Neighborhood News

Lorane.
Nov. 18.—(Special to The Sentinel.)—Floyd Billings of Cottage Grove was here last week.
A piece of the Drain-Lorane road was almost out of commission last week on account of the heavy rains. Last summer Road Supervisor Hawley tore out the long bridge which crossed the swale and replaced it with a rock pile. He placed galvanized culverts for the water to pass through but these proved insufficient to carry the water and consequently the road was flooded.
Mr. Reed, superintendent of the Milwaukee Orchard Land Co., contemplates beginning the clearing of some more of the company's land soon. A donkey engine was purchased last year for this purpose.
Walter Ivans was in Cottage Grove last week after a load of merchandise.
Miss Daisy Bell and Prof. C. W. Tidd attended the teachers' institute at Eugene this week.
Scott Jackson has been moving his new engine. It will probably be installed in H. M. Doty's sawmill for the winter. Next summer he will use it for threshing.
Scott Jackson was in Cottage Grove Friday.

O. E. VanValin and Frank Wilson delivered a band of goats to Wm. Lower at Creswell last week.
Miss Ada Land came home Saturday evening from near Lorane, where she is teaching school. She left Sunday evening to attend the teachers' institute at Eugene.

Creswell News Notes.
R. H. Parsons and L. P. Harrington will make a trip to Puyallup next week to gain information relative to starting the canery here. They intend to remain at the Puyallup institution a sufficient length of time to gain an insight to the methods employed in canning and also learn all they can in regard to the marketing of the canned product. Mr. Harrington will be in Portland in charge of the Lane county booth at the land show next week and Mr. Parsons will join him there. These gentlemen realize the need of something being done towards getting the canery in operation next year and are willing to spend their time and money to do what they can toward bringing the desired result.
A large box of Creswell products was shipped to Minneapolis last week to be placed on exhibition at the land show which opened there on Monday of this week. M. J. Duryea, manager of the Eugene Commercial club, will have charge of the Lane county exhibit, which is made up wholly of Creswell and Eugene material. Every article contributed by Creswell was tagged as coming from this place and the name of the grower is also given. The products consist of grain, grasses, sheaf grain, table and stock vegetables and fruit, and each article is the best of its kind. The exhibit will make a most creditable showing.
Rev. Fraser, wife and two children arrived in Creswell Saturday and Rev. Fraser preached his first sermon as pastor of the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning.—Chronicle.

EUGENE WOULD BE CAPITAL CITY
Register Sets Forth Claims for Consideration as Seat of State Government.
The Eugene Register of recent date says:
Is there anything illogical in the statement that the state capital ought to be moved to Eugene? Its present location is woefully ill-chosen. It is off in a corner of the state, and is difficult of access to the greater part of Oregon.
Eugene, on the contrary, is remarkably well located. It is practically the center of the state, so far as population is concerned, and when the railroad lines that are now building are completed, it will be in direct and easy touch with every county. Eastern Oregon, Southern Oregon and the coast counties would be saved long and circuitous travel.
In Skinner Butte park, Eugene has the most beautiful and slightly location for a capital building in the United States. At very slight expense, this site could be made one of the world's wonders. Its unique beauty would scatter the name of Oregon's capital far and wide. This park, located in the heart of the city and comprising 63 acres, is owned by the city, and would be gladly donated to the state.

Home Missionary Meetings.
The Interdenominational Home Missionary meetings are in progress at the M. E. Church. The service on Monday evening was well attended despite the fact that large numbers of the people were at the citizens' caucus. The speaker was Elder Samson, a medical missionary. Tuesday afternoon and evening Miss Tining, a national worker of the W. C. T. U., delivered addresses. She has an international reputation as a temperance speaker and worker. The program for the week will be carried out as announced except that the remaining services will be all in the afternoon instead of in the evening.

LIEUT.-COL. LAWSON FINDS OFFICIALS GUILTY

Mayor of Klamath Falls, Sheriff and District Attorney Receive Scathing Orders
Basing his opinion on the report of Colonel B. K. Lawson of Cottage Grove, who went to investigate conditions in Klamath Falls, and other reports, Governor West has sent a scathing letter to Mayor T. F. Nicholas, Sheriff W. B. Barnes and District Attorney D. V. Kuykendall. The governor's letter says in part:
"We find that past conditions in Klamath Falls have been such as to give just cause for complaint. We will, however, devote our attention to the present and future. This office is charged with the enforcement of the law. It is advised that the laws of this state covering gambling, immoral houses and the sale of liquors are now being violated and that this fact has been known to the officers charged with enforcement of the law.
"We are advised that certain of these officers justify their action in not enforcing the law by saying that public opinion favored their existence. It is the duty of such public officials to interpret and enforce the laws, not to interpret and enforce public opinion.
"I hereby request that you, as officers of the law, take prompt steps to bring about a strict enforcement of the law as to the matters complained of. Otherwise, this office will feel that it is its duty to take such action as will bring about the desired results. Your attention is particularly called to the roadhouse known as the 'Altamount Tavern.'
"These are all matters which should be properly taken care of by local officers without interference on the part of this office and it will be for the best interests of all concerned and save the city and county the unpleasant notoriety which usually accompanies an investigation from the outside, if taken care of by the local officers."

