Kirschbaum
 Clothes $15, $20, $25

That's how you'll feel over the Kirschbaum suit we have ready for you.
 No other clothes at like cost have so much fine hand tailoring. No others are shrunk so super-thoroughly by the original London coldwater process.
 No others have the foundation work so carefully planned. These suits have every piece of canvas and tape shrunk as completely as the woolen itself.
 A month of teeming rain can wet your Kirschbaum suit, but shrink it—never! Come and pick just the design and fabric you want. We have it. Also everything else you want to wear.
 On the sleeve of our $15, $20 and $25 Kirschbaum Special you will find a guarantee ticket that guarantees satisfaction on a money-back basis.

LOWER LUMBER RATE FOR WILLAMETTE LUMBERMEN
 Would Greatly Assist Cottage Grove Mills
 New Rates Would Offset Advantage Given Portland Mill Men to Salt Lake and Eastern Points.

Local mill men are looking forward eagerly to the reduction of the rate on lumber from points of origin to points in California north of San Francisco Bay, contemplated by freight traffic officials of the Southern Pacific. The step is contemplated in an effort to encourage the mills of the Willamette Valley.
 J. H. Chambers in speaking of the threat of the Portland mill owners to file objections before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the grounds that the rate will be discriminatory said that he believes the rate will probably go into the new tariff that is to be issued in October.
 "I do not suppose that the Southern Pacific is over anxious," continued Mr. Chambers, "but the lower rate is an urgent necessity for the valley lumbermen, and I believe we will get it. At the present time the Portland mills have a two-and-a-half differential against us to Salt Lake, besides having a water outlet to bay points that can offset us."
 Other mill owners of the valley have presented frequent objections to existing rates, declaring conditions limited their market. They have to pay a heavy local rate from their mills to Portland on export lumber. For some time the Southern Pacific has been considering a plan for reducing this rate to place the valley and Portland on a more equitable basis for export business.
 Justification for the proposed change is found, say Southern Pacific officials, in the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the case of the Multnomah Box Company on box shooks going to California, in which case a lower rate was granted to valley points than to Portland mills.

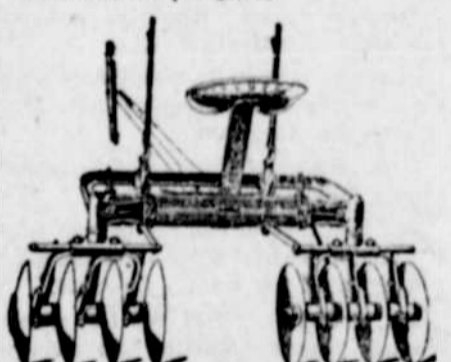

And Astoria Too.
 Portland, Ore.—Astoria, the oldest town in the Pacific northwest, may soon have commission form of government. Mayor Gray has just appointed a committee of 15 men and women to frame a charter to be voted upon this fall at a special election.

Almost a Building Boom
 Choice Lots Now Going Like Hot Cakes

The immediate prospect for a number of houses in Milapoo Park Addition is adding to the value of lots in this popular, slightly addition. The erection of a $2,500 residence will commence at once—lumber is on the ground for three others and I have myself commenced the construction of a home for my personal use. It will have a cobble stone foundation and fireplace. The new bridge across the Coast Fork is located on Tyler Avenue in the Southwest part of this tract. Best selections are going rapidly.
