A Panacea for Stout Women

Stout women find in Model 250 of American Lady Corsets

just the garment for their needs. It closely conforms to the figure without pinching and unduly confining, and perfectly produces a long effect which is most satisfactory. It is the correct corset for stout figures. Model 250 displayed here has two special features, a graduated clasp which holds the figure in perfect position, and in itself reduces; also a patented belt inserted at the waist line which reinforces the garment and renders it absolutely unbreakable and prevents the corset from stretching. The boning in all American Lady Corsets will not rust. Model No. 250 cannot be bettered in other makes at $3.50 and is especially priced here at, each

Celebrate 50th Anniversary.

With all their living children present except two, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powell celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at London Wednesday, Sept. 25. During their entire married life Mr. and Mrs. Powell have hardly been separated and the entire 50 years together has been in the state of Oregon, as was also 10 years of their life previous to that. Mr. Powell crossed the plains in 1851 and Mrs. Powell a year later, the families of both settling near Albany, where they were married in 1862. Mr. Powell is aged 77 and Mrs. Powell 66.

A bounteous dinner was served at 1 o'clock. The afternoon and evening was pleasantly spent with conversation, music and songs. Many presents were received by the aged couple.

Three sons, Charles and Edwin of Buell; James of London; three daughters, Mrs. S. Overholser of Pomeroy, Wash.; Mrs. J. Overholser, Cottage Grove; Mrs. E. L. McReynolds of Divide, and three grandchildren were present at the celebration. Other guests were Joe, Robert and Cecil Geer and Mrs. Numbers of London.

Chas. Beals and Miss Loretta Atkinson were quietly married at 8:30 Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, only relatives of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. O. Ballis. Supper was served, followed by a reception. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beals and the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson. The young couple will be at home in a few days at their residence on Sixth Street.

A large party of friends pleasantly surprised Mrs. Amanda Spriggs last Thursday afternoon, the occasion being her 66th birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served. The guest of honor received a large number of presents and about 100 postal cards.

Angele Perini and Miss Laura Larson of Divide were married Saturday at the home of Rev. E. G. O. Grant. A number of friends were present at the ceremony. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon trip, but will return to make Cottage Grove their permanent home.

Saturday evening an enjoyable surprise party was given Mrs. Hattie Garoutte at her home on South Sixth Street, it being her 77th birthday anniversary.

The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and general conversation. Ice cream and cake were served as refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson and daughter Miss Della, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bainbridge and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nowell and children, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. McCoy and son, Wm. Lane, Mrs. E. R. Thordberg, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Garoutte and son, J. H. Garoutte.

The wedding of Thos. A. May and Miss Grace Kirkland, both of Drain, was solemnized at 2 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 19, 1912, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. M. Beals, at Springfield, Rev. Chas. H. Lawrence officiating.

Mrs. C. C. Cruson pleasantly entertained the members of the Woman's Club and a few past members last Thursday afternoon. A novel guessing contest that caused no end of amusement was arranged by pinning pictures of prominent people of the day's news, such as Taft, Wilson and the Bull Moose on the backs of the guests, the women to guess the names by remarks addressed to them. Following this slips of paper were taken from a file book and each guest was asked to write her best recipe and sign her name to it. The slips were collected and the guests requested to make their recipes in pantomime. Mrs. Awbrey, being voted the best cook, was presented with a nicely bound file book containing the recipes that had been written. On the place cards were toy kitchen utensils held in place with little red bows of ribbon. Refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake. The ice cream was served in small flower pots covered with a sprinkling of nut meats and chocolate. A small red flower and two leaves appeared to grow from the center. The guests present were Mesdames J. S. Silsby, D. T. Awbrey, B. K. Lawson, Beager, C. M. Shinn, H. J. Shinn, M. Veatch, O. Spear, H. A. Miller, J. H. Chambers, B. S. Swengel, Alden, D. H. Hemenway, W. H. Abrams, H. H. Veatch, F. W. Norton, A. C. Kinter, J. N. Waterhouse, F. W. Robbins, M. Scovell, C. J. Kem, S. L. Mackin, E. Bede, G. M. Hall, C. C. Adams, Miss Norton.

