SOCIETY

Miss Genevieve Johnson celebrated her 7th birthday anniversary last Thursday afternoon. Cake and ice cream were served. Those present were Abbie Goodman, Hazel Bosley, Dorothy Blackmore, Gordon Wright and Menzal Blackmore.

A party of eighteen, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Adams, enjoyed a hay rack ride up Mosby Creek last night. They took their supper with them and met Worth Harvey returning from Palmer's, who furnished the fish for the meal. Whether or not he had to duplicate a famous miracle to make them go around has not been learned.

LORANE COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Gertrude V. Stephenson and John Pryor Humphrey Are Wed.—Lorane Notes.

One of the most interesting social events of the season was the marriage of Miss Gertrude V. Stephenson to Mr. Jack Pryor Humphrey at high noon Sunday, August the 26th.

The impressive ring ceremony took place in Alder park at the home of the groom's parents, Elder B. C. Tabor of Ashland officiating.

The bride wore white embroidery over pink silk and carried pink carnations. She was attended by Misses Maude Humphrey, Gladys Stephenson and Grace Leathers.

The groom wore the conventional black and was attended by Messrs. B. N. Hawley, Ben Stephenson and Minor Billings.

The bridal party were preceded to the park by little Gladys Morgan as flower girl.

After the ceremony an excellent course dinner was served to the thirty guests.

A number of useful and beautiful gifts were received.

In the evening the happy couple were serenaded by a crowd of their young friends.

Among the guests were Chas. Humphrey, Salem; Minor Billings, Cottage Grove; Miss Grace Leathers, Eugene; Miss Florence Kline, Cottage Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson entertained with a dinner party Sunday evening in honor of Misses Mabry and Mary Currin of Hepner.

Miss Magureite O'Mara of Cottage Grove spent a few days last week with Miss Mildred Pringle.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Currin and daughter Ruth of Drain are visiting at the Jackson home.

The dance given in the grange hall Saturday evening was a success, being attended by a remarkably large crowd. The Lorane orchestra as usual furnished fine music.

Messrs. Wm. Schmitt, Arehart and Ballard of Creswell and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hawley of Cottage Grove, motored over to attend the dance Saturday night.

Mr. Archie Larson spent Saturday and Sunday in Cottage Grove.

Misses Nettie and Jessie Addison gave a moonlight party and lawn supper Monday evening.

Mr. Orie Davis took a trip to Cottage Grove Monday evening.

Miss Maude Jackson, who has been studying music in Portland for some time, came home Monday.

CHURCH NEWS

Methodist.—Most interesting services Sunday. Robert Sutcliffe speaks at 11 and 8. His topics are "Amusements" and "Camp Fire Musings." Bible School at 9:45 and Epworth League at 7. A hearty welcome.

Gospel meetings will be held in the tent on Fifth St. commencing Thursday at 8 o'clock. William Corcoran and Edward Cutting, who have been working in the Rogue River Valley, will conduct the services. All are cordially invited to attend.

What Spray Has to Say.

The Hardware World recently contained the following comment concerning a local citizen: J. F. Spray is an enterprising dealer at Cottage Grove, Ore., who uses a column in his home paper, the Cottage Grove Sentinel, in giving news items, together with brief selling talks about the various lines of seasonable goods. He makes it decidedly interesting to his farmer customers, who always turn to the column to see what "Spray has to say."

New Road From Lorane to Eugene.

Petitions are being circulated for a road from the Lorane valley to Eugene via Thurston Goodpasture's place. If it is secured it will mean a very easy grade all the way and much better than the present road which has a number of quite steep hills.

Removed for Unfair Treatment.

Word has been received at Condon that the local postmaster, J. F. Reisacher, is to be removed from office on account of unfair treatment to patrons in his office. The charge in particular was that he suppressed the editions of the Condon Globe at two different times and with malicious intent.

PHYSICIANS DECRY FOUL SLANDERS

Regret and indignation mark the attitude of the physicians who made the examination in the case of Mildred Green for the coroner's inquest toward the foul slanders which have been circulated in regard to her condition by those who would throw suspicion on the living. Dr. C. W. Southworth expressed surprise that such a rumor had gained currency. All the physicians who examined the body unanimously agreed that no assault had ever been committed until her death, and that the assault was committed after death. He said that all the testimony before the coroner's jury was to the same effect, and that there was no disagreement between the examining physicians, Drs. Cummings, Beardsley, Selover, Gullion and himself in regard to the facts. He said that in view of this unanimous testimony and the fact that such testimony had been published in all papers, he could not see how any one could have the face to circulate false rumors or how those who did could find any one to believe them.

Dr. Gullion was equally emphatic in expressing himself and said that he was glad to be afforded an opportunity to publicly deny such unwarranted aspersions on the character of the dead girl and on the living.

URGES PUPILS TO ATTEND SCHOOL FIRST DAY

Principal J. E. Dunton Anxious That School Year Start With Full Attendance.

