Witcher-Allen.
 A very interesting wedding was solemnized last Thursday at 8:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents in Saginaw, when Miss Cora O. Witcher, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Witcher, became the wife of Mr. Lewis J. Allen of Grays River, Wash. The impressive but simple ring ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Howard Fagan of Eugene. The bride was attired in a white messaline, trimmed with cluny lace and was attended by her sister Mae. Mr. C. D. Allen, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen. About fifty guests were present and were served with a dainty lunch on the lawn. The presents, which were both numerous and costly, testified to the esteem in which the bride and groom were held. The happy couple left for their new home at Grays River, Wash., carrying with them the good wishes of a host of friends.

The groom was at one time employed by the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co. at Saginaw.

Guests from afar who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen of Grays River, Mrs. Hampton and two daughters of North Carolina.

Unique Entertainment.
 Mrs. N. E. Compton is entertaining this afternoon at an improvised theater party. Her guests were bidden, in rhyme, to imagine that they were matinee girls going to gaze upon the stars of Broadway. Upon the porch arranged as a temporary stage will be presented a farce called "Not a Man in the House" which will be portrayed by Mrs. Compton, under the name of Maude Adams, Miss Fern Holcomb, as Maxine Elliott, Verna Phillips as Billie Burke, Mrs. Beager as Sarah Bernhart and Neita Compton as Crystal Herne. The Misses Verna Phillips, Fern Holcomb and Neita Compton will assist the hostess in serving a two-course luncheon. The place cards bear only the maiden names of the guests who are expected to answer to those names only, throughout the afternoon.

The Star Embroidery Club, which had its inception at the Star picnic Thursday afternoon, met and organized at the home of Mrs. Merle Scovell Friday evening. Mrs. C. C. Cruson was elected president of the club of which there are sixteen members. The first regular meeting will be held at Mrs. Scovell's home Friday, August 15.

More than one hundred Eastern Star and Masonic members and their families enjoyed a picnic dinner in the city park Thursday. The women and children spent the afternoon there.

in entertaining. Those enjoying Marie's hospitality were: John Armstrong, Mary Ellen Benson, Eva Hartung, Muriel, Joe and Margaret Young, Ruth Bede, Mildred Cochran, Ivan Cunningham, Ray, Dana and Billy McCargar.

Mrs. Ben Lurch was hostess to the Social Twelve Thursday afternoon, entertaining besides the members, Mesdames D. H. Hemenway, Charles Adams, James Adams of Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. Baker of Antioch, Calif. Mrs. Lurch was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. Kruger of Butte, Mont., and her niece, Miss Edith Hexter of Portland.

A number of young people of the Methodist Church, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin, enjoyed a trolley ride up Coast Fork last week.

A group of girls who expect to organize as "Camp Fire Girls" went on an all-day picnic up Row River Wednesday. They were clad in the regulation campfire girls costume, middie blouse and bloomers, with the hair hanging in two braids. Those in the party were: Jessie McCord, Leila Lewis, Florence Hemenway, Marion Hooper, Blanche Lizer and Katherine Wallace.

Mrs. Raymond S. Trask entertained with a "lavender party" in honor of the girls who assisted at her wedding last fall. The hostess furnished lavender stems and ribbon and each of the guests made for herself a lavender stick. In the evening the young men of the bridal party and other bachelor friends of Mr. Trask's came in to join the women in a delightful "cafeteria dinner."

A University of Oregon Club will be formed tomorrow evening when all former students of the university living here will meet at the home of Miss Nellie Hemenway at 900 North Douglas Street. Anyone who has not received other notice of the meeting, but who attended the university is cordially invited. The idea of the organization will be both pleasure and service.

Mrs. W. H. Abrams entertained Tuesday evening at a 6:30 dinner in honor of Mrs. J. R. Baker and Miss Ina Baker, guests of Mrs. F. W. Robbins. The two course meal consisted of meat loaf, potato salad, two kinds of pickles, two kinds of bread, coffee, ice cream and cake. After refreshments "500" was indulged in, Mrs. F. W. Robbins and Miss Ina Baker, the latter impersonating a man, won the honors and were presented pretty poetic pastels. Those present besides the guests of honor and Mr. and Mrs. Abrams were Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bede, Mrs. C. H. VanDenburg, Miss Eunice VanDenburg.

There was a large attendance at the union temperance meeting held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday night. Attorney Sheldon, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon addressed the meeting, in place of R. P. Hutton, who had been announced to speak. Mr. Sheldon gave a forceful, inspiring and instructive address. He told of the progress of the temperance cause throughout the country and of the bright prospects for the future.

The boys' class of the Presbyterian Church will leave next Wednesday for a camping trip to Warehouse in the Bohemia district. Other boys wishing to do so can become members of the party by paying own fare, providing own bedding and paying 50c a day for board.

COTTAGE GROVE HAS WIZARDS IN ROAD CONSTRUCTION

quitting, saying that he was too particular. They were in the habit of dumping their gravel on the road and raking it over for the teams to work down. The new supervisor wanted them to sort it; to bring the big stones first, and then what was worse to lay them down one at a time.

