Tests Sentinel Advertising and Does Biggest Business in the History of the Store.

People will read the ads. when advertisers put in them what people wish to read. That fact was ably demonstrated last week, and the much-mooted question, "Does advertising pay?" was satisfactorily answered, at least as far as Sentinel advertising is concerned.

Umprey & Mackin decided last week to make a test and put on a sale for Saturday. A window display was made the day before the sale, but other publicity was given except in the wise columns of The Sentinel. Saturday turned out to be the biggest day in the history of the store. The moral is obvious.

Deer Season Opens.

The open season for venison opens today and several minnows figur on satisfying the hunger for wild meat that has been developing for several months. Deer are said to be more plentiful than for some years past.

Horse Steps on Toe.

C. M. Jackson is limping a little this week. A horse stepped on one of his toes a few days ago and bruised it up severely.

WILLAMETTE PIONEER IS BURIED

Funeral of Mrs. C. H. Winecoff Is Held Here Saturday.

The funeral of Mrs. C. H. Winecoff, whose death was reported in The Sentinel last week, was held here Saturday under the auspices of Cottage Grove Grange, of which she was a member. Interment was made in the Taylor cemetery.

Death occurred at Eugene last Thursday at the age of 68. The cause of death was a complication of diseases. Seven physicians were attending her. She had had an attack of pneumonia in 1910 from which she had never fully recovered. Mrs. Winecoff was Miss Kate Mosholder, daughter of Ely and Isabella Ferrell Mosholder. She was born April 22, 1844, at Berlin, Somerset County, Pa., where she spent her early life. In the fall of 1878 she went to San Francisco, Calif., where she became the wife of Chas. H. Winecoff. The young couple sailed 10 days later on the steamer Oregon to Portland, going from there direct to Roseburg. They lived in Douglas county for a number of years, coming north to Lane county in 1885, settling near Cottage Grove. In the fall of 1910 they settled on the place that is now the family home. Besides her husband, Mrs. Winecoff leaves three children as follows: Mrs. Mary Garoutte and Mrs. Emma Kelly, both of Cottage Grove, and Miss Jessie Winecoff, besides several brothers and sisters in the east. Mrs. Winecoff was a faithful member of the Lutheran church.

Brave Engineer Saves Life of Blue-Eyed Tot

Climbs to Running Board and Snatches Tot from Sure Death.

To the bravery and daring of Engineer Warren Burt of Yoncalla, who climbed onto the pilot of his engine and grabbed the tot from its perilous position in the road of the engine, the section foreman and wife of Merlin owe the life of their three-year-old baby.

As Burt's train was running at a rate of 15 miles an hour, about one quarter of a mile the other side of Merlin, Burt espied less than 300 yards ahead the little flaxen haired girl playing in the center of the track. Fireman Ward tried to warn by whistle and bell, but the child in its innocence and trust, heeded not. In a second Burt decided.

Applying the emergency brake, Burt dashed out through the front cab window, made his way rapidly along the running board and leaped down on the pilot, where he stepped to the foot-board and reaching far out with one arm grasped and lifted the child out of harm's way. In another minute, without the train having come to a full stop, he deposited the tiny miss safely opposite the home of her terror-stricken parents, who had watched breathlessly and helplessly the near tragedy and heroic rescue.
