

A CONFIRMED STATEMENT.

Evidence Cottage Grove Readers Will Appreciate.

Doan's Kidney Pills have done splendid work in this locality. Have merited the unstinted praise they have received.

Here's evidence of their value that none can doubt.

It's testimony from this locality, twice-told and well confirmed.

Such endorsements are unique in the annals of medicine.

Should convince the most skeptical Cottage Grove reader.

L. Mathews, 813 Short St., Roseburg, Ore., says: "I'm glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. For several years I was troubled by backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint and all my efforts for relief were unavailing until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. An injury was the cause of the trouble. Being favorably impressed by several public statements given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and commenced their use. This remedy strengthened my kidneys and toned up my entire system. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy to be had for the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

OUT INTO THE WORLD

Graduates of O. A. C. Have Appointments to Many Positions of Importance Now.

Many of the young men and women who were graduated from the Oregon Agricultural College this June have been given appointments already to positions of importance and trust in a wide field of occupation. The demand for those prepared for instructional work has been larger, but there have also been many positions opened to those wishing to engage in business, horticultural work or general farming.

Of the members of the 1912 class in commerce, seven have planned their year's work as follows. Walter E. Morris of Punxsutawney, Pa., has been engaged as a teacher of commercial subjects at Marshfield, and Ried C. Cochrane of Corvallis will fill a similar position in the Salem High School. A. V. Swarthout of Pinckney, Mich., at present engaged in the business office at the college, will enter the service of the Whitfield Co., public accountants in Portland. C. D. Lafferty, Corvallis, is in the employ of the Southern Pacific Co. at that place. H. M. Roberts, Eugene, has been given a position with a bank, and R. E. Stoneburg, Coburg, will engage in general farming near that city. S. O. McFadden, Corvallis, will continue his studies at Harvard University.

Fruit ranching will engage the majority of the graduates from the division of horticulture. Four are on the Cold Stream estate in British Columbia, Knight Peary of Portland, Mark G. Lafky of Salem, John D. Griffin of Astoria and L. L. Palmer, Central Point, are all foremen of various lines of work there, Mr. Palmer being in charge of the control of blight. Mr. Peary expects ultimately to engage in prune growing in the Willamette Valley. Jay P. Green of Twin Falls, Idaho, has returned to take charge of his father's ranch there, and Glover Carrol of Portland is managing his father's orchards in the Rogue River Valley. S. H. Boddinhouse of Wilmette, Ill., is in horticultural work in the White Salmon district, and Robert A. Cook of Ontario is in the fruit growing business in eastern Oregon. Frank H. Boulton of Portland has undertaken general farming near Sheridan. Gordon G. Brown of Corvallis expects to go into the prune and cherry business in the Willamette Valley and Vane Gibson of Jameston Ind., will also engage in horticultural work. Frank M. Clynne of Los Angeles, Calif., will be connected with the citrus industry in Southern California, and C. E. Shultz of Corvallis will be in the same business in the San Joaquin Valley, California. Paul H. Spillman is connected with one of the college demonstration farms. Sam H. Arbuthnot, Corvallis, remains at the college for graduate work.

A large number of the domestic science seniors are to teach in the public schools of the state this year, although there are many also who will put their theories in practice in their own home. Miss Christie Moore of Bloomington, Ill., is to have charge of the installation and equipment of a new department of home economics in the Pendleton high school, and her sister, Miss Barbra Moore, is retained by the college as an assistant in domestic art. Miss Margaret McCall of Albany will remain as assistant in domestic science, and Miss May A. Wilson of Corvallis, Miss Alice Leedy of Sherwood and Miss Lila Dobell of Corvallis will all take post graduate work at O. A. C., while Miss Leona Kerr will continue her studies at an eastern institution. Miss Ruth Smith, a former graduate of the department who is now assistant in domestic science, goes to Columbia University for the year on leave of absence. Miss Keren Loe Davis takes charge of the household science work in the Baker high school, and Miss Hortense Eppley of Salem establishes like work in the Albany high school. Miss Rose Sheridan of Lebanon will teach domestic science at The Dalles, and Miss Clara Wajlan returns to her home in Hermiston to inaugurate domestic science courses in the high school there. The Misses Rae Atherton of Corvallis, Nora Beebe of Central Point, Sadie Bonner of Corvallis, Carly Edwards of Corvallis, Charlotte Huff of Portland, Elizabeth Koeber of Sherwood, Emily Miller of Corvallis, Clara Pierce of Hot Lake, Francis Mitchell of Corvallis, Alice Pimm of Philomath, Ruby Rice of Corvallis, Florence Starbird of Portland, Nell Sykes of Salem and Jennie Totten of Corvallis all expect to enter the teaching field in the northwest. Miss Vera Wilder has returned to her home a Lyle, Minn., and the Misses Bella Ackerman of Monmouth, Ruth Corbett of Corvallis, Olive Pohland of Ashland, Minerva Kiger of Corvallis will all be at home. Miss Mabel Gardner of Corvallis will install the domestic science work at Forest Grove.

