

"I've had my Studebaker 15 years—and not a cent for repairs"

A word of just praise for a wagon that has done its work faithfully and well.

Men become attached to their Studebakers—proud of them.

Because they realize that a Studebaker is built on honor and with an experience in wagon building that dates back to 1852.

Studebaker wagons are a result of that long experience, coupled with a desire to build the best wagons, not cheap ones.

And when your dealer says "Buy a Studebaker—there's no better wagon made" he's giving you the verdict of a million farmers. He is not asking you to try an experiment.

There is only one way to get all the news of the Grove country. That is in The Sentinel.

Within a 15 mile circle around IMPERIAL there are now several hundred prosperous farmers raising enormous crops of wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, vegetables, etc. Poultry raising is also highly successful. Three large stock ranches, owning several thousand horses and cattle are also in this circle.

IMPERIAL is now the trading point and will soon be the shipping point (the railroads are now building) for the products from thousands of acres surrounding it.

BLUE AND GRAY AT GETTYSBURG

Veterans of Memorable Battle Meet to Celebrate Semi-Centennial of Event.

Gettysburg.—Fifty years ago Gettysburg was a camp of war, this week it is a camp of peace. In a tented city spread over the historic battlefield, thousands of veterans who met in deadly conflict half a century ago gathered from all parts of the country to celebrate the semi-centennial of the greatest battle of the civil war, and clasped hands across the chasm of years. Aged men, some garbed in blue and others in gray renewed their youth and fraternized. Time had dealt heavily with most of them, yet their enthusiasm was unbounded despite the lapse of time, and they shook off the weight of years and fought over again the battle that marked the "high tide of the confederacy."

The program was divided into four sections, one for each day. Tuesday, July 1, was known as "Veterans' Day," and all surviving veterans were participants in a great camp-fire, presided over by the commanders-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans.

Wednesday was designated "Military Day" and the exercises were under the chief-of-staff of the United States army.

The exercises on Thursday were known as "Civil Day" and were under the personal supervision of the governor of Pennsylvania and the participants were the governors of the various states, their staffs and the general public.

Friday, July 4, was appropriately designated as "National Day." The chief justice of the supreme court presides and President Wilson and members of the cabinet, the vice president, speaker of the house of representatives, justices of the supreme court and the congressional committee will be the guests of honor.

Governor West Upheld

Salem, Or.—According to an opinion rendered by Attorney General Crawford, Governor West has the right to put into operation his "honor system" to any extent he sees fit, outside the penitentiary and state institutions, in and near the capital city. The Attorney General holds that the executive's control of convicts was restricted by the law creating the board of control only to the convicts in the prison and those assigned to work in and near the city. If he sees fit, according to Mr. Crawford, the governor may assign every man confined in the penitentiary to road work, and that particular work finished, if the men are not pardoned or paroled meanwhile, they may be returned to the penitentiary and receive credit.

BULGARS ATTACK GREEKS AND SERBS

London.—The prolonged efforts of the powers to prevent the outbreak of a fratricidal war between the Balkan allies seems to have failed just at the moment when it appeared possible for the four powers to meet at St. Petersburg and submit their differences for Russian arbitration.

Fighting has begun all along the lines where the Bulgarian forces are facing the Servians and Greeks, and according to the Greek official report the Bulgarian attack extended over the Greek and Servian front of 140 miles.

"This is manifestly war without a previous declaration of hostilities, and we accordingly are forced to order our divisions to advance," says the official statement.

The opposing armies accuse each other of initiating the offensive. The Bulgarian representatives at Athens and Belgrade, respectively, have presented notes protesting against Greek and Servian attacks. The Servian government replied by charging that the Bulgarians are making attacks and repudiating all responsibility.

Court Agrees to "Unmerging" Plan St. Paul, Minn.—Federal Judges Walter H. Sanborn, William T. Hook and Walter I. Smith, sitting as the district court of the United States, approved the plans agreed upon by Attorney General McReynolds and Attorneys for the Union Pacific road, and the famous Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger, known as the Harriman combine, practically came to an end.

Private Crawford Choked, Is Verdict Hoquiam, Wash.—The death of J. A. Crawford, the soldier from Fort Stevens, whose body was found on the north jetty of Grays Harbor a week ago, was due to strangulation, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury which held an inquest over the disinterred body here. The inquest was held at the request of the commanding officer of Fort Stevens.