S. P. FURNISHES NAMES OF ENQUIRERS

Commercial Organizations Given Assistance in Campaign for New Settlers.
By furnishing commercial bodies with names of all inquirers for locations of which they learn through their advertising in Sunset, the Southern Pacific has inaugurated a policy which will prove of value in getting community literature into hands where it will do most good.
The first list sent the Cottage Grove club contains 135 names and nearly every state in the union is represented. There is also one inquiry from Hawaii.
General literature is sent by the railroad's publicity department, and it is suggested by General Passenger Agent Scott that special community literature be forwarded at once. Copies of the original letters will be furnished those asking for them.

REPUBLICANS NOT BARRED FROM ELECTION BOARDS

Assessor Keeney Finds That Members of G. O. P. Can Serve in Lane.
Editor Sentinel: I noticed in your last issue the article under the head of "Republicans Barred From Election Boards" in Lane County.
Our friend, Lee Travis, chairman of the Lane County democratic central committee, was the first to spring this, to him, a happy discovery (7). But alas, he sprung it too soon, for a canvass of the votes show that the democrats and republicans respectively were the two parties to cast the highest and next highest number of votes for presidential electors in Lane County and I think the section referred to is to be applied as to the county vote instead of the state and when next election year rolls round the republicans will be found doing duty on the election boards as in the past.
B. F. KEENEY.

Eugene Cold Storage Plant To Be Prosecuted

That the cold storage plant maintained in Eugene by the Weinhard Brewery company as a distributing center of liquor being shipped into a dry county is a violation of the spirit of the local option law if not the letter of the law, was the declaration of Governor West last week, when he stated that he intended to request District Attorney Bryson and Attorney General Crawford to bring an injunction suit against the company.
It is alleged that there are lockers at the storage plant so patrons may order booze and keep it on hand, making it a regular club.
District Attorney Bryson will bring the injunction suit.

School Books at Cost.

The Springfield grange is preparing to take the initiative in the matter of getting school books at cost to the people of Oregon. At a recent meeting the matter was brought before the organization by W. O. W. Shepard and discussed thoroughly. A committee consisting of Mr. Shepard and Hon. J. J. Tottem was appointed to draft a bill which would be constitutional and should be likely to pass in the legislature. The gentlemen have gone into the matter carefully and declare that they expect to be ready to report a bill to the grange meeting Monday night. The measure will provide that the state compile, edit, print and publish all text books used in the public schools and sell them at cost to pupils or parents.

Police Chief Sobers Meeting

The chief of police of Albany into sobs while replying to a question made against him at a mass meeting Monday afternoon.
A resolution was adopted urging city and county officials to enforce more rigidly the local option law. The resolution was read to Chief of Police Ellis Daughtry, who had come to the meeting reluctantly after a considerable effort to find him.
Daughtry was publicly informed of the accusations that have been common about the city that he is receiving money from Jim Hart, the principal blind pigger in the city, for allowing him to run a disturbance.
In replying that he was resigning any complaint that the attorney or the district attorney draw against any of the blind piggers and that he was willing to raise them at any time when he had a reasonable bit of evidence, Daughtry broke into sobs. He added that citizens of Albany were not satisfied with his work and desired another to do it, he would resign.

Apple Tree 50 Years Old Bears Profuse Crop

Planted Half Century Ago, Competitor of Young Trees
Two large Gloria Mundy picked from trees which he set half century ago, were left with Sentinel Monday by J. H. Short. The tree, in spite of its antiquity weighted almost to the ground with fruit and puts to shame many younger competitors.
The tree is on the old Shortridge nation claim, where Mr. Short and father in the early days had the most select nurseries in the state. The apples are not as large as this year because not properly cared out, but the specimens are 13 inches in circumference, solid and without blemish.
Mr. Shortridge has a bearing berry patch from which the berries were picked 25 years ago.
Mr. Shortridge is one of the pioneers of the Oregon pioneers and comes from a pioneer family. His father's grandmother was a sister of Boone and his father often traveled with the famous trail blazer.
A 14-pound son has been born to Mrs. Clyde Kerr at Mt. View. Mrs. Kerr was formerly Laura Gill of this city.