Hand made roads for $700 a mile is the product of this builder who works with the other men for $2.50 a day. Down on his hands and knees he lays the rocks side by side on the newly graded bed. If they do not fit, with a hammer like a mason uses, he breaks them so they will. Hand laid masonry, fitted together without mortar, is the foundation for the roads which are now being built into the Bohemia mines on Row River and on Sharps Creek. Over this, small gravel and sand is spread for a surface, and the road is there for years to come. * * *

"But how far do you have to haul this gravel?" I asked.
 "Oh I prospect for it. See that pit out there," the mountain road builder explained as he pointed to the side. "I dig in the ground for it. You can find it all over the valley up here just under the surface of the ground. Some times I have to dig several holes to find the right kind, but it is cheaper than to haul it for several miles. That is the trouble with road making in this country. A man is paid $5 for hauling a yard and a half, and he would rather haul a yard and a half for two miles than take half a yard out of the river right there. * * *

But this man is not the only road builder of the southern country. Although his district covers 19 miles on Row River and Sharps Creek, the road up Row River past Dorena which meets his is likewise smooth enough for a 15-mile clip in the automobile. This is made by Hamilton Veatch, who is constantly building and improving 15 miles of road from Cottage Grove on Row River and Mooby Creek. And these are actual automobile highways, in mountain country. In an hour automobile parties can run from Cottage Grove and fish or hunt along a roaring mountain stream.

Supervisor Tullar has a stretch of road to London ideal for automobile traffic. Supervisor Owens is building equally good highway toward Lorane. "I have some good road men in this country," commented County Commissioner Hawley of Cottage Grove, who is making road construction not only his duty as commissioner, but his vocation as a successful business man. "Mr. Young is right about it. We should find one or two good road men and place them in charge of all the road making in the country. He believes that we should have a uniform type of roads, and he is right. I would not be surprised if we could find one or two of these men near Cottage Grove."

MOST WONDERFUL FILM IN EXISTENCE BOOKED

The Arcade has booked for August 6th and 7th "Tigris," one of the most remarkable films ever produced—indeed it is thought by many to be the most wonderful film in existence. It is a four reel, Italian film dealing with one of the greatest criminal cases imaginable. It has a fascinating quality, a powerful grip that makes those who see it once desire to see it again. It has been booked by the "People's Theater" in Portland for a return engagement.

The New York Herald says of it: "Tigris" is the most astounding picture ever seen in New York, and considering that we have 8,243 moving picture theaters, this says a lot for Tigris."

It is the vital story of a terrible life or death contest between a man who is now a respected merchant, living in quiet luxury with an attractive sister, and anon a desperate, fearfully resourceful criminal, and a rising young detective—the friend of the respected merchant, the suitor for his sister's hand and the determined, tenacious and worthy opponent of the terrible Tigris.

The acting is of surpassing excellence and the disguise work is delicate and finished. It is thrilling and tragic without being melodramatic and is practically a series of exciting situations which, however, do not lack in rich character work. The play is a masterpiece in plot and execution.

What do you want, anyway? A Sentinel want ad. will get it for you.

DEERHUNTING SEASON WILL OPEN TOMORROW

First China Pheasant Season for Several Years Opens August 1 for Thirty Days.

Deer hunting season opens tomorrow, August 1, and County Clerk Russell and his deputies are kept busy issuing licenses to prospective and eager nimrods from all parts of the county, doing a mail order business in obliging those residing in remote districts, as well as personal business with those calling at the court house.

The deer season is open until October 31 but the maximum killing for one person is three bucks.

Some sixteen days before the deer season closes, October 15, the lovers of china pheasant shooting will have their inning, which will last just one month, closing at midnight November 15. The flocks of China pheasants so nearly depleted by greedy huntsmen and lovers of fine feathers a few years ago, have multiplied amazingly during the era of protection just passed.

The law governing China pheasant hunting provides that only five roosters may be killed in one day but that thirty-five birds may be killed in seven consecutive days.

Hunters who had the old form of license may receive the required tags or coupons to attach to deer killed by sending their licenses to County Clerk Stacy M. Russell. There is no extra cost except for postage.

Ben Emerson suffered a broken collar bone and barely escaped more serious injury while attempting to fasten the chains between two coaches in the railroad yards in Portland. Emerson was substituting on his brother Ab's run while Ab spent his vacation with his mother here.

Mrs. Frank Cathart returned to her home in Raymond, Wash., Monday after a week's visit with her father, O. P. Adams. Mr. Cathart has just returned home after a trip to the Elks Convention in Washington, D. C., and a visit with relatives in the middle west.

Geo. Spurr, a former Cottage Grove resident, a brother-in-law of Homer B. Millard, was killed last week at his home in Wisconsin by an angry bull.

A party of twenty-one, including Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. VanDenburg, Miss Eunice VanDenburg, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McGavran, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Moon, Mr. and Mrs. John England and family, and Mr. and Mrs. George and Will Hall and families, motored out to Red Bridge for an outing Sunday afternoon. The men of the party enjoyed the swimming hole immensely declaring it to be the best one they had ever seen.

While driving a team on his ranch near Saginaw last week, J. T. Olson had the misfortune to catch his foot between a stump and a chain, wrenching the foot so badly that he has been compelled to use crutches.

Rapidly increasing business has forced the Creswell Feed and Seed Company to erect a 22-foot addition to their place of business, which will run the entire length of the building.

Mrs. Emerson who rushed to Portland upon receiving a telegram telling of her son's accident, returned Friday. She says that Emerson is on the road to recovery but that the accident might easily have been a vastly more serious one.

Call for Bids.