COUNTRY REALTY MARKET CONTINUES ACTIVE

Cottage Grove Ranch Goes at $120,000; Farm at Woodburn Sells For $15,000; Large Deals.

Trading in farm lands the past 30 days has been satisfactory for this time of the year. According to reports received from various parts of the state buying has been general. One of the largest transfers was made here when J. E. Thomas purchased the Harding farm of 1200 acres, the consideration named in the deed being $120,000. The land lies one mile east of Cottage Grove and is considered exceedingly fertile.

Tom Word, of Portland, has purchased the James farm of 280 acres near Falls City for $24,000. Mr. Word will make extensive improvements on the place. About 120 acres have been planted to apple trees.

The Dan Shaw place, one of the best known farms in Baker county, has been sold to Ross Williams and H. C. Nordheim, of Idaho, for $19,000. The place contains 520 acres and is well improved.

The 30-acre orchard track of J. S. Frank, near Hood River, has been sold to a syndicate of Japanese for $20,000. The entire tract is set to trees 2 and 4 years old.

A. C. Brown has purchased the I. E. Moorhead farm of 18 acres near Lebanon and will take possession at once. The place will be improved by the new owner.

The Guy Fisher farm near Banks has been bought by George Ederer, of the Western Lumber Company, of Portland. Mr. Ederer plans to improve the farm and occupy it next year.

C. W. Brooks, a recent arrival in southern Oregon, has purchased the fine 130-acre farm formerly owned by George Judy, and situated in the vicinity of Dixonville, in the Roseburg district. The farm is said to be one of the most productive in the county.

Barsher & Baird of Union recently closed a deal for the sale of the Waldo Perry place near that city for $6000 and have also sold the Perry 40 acres of timber. This firm also closed the sale of the Hannah K. Davis place for $3000. They report a buyer in sight for a 2400-acre tract and have another man asking for 420 acres of good farm land. Inquiries are coming faster as the weather clears up and this firm anticipates a decided improvement in the real estate situation soon.

Mrs. N. M. Campbell has sold her farm southeast of Woodburn, on the old stage road, to a Mr. Crestwell from Pendleton, eastern Oregon. The Campbell place consists of something over 50 acres, and the price paid, including stock and agricultural implements, was $15,000 cash. Possession of the place will be given about the first of August, and Mrs. Campbell expects to move to Portland, where she owns a home in the Mt. Scott district.

Mrs. W. E. Huston of Burns and her father, Samuel Taylor of Woodburn, have purchased section 11, township 23, range 30, the Miller spring section lying west of Burns, and also of 65 acres in section 12. It is the intention to put the best agricultural portion of the lands into cultivation as soon as possible, for which purpose the waters of the springs will be utilized and it will add immensely to the setting for the city of Burns when that entire slope from the western edge of the city plat to the hills, embracing the land spoken of and the Schwartz and Freiman farms, is all covered with grain fields, orchards and gardens.

The Eugene and Great Western Land company has closed a deal for two tracts in Fortuna Park to John Hildebrand of Chicago, who will build and put the land into orchard and berries.

B. A. Seelye of the Northwest Bureau of Information has just completed the purchase of a tract of over 80 acres of land across the McKenzie river from Waterville from W. W. Haines & Co.

W. E. Kidder, the Carlton real estate man, negotiated a sale on the fifteenth of the Ed Allen farm, near Yamhill, of 135 acres, including stock, farm machinery, etc., to Mrs. L. M. Chapman of Portland. The consideration is given at $17,500.