Convention of Women's Tailors Votes for Narrow Skirts

New York.—Woman's skirts are to be tighter than ever around the bottom, but looser at the top. They will have an eight-inch slit in front to eke out their inches of width. Notwithstanding their scantiness, they will be elaborately draped. A stitched turned-up cuff, like those on a man's trousers, will finish the skirts around the bottom.

Thirty-four states were represented by the delegates, and 22, led by New York and Massachusetts, stood firm for narrow skirts.

Along with the exceedingly narrow skirt comes of necessity the slit, but elaborate draping and easing over the hips will make sitting down a possibility, since the skirt will be prevented from pulling up in front.

Two Are Shot by Drink-Crazed Man

Dallas, Or.—In the little village of Ballston, Lou W. Davis shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza J. Stewart, and shot and mortally wounded Ben Agee, a neighbor. Slayer blamed parents of his wife because of the fact that she refused to live with him and had brought a divorce suit.

21,000 Motor Licenses Issued

Olympia, Wash.—There are more than 20,000 motor vehicles in the state of Washington, according to figures in the office of the secretary of state. Upwards of 31,000 have been issued, but it is thought there are a few inoperative numbers in the state.

CHRISTIAN LEADERS OF WORLD MEET

Portland.—For eight days, beginning Sunday and closing July 6, Portland is to be the capital of the religious world while representatives of the nations of the earth voice their views in the deliberations of the second World's Christian Citizenship Conference, which opened Sunday afternoon in the Multnomah stadium.

Social purity, intemperance, gambling, international peace, Christianity, public education, prison reform, immigration, child labor, socialism, juvenile delinquency, civic reform and old age pensions are only a few of the subjects that will receive treatment at the conference.

A prominent feature of the conference will be a great patriotic demonstration on the Fourth of July. In the forenoon of that day ten thousand Sunday school workers and children will form in line and march to the Multnomah stadium.

Among the foreign speakers will be Rev. John Lamond, of Edinburgh, Scotland, distinguished in social work and as a scholar and traveler. Professor Theophil Mann, of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, is one of the most interesting foreign representatives. Rev. Robert J. Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland, originated the "Catch-My-Pal" organization, a unique temperance movement.

Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, ex-Vice-President of the United States, is the most distinguished layman in attendance.

BANK ROBBER GIVES UP SELF AND CASH; ASKS FOR HANDOUT

Crime Committed While Drunk, Is Prisoner's Declaration.

Says Resistance by Cashier Would Have Prevented Glendale Hold-up; Act Was Impulsively Planned.

Tired, sick and hungry from his ten days' journey over the rugged mountain trails, Ray Diamond, the youthful bank robber, who on Monday, June 9, held up Cashier Smith, of the Glendale State Bank, and secured over $2600 in cash, walked into Gold Beach Thursday morning and surrendered to Sheriff Bailey. A special to The Oregonian says:

When searched following his formal arrest a total of $2610 was found on his person. Of this amount $1980 was in currency and $630 in gold was found in his shoes and wrapped about his limbs. In his pocketbook was found about $33, which was his own money. Diamond says he got only $2610 from the bank.

Word had been phoned from Agness that a man answering Diamond's description was on his way to Wedderburn in a fishboat of the McCleary Estate Company. Sheriff Bailey and Deputies Floyd Huntley and Moss Averill went to the Wedderburn wharf to await his arrival. Fish Warden Sam Powell was called there with the intention of taking Diamond as he stepped from the boat and before he knew he was being looked for, but Diamond had Dick Pugh run the boat to the south side of the river before letting him off, saying he was looking for sheriff Bailey. When the posse learned that Diamond had got off on the Gold Beach side they took a gas launch and tried to head him off, but Diamond got ahead of them and beat them to the courthouse.

Ex-Sheriff Bishell saw him pass the Gold Beach Hotel and escorted him to the courthouse.

Diamond talked freely to a correspondent of The Oregonian after first declaring he would say nothing for publication until he appeared in court. Finally he said: "I had just as well tell the whole story." I was drunk when I robbed the bank and had been drinking nearly a week because my lungs hurt. I was nearly wild drunk and I am worse than an 'Injun' when drunk.

"I had been out hunting and when I approached the bank I had no intention of robbing it until the thought struck me all at once. I went in and told the cashier to hand over the money.

"If he had grabbed my gun it would have been all off and I would not have shot, and would have thought it a good joke.

"I had not planned to rob the bank until walking by it, but I had been wanting to go to school and study drawing and thought here's my chance to get money, and I went after it. When I came out with it, I hardly knew what to do.

"They commenced shooting at me, and when bullets went between my legs and grazing the skin, I guess I returned the fire, but didn't try to hit anyone.
