AUTOMOBILE ROAD REGULATIONS

Following are the general road laws governing automobile traffic in the State of Oregon:

Vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass to the right, giving one-half the road to each.

Vehicles proceeding in the same direction overtake each other by passing to the left.

The overtaking vehicle shall maintain its speed until clear of the overtaken vehicle, and for such distance thereafter as shall prevent dust and mud throwing upon the overtaken vehicle.

The signal to pass shall be given by one blast or stroke of horn, bell, whistle, gong or other signalling device.

Should the overtaken vehicles then not give way, three such blasts or signals shall be given, and on failure to comply therewith the overtaking vehicle may at the next suitable place safe to both vehicles go by without further signal.

It shall be the duty of every overtaken vehicle to turn to the right and give one-half of the road to the overtaking vehicle.

Vehicles approaching an intersecting road, street or highway shall be under control so as to permit the vehicle on the right of the vehicle approaching to first cross the intersecting street, road or highway.

At all intersections the vehicle approaching the intersection from the right of any other vehicle approaching the intersection shall have the right of way.

All vehicles approaching an intersection of a street, road or highway with the intention of turning thereat shall, in turning to the right, keep closely to the right, and in turning to the left shall run to and beyond the intersection;

In all passing and overtaking such assistance shall be given by the occupants of each vehicle respectively to the other as the circumstances shall demand and either request and each of them exercise due care and caution to get clearance and avoid accidents.

Every person having control or charge of any automobile, motor vehicle or motorcycle, whenever upon any public street or way, and approaching any vehicle drawn by a horse or horses or any horse upon which any person is riding, shall operate and manage and control such automobile, motor vehicle or motorcycle in such manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of any such horse or horses, and to insure the safety and protection of any person riding or driving the same.

And if such horse or horses appear frightened the person in control of such motor vehicle shall reduce its speed, and, if requested by signal or otherwise by the driver of such horse or horses, shall not proceed further toward such animal unless such movement be necessary to avoid accident or injury, or until such animal appears to be under the control of its rider or driver.

Every vehicle shall be kept upon the right half of the street, road or highway traveled when the view ahead is not clear for at least one hundred yards.

Every motor vehicle, when moving in defiles, canyons or mountain passes where the curvature of the road or highway prevents a clear view for a distance of one hundred yards ahead, shall be held under control and not permitted to coast, and shall in approaching all curves give the signal with frequent blasts or strokes of horn, bell, whistle, gong or other signalling device of its approach, and upon all curves to the right shall keep to the inside of said curve, and upon all curves to the left shall keep to the outside of said curve.

Every vehicle shall be run at a rate of speed at no time greater than is reasonable and proper having regard to the safety of the public, the traffic and the use of the street, road or highway then being traveled.

The rate of speed on all streets, roads and highways of this state shall be a reasonable speed, up to and not exceeding twenty-five miles an hour, but any speed in excess of twenty-five miles an hour upon any road or highway in this state shall be unreasonable speed and is prohibited by this act; provided, however, that no motor vehicle shall be driven at a rate faster than eight miles an hour upon the country roads or highways of this state when within one hundred yards of any vehicle drawn by horse or horses.

No vehicle shall be moved, run or operated on the streets, roads or highways of this State by any person unable or incapable to control the same with due regard to safety of the public and other vehicles; provided, that in all cases any person in a state of intoxication is deemed conclusively incapable and unable to operate and control the same.

No vehicle used upon the streets, roads or highways of this State shall be left standing unsecured, and howsoever it may be moved its motive power shall be so secured that the same cannot operate or move the vehicle without some action upon the part of the owner and operator so to do.

Thanks to Voters.

I wish to heartily thank those voters and friends who showed the confidence in me which resulted in my splendid vote for school director. I appreciate the feeling expressed and shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to merit such confidence. A. L. WOODARD.

The value of a paper's advertising is gauged by the number of people it reaches. No other paper reaches more than a quarter as many Cottage Grove people as does The Sentinel.

ALL OF SNODGRASS FINE IS REMITTED BY JUSTICE

Justice of the Peace Webster of Salem went Governor West one better in the matter of remitting the fine of Frank Snodgrass, chief of the guards at the penitentiary, who was convicted of beating James Davis, a convict. Snodgrass, upon advice of Governor West pleaded guilty, but evidence was taken and Justice of the Peace Webster assessed a fine of $50. Governor West remitted all of the fine but $3.33.

Justice of the Peace Webster has since remitted the $3.33, announcing that the minimum fine for the offense is $5 and he could not, under the law, receive less than that amount.

LaFrance Held to Grand Jury.

J. C. LaFrance, accused of substituting a dead body for himself to secure insurance money, has been held to the grand jury in the municipal court of Portland. The Modern Woodmen of America are the plaintiffs in this case. June 18, 1912, LaFrance disappeared from Portland, a body being found a few days later on the Clackamas river which body was claimed by his wife and buried. The insurance companies took up the case and caused his arrest in Coquille.