Two hundred and eighty acres of farm land in the Cold Springs country in Umatilla county, were recently transferred from J. F. DeWitt and wife to Charles H. Vieck, the consideration being $1000.

One of the largest real estate deals reported for some time in Pendleton was filed for record this morning when A. C. Henderson, wife and sons sold 800 acres of land about three miles south of Pilot Rock on East Birch creek to Janet F. Randall of Boseman, Montana.

Calling cards—The Sentinel.

87 Acres—10 miles out; 14 million ft. fine timber; good garden land; creek bottom; small bearing orchard; assorted fruits, place all fenced; fine out range for stock; good creek and mountain springs on place. Place rented and in crop this season. Price $1,250; $700 cash, balance one year at 6% interest. Box 518.

PROPOSE NEW LAWS

Fish and Game Commission Working for Better Protection of Game and Fish.

The State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners has undertaken a thorough revision of the present system of the game laws. The idea is to present a code for adoption at the next Legislature which will give more complete protection to fish and game and correct numerous errors in the present system of laws.

The Commission desires in making up this new game code to get a thorough expression of public opinion before the code is presented to the Legislature. For this reason the members of the Commission ask that residents in different parts of the State, especially farmers and fruit growers, as well as sportsmen, send any suggestions so that the Commission may act upon them. Suggestions are also sought from the granges, commercial bodies, rod and gun clubs and other organizations, in order to get a game code suitable for different parts of the State.

At present there are a number of questions under discussion that will be of interest to sportsmen in different parts of the State, such as the question of bounties on predatory animals. The Commission is in favor of a more rigid effort to exterminate cougar and wolves. The question has been agitated in certain parts of the state to reduce the non-resident hunting and fishing license to the same price as the resident license. Many sportsmen are also in favor of reducing the limits on deer and other game.

Libraries and Happiness.

The great purpose of a public library is to promote and unite intelligence. It brings together the products of the wise minds of the world. It holds within its walls a collection of all the wise and witty things ever said; these it marks and indexes and offers to its friends.

It is in its community a sort of intellectual minute-man, always ready to supply to every comer something of interest and pleasure. It puts good books, and no others, into the hands of children. It tells about Cinderella and informs you on the riots in Moscow. It offers you a novel of modern Japan, and a history of Venice of the past. It knows about the milk in the cocoon, the floods of the river Nile, the advantages of education, the evils of legislation, how to plan a home, why bread won't rise, and can tell more about the hugeness of our task at Panama, and the mental failings that give Jamaica and Venezuela a trouble than most of our congressmen ever dreamed of.

I am a great believer, as you see, in reading, and I think with good reason. Living seems to us worth while. It is better worth our while if, while we live, we live much, learn, see, understand, enjoy many things. Reading is the short cut into the heart of life.

If you are talking with a group of friends about, for example, different parts of the United States, and some one happens to mention a city or town in which you have lived, note how your interest quickens, and how eager you are to hear news of the place or to tell of your experience in it. This is a simple every-day feat. The same thing you have observed a thousand times about any subject or talk with which you may be familiar. We learn about many things just by keeping alive and moving around! Those things we have learned about we can't help being interested in. That is the way we are made. If we know about more things our interests would be greater in number, keener, more satisfying; we would ask more questions, be more alert, get more pleasure.

The lesson from this is plain enough: if you wish to have a good time, learn something. You like to meet old friends. Your brain, also, likes to come across things it knows already, to renew acquaintance with the knowledge it has stored away and half forgotten. The pleasures of recognition and association; the delights of renewing your friendships with your own ideas are many, easy to get, never failing. But if you wish to have interests and delights in good plenty you must know of many things. So, I say, if you wish to be happy, learn something.

This sounds like advice to a student. It is not, it is a suggestion to the wayfarer. For this learning process may be as delightful as it is to gather flowers by the roadside on a summer walk.—J. C. Dana.

Married at Yoncalla.

Mr. Elmer Daugherty and Miss Blanche McClarnan were married at the M. E. Parsonage in Yoncalla last week, Rev. Wall officiating. The happy couple will make their home in Yoncalla. Mr. Daugherty is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McClarnan and has served as one of the teachers of the Yoncalla schools for two terms.
