CHILDREN'S POULTRY SHOW FOR COTTAGE GROVE

Many Cash Premiums and Cups Offered to Get Boys and Girls Into County Contest.

A preliminary contest in the children's department of the Lane County Poultry show will be held here November 1, to aid in selecting such birds as are worthy to enter the big show so as not to overcrowd it with unmeritorious exhibits. These preliminary contests will be held in Eugene, Springfield, Coburg, Junction City and Creswell, as well as Cottage Grove.

The children's department, which is a new feature, will be inaugurated this year to become a regular annual event.

Premiums will be offered to the youthful contestants as well as the mature ones and the list already includes prizes to the value of over $250. There will be not only cash prizes but silver cups as well.

Every boy and girl in the county under the age of 18 years is eligible to enter this contest, but they must do all the work of selecting and preparing their exhibits. All birds must be as near standard as possible. The choice of place to enter the preliminary contest is left to the exhibitor to select such a place as being the most accessible. Six prominent poultrymen have offered services as judges at the different preliminary contest and will award entry blanks to the successful exhibitors which will permit them to enter the big show which will be held in Eugene, Nov. 24 to 28.

The rules and premiums in full will be published at an early date and the premium list will be published about the first of August and will be forwarded to any boy or girl who will send his or her name and address to L. R. Kerns, secretary, Eugene.

J. A. Griffin of Eugene, a prominent poultryman, will be judge of the preliminary contest held here.

He will aid any exhibitor by offering suggestions as to the best method in preparing and conditioning their birds and exhibitors are at liberty to write to him for advice along this line.

Ore. Electric Ties Cause Stir

A hundred or so fir ties piled alongside the First National Bank building bearing the legend, "For Oregon Electric Railway," caused considerable speculation Monday morning until it was learned that they were purchased by the bank to be sawed up for next winter's wood. The sign was one of Painless Tom Parker's jokes.

Market First Sweet Corn. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton were in Tuesday with the first sweet corn of the season. There is some doubt as to which of the two is entitled to the credit for producing the delectable table delicacy.

Notice. Tom Awbrey wishes to announce to his insurance patrons that while absent during the next few weeks all matters of insurance requiring attention will receive prompt attention by applying to Veatch & Spencer. m22tf

IS NOT FARMER BUT SHOWS HOW TO GROW THINGS

Mr. Rinehart had never been a farmer and when he came two years ago for his wife's health he knew little or nothing about agriculture. There was then not a sign of a fence and hardly a place to sleep on this spot that now teems with vegetable life. Everything was run to weeds. He had been on the place several months before he even knew there were grapes growing there. Fruit trees were hidden amongst weeds and brush. Though not young in years, Mr. Rinehart retains most of his youthful vigor and he believes in work, hard work, whether he be handling two or three hundred thousand dollars worth of real estate or making a seven-acre ranch pay, and he has been successful at both. His little ranch gives him a living and he has something left over besides. He has come to love it so, has come to so enjoy watching Nature produce so lavishly, has come to so enjoy proving what a little scratching of the Cottage Grove soil will do, that it is almost with reluctance that he has at times taken a month or so off to handle a few real estate deals.

O. A. C. WELFARE SCHOOL WILL FAVOR GROVE WITH MEETINGS

M. O. Evans, Jr., of the extension department of the agricultural college, was in the city last Thursday and Friday making arrangements for the school. The college will be assisted in its work by a lecturer and an exhibit from the Oregon Social Hygiene Society.

There will be five meetings: Wednesday afternoon and evening and Thursday morning, afternoon and evening.

Want Ad. Finds Umbrella. A want ad. in The Sentinel secured the usual results when Rev. Cobb located an umbrella through an 18-cent ad. An ad. that will get back a lost umbrella will do most anything.

Mrs. E. C. Lockwood, Misses Flossie and Ursula Lockwood and Mrs. J. Pitcher returned Tuesday from their camping trip to Bohemia.

Henry Landess returned Saturday from a trip to Salt Lake City.

Those having contagious diseases of any kind in the house are requested not to apply for public library books. Books will not knowingly be given out where such disease exists.

M. L. Hawkins of Row River was in Eugene Tuesday.

Hop Pickers Wanted!

