Society

Mrs. A. C. Kinter was hostess Saturday afternoon at a cleverly planned party designed to increase the Presbyterian carpet fund. Each of the guests brought an article of small value which was placed on a "grab line" strung in the dining room. Later each guest was led into the room blindfolded and told to "grab." She received whatever present her hand happened to touch first. A silver offering swelled the carpet fund considerably. The hostess served daintily.

Smith-Beidler.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, on Wednesday evening the wedding of Miss Jennie Smith and Chas. Beidler, took place. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. M. Broadbooks. The bride and groom, unattended, met under an arch of ivy, white chrysanthemums and mistletoe and there plighted their troth. Miss Mabel Veatch played the Lohengrin wedding march and immediately following the ceremony, Miss Jessie Smith, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly." The bridal costume was a dainty creation of white charmeuse elaborated with an overdrap of lace and made en train. The veil was a full length one of tulle caught in place with a wreath of lilies of the valley.

Only immediate relatives and friends were present at the ceremony but well over a hundred friends called later to offer their congratulations. The color scheme in the decorations was pink, green and white carried out with greens of ivy, ferns and smilax and pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums.

Those who served were the Misses Veta Holderman, Ipha Widdersheim, and Mabel Veatch, Herald White, Elwyn McCargar, George Matthews, Lloyd Stratton and Bert Trask. Ren Sanford ushered the guests into the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Beidler will be at home to their friends on First street.

The Social Twelve was entertained at the home of Mrs. Geo. M. Hall Thursday afternoon. Besides the regular diversion of fancy needle work, the ladies busied themselves making plans to entertain their husbands New Year's Eve. Mrs. Nixon was the only additional guest.

Mrs. C. H. Burkholder entertained for her mother, Mrs. Lydia Stouffer, Friday afternoon, inviting in about fifty of her friends. The afternoon was spent in conversation over knitting and fancy work of various kinds. Mrs. Burkholder served a luncheon of Boston baked beans and corn bread and coffee and doughnuts. The invited guests included: Mesdames D. M. C. Gault, Harriet Wallace, Eva Hemenway, Jane Emerson, Jane Veatch, J. P. Hart, Henry Olson, James Smith, C. Alsted, Geo. Atkinson, M. A. Mount, J. H. Barrett, James Ostrander, F. E. McKinney, A. McKinney, Sarah Knox, W. W. Oglesby, W. C. Johnson, J. H.

May Allen celebrated her fourteenth birthday anniversary with a party to twelve of her girl friends Saturday afternoon. Old-fashioned games were played, refreshments of fruit, cake and punch were served late in the afternoon. Those who enjoyed May's hospitality were: Ruth Phelps, Hazel Spray, Myrtle Teeters, Mary Ellen Benson, Lala Walker, Ermine Violette, Ruth Jorgenson, Tracy Lizer, Gertrude Aldrich, Ella Counts, Zella Daeton, Gladys and Thelma Allen and Miss Purvance.

The occasion of J. H. Bartels fifty-ninth birthday was celebrated Monday evening by his first birthday party, given him as a surprise by the members of the Deutsches Verein of which Mr. Bartels and his family are members. Various forms of amusement were indulged in to a late hour. Mr. Madsen sang several solos in German and Mrs. Madsen played a number of selections on the piano. John Medley sang a solo. Early in the evening light refreshments were served and an elaborate supper followed about midnight. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Geo. O. Knowles, Henry Rhode, Al Hamloth, H. C. Madsen, John Bader, H. J. Clark, M. J. Clark, I. L. Douglas, L. A. Powers, Ed. Willson, Thos. Parker, and Messrs. John Medley, Chas. Gettys, Herman Rudolph, John Graber, Guy Steele, Fred Bartels, F. M. Ernest, J. P. Hart, and Ben Lurch.

The Emanon Club holds its meeting and Christmas tree with Mrs. Nelson Durham tomorrow.

Dame Rumor says that the wedding of Miss Flo Phillips is to occur at Coquille today.

The meeting of the M. P. G. Club with Mrs. C. E. Frost Tuesday afternoon took the form of a Christmas party. There was a Christmas tree which bore a dainty little gift for each of the twelve members.

The Sentinel—dated Wednesday, is sued Wednesday.

ANY ELECTOR ANYWHERE HAS RIGHT TO VOTE ON LIQUOR

DECISION OF JUDGE HARRIS IN SPRINGFIELD WET CONTEST IS SWEEPING.

In the decision rendered Saturday by Judge L. T. Harris in the circuit court declaring the "drys" victors in the recent local option election in Springfield, the court declared the right of any citizen of Oregon to vote at any local option election in the town in which he is resident, no matter how long he may have been a resident, or what the town's charter limitations of residence of voters may be.

Judge Harris held that in the Springfield case, it had not been shown that a sufficient number of persons had been prevented from voting November 4 to have changed the result. Although 54 persons were debarred by the election boards, which the court granted had acted in good faith, this number could not have overcome the 58 majority for prohibition.

The plaintiff's attorney said the case would be appealed to the supreme court.

Servants in Bogota.

The domestic problem is reduced to a minimum in Bogota. Good domestics are plentiful and cheap. Five to ten dollars a month is high pay. In the houses of the well to do the servants are well treated and lead happy lives. They have ample quarters of their own, centering round their own patio, and enough of the old patriarchal regime survives to make them really a part of the family.—"Columbia."

Method in Her Singing.

The Caller—Who is that singing? The Hostess—That's our new maid. She always sings at her work. The Caller—What a happy disposition! Mercy, how loud she sings! The Hostess—Yes. When she sings loud she's breaking something.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lucky.

An editor who started about twenty years ago with only 55 cents is now worth $100,000. His accumulation of wealth is owing to his frugality, good habits, strict attention to business and the fact that an uncle died and left him $99,999.—Editor and Publisher.

Advance Information.

"Was it a case of love at first sight?" "They call it that, although before they met she had heard that he was wealthy, and he had been told she was an heiress."—Detroit Free Press.

Enough Said.

She—Do you know Mr. Boreleigh, the author? He—No. But I have a nodding acquaintance with his works.—Boston Transcript.

SELLING COOPERATION IS BADLY NEEDED

EUGENE NEWSPAPER POINTS A WAY TO GREATER DEVELOPMENT OF WILLAMETTE

Eugene Register.—The condition of the potato industry in Lane County during the past two years presents a situation that is worth some study. Last year there was a big crop and a very large acreage, resulting in overproduction and a low price. Thousands of bushels of potatoes were fed to hogs, as this was the only means of realizing any profit. This year the acreage was much smaller, and the yield per acre was much less. The price of potatoes is fairly good; yet the crop is not being turned into money as fast as it should.

It is apparent that organization among the potato growers is needed. The potato market needs to be followed as carefully by the potato growers as the fruit growers follow the fruit market. The potato industry is a highly important one in Lane County. The rich bottom lands produce potatoes of a quality that cannot be excelled in the world, and they are produced in quantities that are profitable if the price is what it should be.

The potato growers in scattered parts of the upper Willamette valley have talked organization from time to time, but no definite and comprehensive plan has been worked out. These movements should be revived and carried forward to completion. The potato growers need as complete an organization as the fruit men now have.