Parents: Are you planning that your boy and girl enter school on the first morning, thereby giving your children an equal opportunity with your neighbor's children? The habit of punctuality on the part of a child cannot be over estimated. It is a habit that will stay with them throughout life. You are also assisting the teacher and incidentally aiding the entire school.

Children coming into the schoolroom either at a late hour or a late day are not only working at a disadvantage themselves but are imposing a hardship upon all other children of the grade in retarding the progress of the class by requiring a greater or less amount of individual help and time from the teacher that should be given to the entire class. Do not misunderstand me, I believe that the teacher's time belongs to the children, but to all the children and especially to those who naturally find it hard to progress.

What is true in the grades is especially true in the High School. So if there are enough boys and girls in Cottage Grove and country around, I would enjoy seeing the High School building filled to overflowing on the first morning. If there are students to warrant the "Teachers Training Course" will be given again this year, to the students of the upper grades who wish it. We hope to strengthen the High School course along other lines.

The Board of Education has seen fit to improve the appearance of the school grounds, make needed repairs, clean the building and increase the efficiency of the Physical Laboratory.

I would be pleased to meet, at my home, more of the students who anticipate attending the High School, and assist in arranging their course.

JAS. E. DUNTON, Principal.

Delight Valley.

Rev. G. C. Birchet intends to leave here soon to go to San Francisco, where he will resume his ministerial studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kane with Mr. Kane's mother and other relatives are going to Creswell Saturday to pick hops.

A farewell surprise party was given to Rev. Birchet on Friday evening at the home of F. M. Gibler. The evening was spent in playing various games, after which an elaborate lunch was served Mesdames Brown and Kayser acted as hostesses, while Misses Cora Witcher, Anna Queen and Frances Beatty superintended the games and the Misses Elizabeth Queen, Myrtle Witcher and Marion Beatty had charge of the refreshments. There were about forty-five guests present.

The Ladies Needlecraft G. T. X. met at the Maple Dell Farm with the Misses Frances and Marion Beatty. The meeting was held in the woods and during the afternoon the ladies were served with fruit and home-made candies.

Miss Hanna Sharon celebrated her birthday anniversary Monday evening by giving a party to her friends. The evening was greatly enjoyed by playing the usual games. Refreshments consisting of cake and home-made candy were served.

There were no church services at Saginaw Sunday evening, so the greater part of the Saginaw people attended services at Walker.

COUNTY ROOSEVELT CLUB MEETS

Fateful "23" at Session, Including Republicans and Socialists.

Eugene, Or., Aug. 24.—Fifteen men, a schoolboy and two children answered the Roosevelt Progressive call and were present at the beginning of the meeting of the Lane County Roosevelt Club at the court house this afternoon. By the time the meeting adjourned the number had augmented to 23, including newspaper men, Socialists, Democrats and regular Republicans, who had dropped in to watch the proceedings.

The meeting was perfunctory throughout. H. E. Slattery, of the Lane County Roosevelt Club, presided, and the first business disposed of was the reading of the by-laws for permanent organization of a Roosevelt Progressive Club.

H. S. Slattery was elected president; M. Svarverud, first vice-president; E. F. Chapman, second vice-president; Walter B. Jones, secretary, and Fred G. Stickels, treasurer.

M. Svarverud was elected as the Lane County member of the state committee, and will attend the meeting to be held at Portland Tuesday. He suggested that no further local action be taken until after the meeting of the state committee, since the issue would then be much clearer.

A Central Cash Reservoir.

Charles M. Hager of Kansas, in an article in the Country Gentleman on "The Money That Moves the Harvest," says:

"It is not creditable to our present currency system that in a growing nation there should be a perpetual struggle between the money-users.

There ought to be some method by which the farmer, merchant, grain-dealer or stock-dealer when he needs credit or currency may obtain it.

"Financial students who have made a careful study of the country's business needs have come to certain conclusions regarding a remedy for this situation. Congress appointed four years ago a non-partisan commission especially to form a plan that would better monetary conditions. The commission, after four years' work, has made its report, and its plan will douthbless form the basis of a bill for a rearrangement of our currency system.

"Instead of each bank working out its needs alone, it is proposed that all the banks of the country shall work together in an association at Washington. The association is authorized to hold reserves of the banks. This central reserve fund will form a supply sufficient to give relief to the demands of any section and should go far as a balance wheel in the financial machinery of the nation."

A herd of 450 goats passed through town today on their way from Polk county to the Siuslaw. The goats were the property of G. D. Burdick and Henry Fawk of Salem, who sold them to W. B. Hawley on the Siuslaw and were on their way to make delivery.—Eugene Guard, 22d.

Awakened from sleep by an uncomfortable feeling that something was near, Ed. O'Hara, a local tailor, while camping near Sprague, Washington, awoke to find a huge rattlesnake lazily coiled on the pillow within a few inches of his head. Quickly turning the pillow over he caught the snake off its guard and succeeded in killing it with a stone. He cut off the rattles, nine in number, and took them to town as proof of his experience.—Coquille Herald.