Society

A number of former University of Oregon students met Friday evening at the home of Miss Nellie Hemenway and organized an Oregon Club which expects to hold monthly meetings, combining business and pleasure. Miss Hemenway was elected president and Ernest Anderson secretary. After talking over plans for the future of the club, the evening was spent in reminiscing over the "Days at Oregon." Miss Florence Hemenway, and her guest, Miss Helen Manning, of Portland, served punch and sandwiches.

Mrs. J. S. Medley entertained Saturday evening with a dinner and theatre party in honor of the thirteenth birthday of her niece, Miss Katherine Wallace. Covers were laid for nine. The guests engaged in a word contest in which the prize was won by Miss Verna Phillips. Dinner at which Miss Homer Millard of Portland, assisted her sister in serving, was followed a live-party at the Arcade theatre. The guests were: Misses Marion Hooper, Blanche and Tracy Lizer, Florence Hemenway, Helen Manning of Portland, Verna Phillips, Marguerite Counts, Neita Compton and Katherine Wallace.

Married, Sunday, August 3, Hurd G. Field and Miss Mary Jane Thorne, both of Cottage Grove.

The Endeavorers of the Christian Church held a picnic in the woods Wednesday evening of last week. The evening was spent in playing games around a camp fire, after which refreshments of crackers and cheese were served.

Clark-Plank—On Tuesday, August 5, 1913, at his office by Justice Jesse G. Wells, Thomas J. Clark and Miss Mina N. Plank, both of Cottage Grove.

They expected to be married quietly without the knowledge of the Cottage Grove people, but when they went into the office, to be "tied up," there sat four prominent Cottage Grove people, whom they both knew quite well attending to a land trade in the justice's office. "Well," the groom remarked, "we did not know the whole neighborhood was to be here to witness the ceremony, but it is all right" and the knot was tied right there amid the hearty well wishes of the uninvited neighbors.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Young Wednesday afternoon of last week, and time sped quickly in social conversation and work. About fourteen of the faithful workers were present. Refreshments of cake and tea were served by Mesdames Young and Caldwell. The aid contemplates holding these social afternoons monthly.

Little Evelyn Veatch invited in nine of her little friends in honor of her eighth birthday Monday afternoon. They spent the afternoon playing games and enjoyed refreshments of ice cream and cake. The guests were: Gladys Hastings, Ruth Bede, Dolly Pitcher, Lois Compton, Eleanor Nixon, Thelma Smoot, Tracy Lizer and Naomi Wynne.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bede chaperoned a gay party of young people on a hay rack ride Tuesday evening to the steel bridge across Row River. There they built a bonfire, ate supper, played games and had a merry time. Those in the party were: Misses Marion Hooper, Florence Hemenway and her guest, Helen Manning of Portland, Verna Phillips, Allie Phillips, Ada Matthews, and Jessie McCord; Victor

Chambers, George Hall, Austin Berg, Ward Berg, John Legat and Waldo Brown; Mrs. Chas. Beals.

The wedding of the Rev. C. C. Van-Gorkum of Wheatland, Calif., and Miss Grace Phelps was celebrated at high noon Tuesday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. G. O. Groat, former pastor of the Baptist church, in a bower of greens and ferns under a huge wedding bell. The bride was daintily gowned in white and carried white sweet-peas. The bridal couple were unattended. The living room was decorated with white sweet-peas and the dining room with pink sweet-peas.

The wedding was attended only by the immediate friends and relatives. A dinner was served following the service after which a number of friends called to felicitate the bridal couple who left on the three o'clock train. Miss Lindel Giber caught the bride's bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Van Gorkum will spend the remainder of the month at Mt. Shasta and visiting friends in Oakland and San Francisco before going to their home in Wheatland, where Rev. Van Gorkum holds the Baptist pastorate.

Mrs. J. S. Medley is entertaining the Social Twelve his afternoon, additional guests being Mrs. D. H. Hemenway, Mrs. J. H. Chambers and Mrs. Lydia Stouffer.

Mrs. J. R. Baker and Miss Ina Baker of Antioch, Calif., were honored by an informal 5 o'clock tea given by Mrs. H. A. Miller Saturday afternoon. The other guests were Mesdames Shay, Geo. Hall, W. H. Abrams and F. W. Robbins.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church gave a picnic at Cochran's Hill Friday evening. Light refreshments were served and all had a jolly, informal time.