Mesdames C. H. VanDenburg and J. I. Jones entertained very elaborately at the VanDenburg home Friday afternoon. A feature of the afternoon's entertainment was a contest with needle and thread in which the guests were instructed to sketch an animal on a piece of cloth. Some rare species, extinct before the world was made, were evolved. Mrs. J. H. Chambers was awarded head prize and Mrs. H. H. Veatch the consolation. Guests were also required to demonstrate their literary talent in story writing. A delicious three-course luncheon was served on the open veranda. The guests present were Mesdames C. E. Umphrey, S. L. Mackin, C. M. Shinn, H. J. Shinn, G. M. Hall, Herbert Eakin, F. D. Wheeler, T. C. Wheeler, W. H. Abrams, F. W. Norton, B. K. Lawson, C. H. Burkholder, H. F. Wynne, A. W. Kime, H. H. Veatch, M. Veatch, C. C. Cruson, Orpurd, H. C. Hart, H. A. Miller, J. E. Dunton, T. J. Moore, E. Purvance, J. E. Ostrander, J. C. Johnson, W. C. Johnson, J. S. Medley, J. B. Lewis, Ray Trask, J. H. Chambers, C. E. Jones, W. C. Conner, D. T. Awbrey, N. E. Compton.

Peter Maier and Miss Pauline Stuber were married Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Sixth Street. A large number of friends and relatives were present.

Mrs. Chas. Adams entertained a few of Mr. Adams' friends Tuesday evening in the form of a stag party. Covers were laid for seven.

The Emanon Club met last Thursday with Mrs. Horace Cochran. After the usual work, refreshments of baked beans, brown bread, huckleberry pie and coffee were served. Members present were Mesdames S. L. Mackin, C. E. Umphrey, Nelson Durham, E. Bisbey, Elbert Bede, Horace Cochran. Guests were Mesdames Josiah Porter and Ira Beidler.

Things We Think

Things others think, and what we think of the things others think

A miner, so the dispatches say, who was suffering so badly from a toothache that he couldn't work, dropped a thousand feet down a shaft. The remedy is a trifle heroic for general adoption, but it stopped the toothache.

Folks who wear celluloid laundry should be careful about getting "hot in the collar."

Salvation is free, they say. If it wasn't, there are a great many niggard souls that wouldn't get much of it.

Everyone can assist in the reforestation idea by setting out a tree or two every year. The thanks of a future generation will be theirs.

The keeper of the Philadelphia morgue has quit his job. He probably found that he was the only live one left in the Pennsylvania metropolis.

If some people would put in as much time patting other people's backs as they do in patting their own, this would be a much happier world.

A Chicago professor stirred up a row recently by giving instructions regarding how to tell a woman's age. The safest way is to go into a corner by yourself and tell it below your breath.

A manish woman must be one who hasn't much to say.

There are those who believe that our battleships wear their armor too decollette.

If it is true that sinners do not go to heaven, the census taker up there must have a snap.

Men are equal only after death, and if they could be nothing but equals during life, this old world would be a dead one.

A Denver woman, when fined $5, threw two overripe eggs at the judge. The calm judicial atmosphere of the court room was somewhat disturbed.

There are exceptions to all rules—except the golden rule.

He who courts public favor must also accept public criticism.

The temperance wave is rolling so high that it is beginning to foam.

Silence is golden. That's the reason there are so many poor people.

When we get wireless politics we may be able to do away with the polls.

The go-cart trust is one of the infant industries that keeps pushing to the front.

Whoever heard of love letters being tied up with anything but pink ribbon, but who ever saw any tied up that way?

The fellow who can see both sides of a thing is usually the fellow who gets on the inside of something good.

An eastern woman sold her body to a medical college in order to get money enough to buy her wedding trousseau. If she didn't sell her soul to get her husband, she is not in such a bad way at that.

Two or more is plural, but it is singular that we speak of man and wife as one.

Let folks hate you if they want to. They're wasting their time and not hurting you.

When a man and wife go to quarrelling, the devil prepares a couple extra berths.

There are many who will take a chance on doing wrong in the hope of achieving right.

No man is so severely punished as he who broods over the wrong he has done.

When man or woman bids good-bye to hope and love, the brink of the grave is not far away.

Let us hope that when we die our sorrows are dead forever and all our joys take on new life. It is just as easy to hope this as anything else, and we will feel a whole lot better.

Disease can not enter where sunshine is. Keep the clouds out of your heart and ill health will pass you by.

The man who doesn't know when he is licked will rise above almost any emergency.

The man who sits up nights hating his neighbors will find in the morning that his neighbors have beat him to it.

If folks didn't talk only when they had something to say, we would never get acquainted with one another.

Folks who get married after only knowing one another a week or so, haven't sense enough to make a happy home.

A woman who dislikes gossiping is going to miss a whole lot of pleasure in life.

It keeps most of us humping to keep alongside our running expenses.

The Game of Gossip.

The game of gossip is played thus: One of the company invents and writes down a short, striking narrative, say in about a dozen lines. This he reads to himself carefully and then folds away out of sight. Taking the person on his left side, he repeats to him as accurately as he can what he has written.

Number two repeats this to number three, and so it passes round till it reaches the last player. The last person recites the story, and it is then compared with the original record. It is never the same, and the variations are generally very amusing.
