Umpfrey & Mackin THE CASH ECONOMY STORE

Within a 15 mile circle around IMPERIAL there are now several hundred prosperous farmers raising enormous crops of wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, vegetables, etc. Poultry raising is also highly successful. Three large stock ranches, owning several thousand horses and cattle are also in this circle. IMPERIAL is now the trading point and will soon be the shipping point (the railroads are now building) for the products from thousands of acres surrounding it.

CANNERY EXPERTS TO ADDRESS GRANGE

Manager Holt of Eugene Cannery and O. A. C. Expert Will Appear at Open Meeting.

Plans for a cannery are expected to be advanced at the open meeting of Cottage Grove Grange Saturday, March 1, when Manager Holt of the Eugene Cannery and an expert from Oregon Agricultural College will be present. The meeting will be at 1 o'clock and the public generally is invited. The grangers are deeply interested in the cannery proposition and it is expected that something definite will be announced in the near future.

Orchard Company Wins Prize.

The Sunnydale Orchard Company of Drain has received a diploma from the Oregon Agricultural Society as an award of merit for first prize on Hoover apples exhibited at the Pacific Northwest Land Products Show held in Portland in November. This was the largest show of its kind ever held in the West, the displays including thousands of boxes of the finest fruit produced in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. The Sunnydale Orchard Company and the community of Drain may well be proud of this recognition.—Drain Nonpareil.

Professor Is Charmed.

Professor McMillan, of the University of Minnesota, who recently came to Oregon to investigate orchard lands, has purchased two 5-acre tracts on the Sunnydale Orchard Company's plantings, and expects eventually to make this his home. Mr. McMillan was much impressed with the wonderful growth the trees had made, indicating the excellent care and fertility of soil. Coming as he did from the zero weather of Minnesota, he was charmed with our warm, sunny days and green hills.—Drain Nonpareil.

U. S. Logging Co., Incorporated

The U. S. Logging Co., with headquarters in this city has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state at Salem. The officers are stated to be J. H. Chambers, president and L. S. Hill, secretary. This company is the purchaser of 163 million feet of timber in the Row River watershed.

Revival Meetings Continue.

The union revival meetings at the M. E. Church continue to draw large audiences. Mrs. Edith Hill-Booker, the speaker, has proven herself a woman of unusual talent and has a personality that pleases. The large chorus choir under the direction of H. H. Harris, has been highly complimented.

Brings Suit Against West Coast Mines Company.

Chester Christmas has commenced suit against the West Coast Mines company to collect the sum of $2,300 and interest, amount said to be due on two promissory notes one for $1500 and another for $1200, with a credit of $400 on the latter.

Bon Ton Changes Hands.

The Bon Ton confectionery changed hands Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Soderstrom being the new owners. Both are well known residents of the city. F. C. Coffman the former proprietor, has not yet made his plans for the future.

Improvement Bonds Sold.

At the council meeting Monday night the bonds issued under the Bancroft act for improvements on the streets of the city were disposed of. Ambrose & Burdall and Herman Venske were the bidders. The total amount was some $25,000.

Tree Grows from Switch Dropped 50 Years Ago

Strange Yarn from Albany of Fertility of Willamette Soil

Captain Powell tells an interesting and amusing story concerning a large balm tree which is located near the farmhouse on the old Marshall homestead. He said that over 50 years ago, A. G. Marshall who then lived upon the place, was driving a lazy mule near his home one day and in order to encourage the animal to make better time, he broke a small limb from a tree beneath which he was passing. When he arrived home, Mr. Marshall rode the mule to the watering trough where he discarded his whip, dropping the switch to the ground where it fell in the mud. The twig became covered with mud and later sprouted. Today the switch which Marshall used to encourage his mule, has grown to be a large and beautiful tree and is located in the very spot where the twig was dropped many years ago.—Albany Democrat.

$40,000 HIGH SCHOOL IS TALKED

Would Probably Be Erected on Ground Now Occupied by East Side School Building.

erty. Something must be done during the year to take care of the high school, now occupying a part of the East Side building. The school now has close to 100 students. Fifteen of these are expected to graduate this year and 50 are expected to enter next year. The present quarters will be inadequate. Estimates as to how expensive a building should be erected run as high as $40,000.

By the erection of a high school building sufficient room would be made in the East Side building to care for the East Side pupils now compelled to attend the West Side school.

It is estimated that a well equipped high school next year would have 150 pupils. They would draw $3,000 special aid, or $1,200 in addition to the present aid, which is some inducement for making special arrangements for the high school course.

Prof. Dunton Re-Elected.

At the late meeting of the school board, Prof. J. E. Dunton was re-elected as superintendent of the city schools for a term of two years. The salary was raised to $1400 for next year and to $1500 for the year following.

Potatoes Grow All Winter.

Orchids in O. A. C. Greenhouse.

Some fine orchids are now in bloom in the greenhouses at the Oregon Agricultural College, where students have a chance to see many plants from different parts of the world.

An orchid from India, Cypripedium insigne, a beautiful golden-green lady-slipper mottled with brown, with a snow white tip is full of blooms. Another, Cattleya, one of the handsomest of the collection, will also bloom shortly, putting forth large, light purple flowers. It is a native of Brazil.

A delicate aerial orchid, Coelogyne cristata, from Nepal, has a quantity of white blossoms with gold throats and lips. Laelia anceps is lavender with deeper purple lips and a yellow throat streaked with purple. Its native habitat is Mexico.

Chinese Cook Thinks Dinner at 12; Not 6

Lack of Social Education Causes Employer Trouble

for you no movee? Didn't you say you movee after dinner? Supper all leady and no dishes! Meat all leady and no boarders! What's the matter with you? Gone crazy? Why for you no movee?

Here it was within an hour of supper time. Louis and his helper had moved the kitchen complete and were all set up ready for business, while the dining room was still at the other building. As soon as Bart could get his breath, he tore around after drays and wagons in a manner that convinced the oriental that he could movee when the exigencies of the occasion seemed to demand such action. An hour later supper was being served at The Oregon as if that had been the prearranged plan.
