FAMOUS ROAD-MAKER WILL PASS THROUGH GROVE
A. L. Westgard, known as the "Man of Many Miles" will shortly pass through this city on his 17,000 mile automobile trip, which, as one of the most experienced and successful road-makers in America, he is making as vice president of the National Highway Association over the tentative national highways.
"Better Roads Everywhere" is the slogan of the association which aims at just that. The association means that every city, town and hamlet in the United States shall profit by their efforts. To this end they selected Mr.

Westgard, who has traveled more miles over the roads of America than any other living man. Mr. Westgard is a mapmaker as well as a road maker, and from his first hand knowledge of roads all over the country is able to merely look at a map and describe the roads pictured, giving the character of the soil and the characteristics of the roads. He has at first hand intimate knowledge of roads all over the United States superior to that of any other living individual—a knowledge increased by his experiences while acting as special agent for the office of public roads of the department of agriculture.
